C. G. Pearce, Sr. Dies Of Injuries From Wreck

Monroe Business Man Prominent As Civic Leader

ALEXANDRIA, May 1 (Special)—C. G. Pearce, Sr., Monroe business and civic leader who was injured in an automobile accident near here Friday evening, died around 10 p.m. Saturday at Baptist Hospital here.

Funeral arrangements late Saturday night were incomplete, but plans called for bringing the body to the Mulhearn Funeral Home in Monroe Sunday.

Pearce, who was a past president of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce, had served as president of the Monroe Rotary Club and was twice director of the local Red Cross Chapter.

He operated the Pearce Paint and Paper Company store in Monroe as well as stores in West Monroe and Alexandria.

Earlier Saturday evening, a Monroe physician who had examined Pearce described his condition as critical and said that full extent of injuries received when the car in which he was riding with two employees of his Alexandria store, skidded on wet paving, had not been fully determined.

However, he said that Pearce had been paralyzed from the neck down.

The accident occurred around 7 p.m. Friday about six miles from here at the height of a rainstorm, when the car in which he was riding skidded on blacktop paving on Highway 165, left the road, struck a culvert on a sideroad and overturned.

The car was described as travelling between 40 and 45 miles an hour.

Bookkeeping At NLSC Rapped By State Auditor

BATON ROUGE —UP— Northeast Louisiana State College at Monroe was told by the auditors' office in a report today to put its books in better order.

It referred to business books, not school books.

"The college failed to take advantage of many opportunities to improve the accounting procedure and office routine," stated a report covering the year ending June 30.

"Our tests indicated that the business office did not maintain sufficient control over the accounts and did not prove balances nor correct errors promptly."

Lewis C. Slater was president of the college for the period of the audit, which also rapped NLSC for:

1. Incurring a deficit of $472.85 in the general fund, in violation of state law.
2. A mixup in retirement system funds, in which employes owe the college $695.45 and the college owes employes, aside from benefits $1,099.12.
3. Incurring a building account deficit of $817.95, also violating the state law.
4. Not returning an unused $100 scholarship for the last school year to the state treasury.
5. Making physical inventories of the school cafeteria on June 1 rather than at the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

Mundt Seeking Ways To Speed Senate Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), hunting ways to speed up the McCarthy-Pentagon dispute, said today he may restate the issues in the angry controversy in an effort to keep questioning to the point.

THOMAS W. LEIGH

The acting chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said he felt such a restatement might expedite matters. He said he felt there had been a tendency of all concerned to drift away from the basic questions.

The subcommittee is to resume its televised hearings on Monday, with secretary of the Army Stevens called back for further questioning. He has been in the witness chair off and on since the first day, April 22.

Sen. Mundt threw cold water on the idea of calling Sen. McCarthy as the next witness after Stevens.

The Army's special counsel, Joseph N. Welch, said yesterday that in the interest of expediting the proceedings he was willing to have McCarthy follow Stevens rather than going ahead with the presentation of the Army's case.

However, Mundt said he and Ray H. Jenkins, the subcommittee's special counsel, agreed that it would be better for the Army to complete presentation its side before evidence was taken from McCarthy and his aides.

Mundt said Jenkins felt that calling McCarthy immediately after Stevens would result in delaying the hearings. He emphasized that Jenkins did not mean that Welch had made his proposal with that in mind.

McCarthy said yesterday he would be available to take the witness chair at any time.

Mundt was asked if any proposals had been made to limit the testimony to Stevens and McCarthy, without having their subordinates as witnesses, in an effort to expedite the hearings.

He said some senators had asked him why the subcommittee didn't "get it down to two people," but he added that these suggestions had not come from "anyone with any authority or any knowledge of the case."

Mundt remarked that it sounded simpler than it was, adding any such agreement would have to be worked out by all the parties to the controversy. He said this seemed "very doubtful" to him.

In other developments, Mundt said the subcommittee expected to have from both sides early next week any transcribed notes they had on monitored telephone conversations bearing on the issues.

He said he assumed those submitted by the Army would include two telephone talks between Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams late last November about

Leigh To Become Louisiana State Bar President

Thomas W. Leigh, prominent Monroe attorney and president-elect of the Louisiana State Bar Association, will be sworn in Wednesday as the new head at the annual convention, slated to be held in Biloxi, Miss., Monday through Wednesday. The installation will be held on the final day of the convention.

Leigh was nominated for the post in December by the nominations committee. The selection of the proposed incoming officers was sent to all board members of the group by that committee. At the convention nominations can be placed for election, but past procedures have set a policy of electing the persons nominated. He has served as vice-president of the association during the past year.

In addition to his post as vice-president, Leigh has been a member of the board of governors for two years and, prior to this, was for seven years chairman of the standing committee on judicial selection and tenure.

He is also a member of the Fourth District Bar Association (comprising Ouachita and Morehouse parishes), American Bar Association, Louisiana State Law Institute and is on the council of governors of the American Law Institute.

Leigh is a member of the Gamma Eta Gamma, honorary law fraternity, as well as the Order of the Coif, honorary legal organization.

From 1948 through 1950 he served as chairman of the board of supervisors for Louisiana State University. He has been a member of the board for several terms.

Five Persons Die In Car Collision During Rainstorm

GREENWOOD, Miss., May 1 (AP)—Five persons were killed and four others injured when two autos crashed in a heavy rain about five miles from here today.

Greenwood LeFlore Hospital identified the dead as Mrs. Charles Robinson Sr., and her three-year-old son, Randall Robinson, both of Paducah, Ky., and Elmer Counts, 21, Ernest L. Daniels, 22, and Rinford Clanton, 30, all of the Pee Dee plantation near Schlater.

The injured were identified as Charles Robinson Jr., 5, Paducah, Ky., and Carl Daniels, 18, Billy Bowman, 24, and Curtis Counts, 23, also from the Pee Dee plantation.

None of the survivors was able to tell how the accident happened.

A man who arrived at the scene soon after the accident said visibility was limited and driving conditions were poor. He said after the cars crashed head-on, one went into a ditch and the other turned over several times. Both were demolished.

Shreveport To Get 20-Story Building

SHREVEPORT, La., May 1 (AP)—Plans for a 20-story, five million dollar office building here were announced today by N. O. Thomas Jr., Shreveport developer.

Thomas said work would start within 30 days. The building was expected to be completed late next year. The Henry C. Beck Company of Dallas, Tex., and Atlanta, Ga., will be the builder and owner.

Toll Of Deaths From Twisters Still Growing

Residents Dodge From Tornadoes In Two States

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 1 (AP)—Two persons were killed and an undetermined number injured today as a boiling line of tornadoes slammed through parts of Oklahoma.

Killed near Grandfield in southwest Oklahoma were Bill Scherler, about 30, and a woman identified only as Mrs. Rubottom.

They and Mrs. Max Scherler were in a truck trying to reach a storm cellar when the twisting funnel overtook them. Mrs. Scherler was critically hurt.

The latest casualties brought the toll from storms and tornadoes to at least six killed and 52 injured, during the past two days.

Seven of 23 passengers aboard a bus near Meeker, Okla., were injured when a heavy wind overturned the vehicle. First reports said that a twister had "blown half of Meeker away," but these accounts proved to be erroneous.

The patrol dispatched troopers to the scene and police and emergency equipment also rushed toward Meeker from Oklahoma City.

Three persons were injured when twin funnels struck Tipton in southwestern Oklahoma early in the day. Two more suffered injuries, one serious, when a storm battered Grandfield. Four others were reported hurt by a twister at Pawnee.

Heavy winds, rain and hail also pounded the Oklahoma City area and the metropolitan center of Tulsa was put under an alert.

A few hours later a storm struck

Negro Free On Bond In Hit-Run Killing Is Slain

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 1 (AP)—A Negro free on bond after two convictions for running down and crippling a white boy with his car was killed in a violent clash here with the boy's father.

Sam Marshall, about 40, was shot in the hip and abdomen but an autopsy surgeon reported that he died from injuries to the left lung, apparently inflicted when the white man ran over him with a truck. The autopsy was performed by Dr. Herman Jones, director of the state crime lab in Atlanta.

The white man, Bill Rodgers, 34, farmer and produce dealer, was shot in the leg in a fight with the Negro. Three shots were fired and the police quoted a witness as saying the farmer then ran over Marshall with his truck.

Police Lt. Earl Barrett said the fight resulted yesterday when Rodgers stopped Marshall on the street and asked him how he got out of jail after his latest conviction.

Each time, the Negro was given five to 10 years in prison on an assault with intent to murder count for striking Teddy Rodgers, 10, with his car and knocking the child from his bicycle. The lad's hip was broken resulting in permanent injury. The car did not stop.

Marshall's first conviction was reversed by a higher court and he was granted bond after appealing the second.

Police Chief Wilbur Perkerson said Rodgers, who is in a hospital, is held on suspicion of murder. He said Marshall's wife indicated she would seek a murder warrant against Rodgers.

Ellender Urges Use Of Chiang's Men In Battle

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) tonight called for the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in the Indo-China war "on a volunteer basis."

In an address prepared for broadcast over radio station WWL, New Orleans, Ellender said the western powers should "use the same technique as the Chinese Reds in sending their troops to Korea."

The Louisiana senator said the communists insisted that the Chinese troops in Korea were not members of regular army units, but "volunteers."

He added that "There should be no objection to the forces of freedom recruiting troops from Formosa."

Ellender said the use of Nationalist troops in Indo-China at the invitation of an independent Indo-Chinese government could "provide a gateway for the reconquest of the Chinese mainland."

Destructive Wind Storms Strike In Twin Cities Area

Several Stores Damaged In West Monroe

Big Trees Uprooted In Northside Monroe Residential Section

For the second day in a row heavy rains and accompanying high winds buffeted the Twin City area, inflicting heavy property damage and sending residents scurrying for cover. The storm formation, described by those who witnessed it as a "black rolling cloud, working in and out, and filled with rain", struck the West Monroe business district about 1:15 p.m. Saturday. The turbulence then apparently leaped the Ouachita river and struck again on the northside of Monroe, uprooting a number of trees and tearing limbs from others, and flooding a number of streets.

There were no injuries reported, during yesterday's storm, but at least two persons were reported knocked down by the high velocity winds.

Although several persons spoke of the storm as a twister, local weather observers at Selman Field said there were no tornadoes in this area.

In West Monroe, heaviest damage apparently was to Warren Appliance Company and Durrett's Furniture Company on Trenton, West Monroe's main street.

Jim Hobson, employe of Warren's, and Gregory Warren, owner, said the storm struck from the south, first ripping down a taxi stand across the street from the rear of the store.

Two persons were knocked down by the force of the wind and the

French Continue Air Assault At Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indochina, May 1 (AP)—French warplanes today plastered Red-led Vietminh coiled around Dien Bien Phu for the third straight day. A French high command spokesman described the situation there as "very serious" but he asserted the bastion's defenders were far from desperate.

and carrier bases concentrated on rebel fortifications set up on the rim of the plain barely 600 yards from the heart of the Northwest Indochina bastion.

Object of the air strikes was to retard Vietminh attempts to build up for an all-out assault and to provide cover for transport planes funnelling men, munitions and materiel to the beleaguered bastion.

Shoeless Bandit Gets $10,000 At Roosevelt Hotel

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—A shoeless gunman wearing a black hood extending to his knees robbed the Hotel Roosevelt paymaster's office of $10,000 today and escaped.

Police said the weirdly garbed robber missed another $25,000 in the same drawer.

A squad of detectives searched the 19-story structure and three floors below street level on the chance he might have rented a room there previously as a hideaway; or was a former employe who knew his way about the underground floors.

No trace was found immediately of him or his disguise.

The 1,100-room hotel was the headquarters for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's two presidential campaigns. The governor presently has his New York office there.

Paymaster William King had just entered his office on the second floor of the hotel when the door opened and he was startled to see a hooded figure pointing a gun at him.

"Be quiet," were his first words. "I want the money."

"It's in the drawer," King replied.

"Open it," commanded the man. King did so.

Dulles Meets With Envoy Of Red Chinese

GENEVA, May 1 —UP— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai met Saturday for the first time in an East-West bargaining session but failed to break a peace conference deadlock over Korea.

Dulles and his western Allies met for two and one-half hours in a special session in the palace of nations with the top Communists in an attempt to solve a Korean stand-off.

There was a "free and informal exchange of views," a communique said.

All seven delegations—the U. S., British, French, South Korean, Soviet, Red Chinese and North Korean, spoke at the meeting, but no common ground could be found for a Korean settlement, informed sources said.

Although the official Asiatic conference was in recess Saturday, Chou, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and North Korea's Nam Il met the West in a special closed door session.

While there was no progress toward a Korean settlement, there were indications that an Indo-Chinese peace conference would be assembled soon.

Viet Nam Chief of State Bao Dai's foreign minister arrived in Geneva with the terms for sitting down with Communist Viet Minh representatives. The answer appeared sufficiently favorable to ensure that talks probably will get underway next week.

Peace Officers To Converge On Monroe Sunday

Peace officers from throughout Louisiana will begin converging on Monroe today for the 23rd annual convention of the Louisiana Peace Officers' Association. The convention begins tomorrow and will continue through Wednesday with headquarters at the Virginia Hotel.

Registration for the convention will begin at 2 p.m. in the hotel lobby.

With the exception of an executive committee meeting, slated for 6 p.m and a meeting of the captains of the pistol teams, today's activities will be taken up with registration and an informal get-together for members and guests. The socal is slated for 6 to 9 p.m. on the hotel roof.

The first general session of the convention will get under way at 9:30 a.m. Monday when Grant calls the meeting to order. The New Orleans police band will play the National Anthem after which the Rev. Ernest D. Holloway, dean of men at Northeast Louisiana State College, will give the invocation.

Immediately following the invocation the group will pay respects to all deceased members of the organization.

The welcome to the city will be given by Mayor John E. Coon of Monroe, with Nolan Orgeron, first vice-president, giving the response.

Sheriff Grant will give a short

Giant Soviet Jet Bomber In May Day Show

MOSCOW, May 1—UP—A giant Soviet jet bomber believed capable of carrying a hydrogen ar atom bomb long distances made a dramatic bow Saturday flying over massed May Day paraders in Red Square.

It was the first time the new four-jet bomber with swept-back wings was seen or even mentioned in public.

The plane underlined Premier Georgi M. Malenkov's warning a week ago that any atomic or hydrogen attack on Russia will be met with immediate retaliation.

It flew in formation with 175 other Soviet military planes, including 13 twin-jet swept-wing bombers also believed to be a new type.

Only minutes before, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, Soviet defense minister, had told troops and civilians jamming the sunlit square the Soviet Army and Navy "represent an awe-inspiring battle force, a reliable bulwark for the peaceful work of the Soviet people."

The new Red bomber appeared to be in the class of the American B-52. Air experts said it was obviously capable of delivering any bombs Russia has on inter-continental missions.

The U. S. B-52 with eight jets is a stepped-up version of the swept-wing B-47 which is America's principal long-range bomber.

Biggest Tug-Of-War To Be Over Money Bills In 60-Day Session

Kennon, At Mid-Term, Faces Legislative Battles

BATON ROUGE, May 1 (AP)—Two years have gone by since a small town north Louisiana judge rode a baby-blue limousine down Third Street in Baton Rouge to become Louisiana's 51st governor.

In that time, many changes have come over the state and soft spoken, hand-shaking Gov. Robert Kennon, the man from Minden, has become something of a controversial figure.

Just how controversial will be determined in the next two months when the Legislature holds its 60-day session and gets a chance to review the Kennon administration at the halfway mark of its four-year term.

A lot of water—some turbulent, some muddy—has gone under the political bridge since that warm May day in 1952 when the governor placed his hand on a Bible and swore to uphold and defend the constitution and laws of Louisiana.

The slot machines are gone—less than 50 of the estimated 4,500 are believed to have escaped the axe of state Police Supt. Francis Grevemberg. Most other forms of gambling, including bingo, have vanished with a wave of the state police wand.

Voting machines have been trucked out to every precinct. By the July congressional elections, Louisiana will be the first state in the deep South to use the devices in every polling booth.

Civil service for state employes has returned to the protection of the constitution. But funds to meet its minimum pay scales have mounted into a major fiscal hurdle that the Legislature either must clear or topple en route to a balanced budget.

A modern six million dollar penitentiary is rising on the 18,000 acres of Angola, once the scene of heel stringing, hunger strikes, brutality and violence. New construction is also underway at state charity hospitals, mental institutions, the State Colony and Training School (a home for the feeble-minded), and correctional institutions.

Some 650 miles of rural and farm to market roads, a record according to the state Highway Department, have been built in the last year. New Orleans is getting ready to span the Mississippi River with a new bridge, and bond revenue is available for a causeway over Lake Pontchartrain. A new welfare building is going up in the shadow of the 34-story state Capitol, and, almost directly behind it, engineers are engaged in making a deep water port at Baton Rouge.

The state's nine cent a gallon gasoline tax has been lowered to seven cents, income tax exemptions doubled and teachers given a 1 per cent cost-of-living pay raise. Louisiana received its tidelands back from the federal government, but is still battling over boundaries. The first offshore

None of the survivors was able to tell how the accident happened.

A man who arrived at the scene soon after the accident said visibility was limited and driving conditions were poor. He said after the cars crashed head-on, one went into a ditch and the other turned over several times. Both were demolished.

Shreveport To Get 20-Story Building

SHREVEPORT, La., May 1 (AP)—Plans for a 20-story, five million dollar office building here were announced today by N. O. Thomas Jr., Shreveport developer.

Thomas said work would start within 30 days. The building was expected to be completed late next year. The Henry C. Beck Company of Dallas, Tex., and Atlanta, Ga., will be the builder and owner.

Toll Of Deaths From Twisters Still Growing

Residents Dodge From Tornadoes In Two States

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 1 (AP)—Two persons were killed and an undetermined number injured today as a boiling line of tornadoes slammed through parts of Oklahoma.

Killed near Grandfield in southwest Oklahoma were Bill Scherler, about 30, and a woman identified only as Mrs. Rubottom.

They and Mrs. Max Scherler were in a truck trying to reach a storm cellar when the twisting funnel overtook them. Mrs. Scherler was critically hurt.

The latest casualties brought the toll from storms and tornadoes to at least six killed and 52 injured, during the past two days.

Seven of 23 passengers aboard a bus near Meeker, Okla., were injured when a heavy wind overturned the vehicle. First reports said that a twister had "blown half of Meeker away," but these accounts proved to be erroneous.

The patrol dispatched troopers to the scene and police and emergency equipment also rushed toward Meeker from Oklahoma City.

Three persons were injured when twin funnels struck Tipton in southwestern Oklahoma early in the day. Two more suffered injuries, one serious, when a storm battered Grandfield. Four others were reported hurt by a twister at Pawnee.

Heavy winds, rain and hail also pounded the Oklahoma City area and the metropolitan center of Tulsa was put under an alert.

Negro Free On Bond In Hit-Run Killing Is Slain

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 1 (AP)—A Negro free on bond after two convictions for running down and crippling a white boy with his car was killed in a violent clash here with the boy's father.

Sam Marshall, about 40, was shot in the hip and abdomen but an autopsy surgeon reported that he died from injuries to the left lung, apparently inflicted when the white man ran over him with a truck. The autopsy was performed by Dr. Herman Jones, director of the state crime lab in Atlanta.

The white man, Bill Rodgers, 34, farmer and produce dealer, was shot in the leg in a fight with the Negro. Three shots were fired and the police quoted a witness as saying the farmer then ran over Marshall with his truck.

Police Lt. Earl Barrett said the fight resulted yesterday when Rodgers stopped Marshall on the street and asked him how he got out of jail after his latest conviction.

Each time, the Negro was given five to 10 years in prison on an assault with intent to murder count for striking Teddy Rodgers, 10, with his car and knocking the child from his bicycle. The lad's hip was broken resulting in permanent injury. The car did not stop.

Marshall's first conviction was reversed by a higher court and he was granted bond after appealing the second.

Police Chief Wilbur Perkerson said Rodgers, who is in a hospital, is held on suspicion of murder. He said Marshall's wife indicated she would seek a murder warrant against Rodgers.

Ellender Urges Use Of Chiang's Men In Battle

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) tonight called for the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in the Indo-China war "on a volunteer basis."

In an address prepared for broadcast over radio station WWL, New Orleans, Ellender said the western powers should "use the same technique as the Chinese Reds in sending their troops to Korea."

The Louisiana senator said the communists insisted that the Chinese troops in Korea were not members of regular army units, but "volunteers."

He added that "There should be no objection to the forces of freedom recruiting troops from Formosa."

Ellender said the use of Nationalist troops in Indo-China at the invitation of an independent Indo-Chinese government could "provide a gateway for the reconquest of the Chinese mainland."

French Continue Air Assault At Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indochina, May 1 (AP)—French warplanes today plastered Red-led Vietminh coiled around Dien Bien Phu for the third straight day. A French high command spokesman described the situation there as "very serious" but he asserted the bastion's defenders were far from desperate.

Fighters and bombers from land

HANOI, Indochina, May 2 Sunday (AP)—The French High Command announced today the Vietminh have launched their third general attack against the fortress of Dien Bien Phu.

and carrier bases concentrated on rebel fortifications set up on the rim of the plain barely 600 yards from the heart of the Northwest Indochina bastion.

Object of the air strikes was to retard Vietminh attempts to build up for an all-out assault and to provide cover for transport planes funnelling men, munitions and materiel to the beleaguered bastion.

Shoeless Bandit Gets $10,000 At Roosevelt Hotel

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—A shoeless gunman wearing a black hood extending to his knees robbed the Hotel Roosevelt paymaster's office of $10,000 today and escaped.

Police said the weirdly garbed robber missed another $25,000 in the same drawer.

A squad of detectives searched the 19-story structure and three floors below street level on the chance he might have rented a room there previously as a hideaway; or was a former employe who knew his way about the underground floors.

No trace was found immediately of him or his disguise.

The 1,100-room hotel was the headquarters for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's two presidential campaigns. The governor presently has his New York office there.

Paymaster William King had just entered his office on the second floor of the hotel when the door opened and he was startled to see a hooded figure pointing a gun at him.

"It's in the drawer," King replied.

"Open it," commanded the man. King did so.

Dulles Meets With Envoy Of Red Chinese

GENEVA, May 1 —UP— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai met Saturday for the first time in an East-West bargaining session but failed to break a peace conference deadlock over Korea.

Dulles and his western Allies met for two and one-half hours in a special session in the palace of nations with the top Communists in an attempt to solve a Korean standoff.

There was a "free and informal exchange of views," a communique said.

All seven delegations—the U. S., British, French, South Korean, Soviet, Red Chinese and North Korean, spoke at the meeting, but no common ground could be found for a Korean settlement, informed sources said.

Although the official Asiatic conference was in recess Saturday, Chou, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and North Korea's Nam Il met the West in a special closed door session.

While there was no progress toward a Korean settlement, there were indications that an Indo-Chinese peace conference would be assembled soon.

Viet Nam Chief of State Bao Dai's foreign minister arrived in Geneva with the terms for sitting down with Communist Viet Minh representatives. The answer appeared sufficiently favorable to ensure that talks probably will get underway next week.

Peace Officers To Converge On Monroe Sunday

Peace officers from throughout Louisiana will begin converging on Monroe today for the 23rd annual convention of the Louisiana Peace Officers' Association. The convention begins tomorrow and will continue through Wednesday with headquarters at the Virginia Hotel.

Registration for the convention will begin at 2 p.m. in the hotel lobby.

With the exception of an executive committee meeting, slated for 6 p.m and a meeting of the captains of the pistol teams, today's activities will be taken up with registration and an informal get-together for members and guests. The socal is slated for 6 to 9 p.m. on the hotel roof.

The first general session of the convention will get under way at 9:30 a.m. Monday when Grant calls the meeting to order. The New Orleans police band will play the National Anthem after which the Rev. Ernest D. Holloway, dean of men at Northeast Louisiana State College, will give the invocation.

Immediately following the invocation the group will pay respects to all deceased members of the organization.

The welcome to the city will be given by Mayor John E. Coon of Monroe, with Nolan Orgeron, first vice-president, giving the response.

Sheriff Grant will give a short

Giant Soviet Jet Bomber In May Day Show

MOSCOW, May 1—UP—A giant Soviet jet bomber believed capable of carrying a hydrogen ar atom bomb long distances made a dramatic bow Saturday flying over massed May Day paraders in Red Square.

It was the first time the new four-jet bomber with swept-back wings was seen or even mentioned in public.

The plane underlined Premier Georgi M. Malenkov's warning a week ago that any atomic or hydrogen attack on Russia will be met with immediate retaliation.

It flew in formation with 175 other Soviet military planes, including 13 twin-jet swept-wing bombers also believed to be a new type.

Only minutes before, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, Soviet defense minister, had told troops and civilians jamming the sunlit square the Soviet Army and Navy "represent an awe-inspiring battle force, a reliable bulwark for the peaceful work of the Soviet people."

The new Red bomber appeared to be in the class of the American B-52. Air experts said it was obviously capable of delivering any bombs Russia has on inter-continental missions.

The U. S. B-52 with eight jets is a stepped-up version of the swept-wing B-47 which is America's principal long-range bomber.

Biggest Tug-Of-War To Be Over Money Bills In 60-Day Session

Kennon, At Mid-Term, Faces Legislative Battles

BATON ROUGE, May 1 (AP)—Two years have gone by since a small town north Louisiana judge rode a baby-blue limousine down Third Street in Baton Rouge to become Louisiana's 51st governor.

In that time, many changes have come over the state and soft spoken, hand-shaking Gov. Robert Kennon, the man from Minden, has become something of a controversial figure.

Just how controversial will be determined in the next two months when the Legislature holds its 60-day session and gets a chance to review the Kennon administration at the halfway mark of its four-year term.

A lot of water—some turbulent, some muddy—has gone under the political bridge since that warm May day in 1952 when the governor placed his hand on a Bible and swore to uphold and defend the constitution and laws of Louisiana.

The slot machines are gone—less than 50 of the estimated 4,500 are believed to have escaped the axe of state Police Supt. Francis Grevemberg. Most other forms of gambling, including bingo, have vanished with a wave of the state police wand.

Voting machines have been trucked out to every precinct. By the July congressional elections, Louisiana will be the first state in the deep South to use the devices in every polling booth.

Civil service for state employes has returned to the protection of the constitution. But funds to meet its minimum pay scales have mounted into a major fiscal hurdle that the Legislature either must clear or topple en route to a balanced budget.

A modern six million dollar penitentiary is rising on the 18,000 acres of Angola, once the scene of heel stringing, hunger strikes, brutality and violence. New construction is also underway at state charity hospitals, mental institutions, the State Colony and Training School (a home for the feeble-minded), and correctional institutions.

Some 650 miles of rural and farm to market roads, a record according to the state Highway Department, have been built in the last year. New Orleans is getting ready to span the Mississippi River with a new bridge, and bond revenue is available for a causeway over Lake Pontchartrain. A new welfare building is going up in the shadow of the 34-story state Capitol, and, almost directly behind it, engineers are engaged in making a deep water port at Baton Rouge.

The state's nine cent a gallon gasoline tax has been lowered to seven cents, income tax exemptions doubled and teachers given a 1 per cent cost-of-living pay raise. Louisiana received its tidelands back from the federal government, but is still battling over boundaries. The first offshore

U.S. Weak Against Russia, Senator Symington Says

DETROIT, May 1—UP—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said Saturday the United States is relatively weaker against Russia now "than it has ever been against any possible enemy in the history of our country."

He voiced that conclusion in criticizing the Eisenhower administration's defense budget cuts in a speech prepared for a Jefferson-Jackson Day Democratic party dinner here.

Symington, former Secretary of the Air Force, said the administration cut the Air Force budget more than $5 million last year although Russia now has atomic and hydrogen bombs and the planes and submarines to deliver them.

The administration has now "ballyhooed the idea that this year great emphasis would be on air power," he said.

"How many citizens know that, despite that ballyhoo, today the Republican administration is recommending fewer planes and fewer trained people for the Air Force than it did last year, and this after the previous 5 million cut?" he asked.

"This country today is relatively weaker — relatively is the important word — against the military might of Soviet Russia than it has ever been against any possible enemy in the history of our country."

Symington said the administration answer is to recommend a further reduction in air power.

"Never forget that, as these 'budget firsters' boast about the fact they are increasing our air power," he said, "they are actually boasting about the spending of money which had already been appropriated in previous Democratic administrations."

U. S. Spokesman Warns Of Danger

PHILADELPHIA, May 1 —UP— Assistant Secretary of State Henry A. Byroade said Saturday there is danger the Middle East may fall under Russian domination.

Because of this danger, he said, all parties concerned in the Arab-Israeli dispute should make determined efforts to ease Middle Eastern tension. Only then, he said, will the nations of the region be able to devote time to the threat of Soviet imperialism.

Byroade said in an address prepared for the American Council for Judaism that the United States is concenred about developments in this part of the world because "we do see an increasing danger that the Middle East may be relegated to a satellite status under the Soviet Union."

"It has been my view that the Middle East, on the time-table of the Soviet Union, has been placed in priority behind that of Europe and the Far East simply because they look upon it as an area that can wait," he said. "The more Russia's aggressive moves are stalemated in Europe and the Far East, the more the danger grows for the Middle East.

"There are now a number of indications that Soviet intentions are being focused to a new degree upon this part of the world."

He listed stepped-up Communist propaganda in the area and increased Soviet attention to Middle Eastern matters arising before the United Nations.

BASTROP, May 1 (Special)—Tom H. Milliken, of Bastrop, associate agronomist, agricultural extension service, LSU, left Baton Rouge late Saturday for Washington, D. C. to meet with representatives of foreign countries visiting the United States to study agriculture.

Milliken said he would spend 12 days in Washington giving orientation in U. S. agricultural methods to 15 foreign agricultural representatives from the countries of Thailand, Saipan, China, Brazil and Uruguay.

The Louisiana agronomist will then spend a week in Crowley with the group studying rice at the Crowley experiment station, a week in New Orleans studying import and export of rice and the final week in Baton Rouge at the LSU department of agriculture before the representatives return to their native countries.

In the midst of the downpour late Friday afternoon, a certain employe of the News-Star sought to buy a Friday afternoon paper at the newsstand in the Ouachita National Bank Building. But he was told that every copy was sold.

And then a kindly man, stranger to the speaker, evidently believing that the seeker for a paper did not know his way around Monroe too well, ventured:

"Why, just go east to the next corner then turn down to the left part of the block and you will be at the News-Star office. They will have plenty of papers still unsold!" the man comfortingly remarked.

Tommy Elloff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Elloff, 1010 South Third Street, Monroe, a graduate of Neville High, three years ago and who will graduate in August from Louisiana Tech, has been named as one of four Phi Kappa Phi members in the U. S. to receive a $1,500 grant for graduate study.

This young man plans to study physics at the University of California at Berkeley as a candidate for a Ph. D. degree.

Notification was made, it is stated, through consideration to the outlook for success of the student as revealed by past scholastic records, testimonials from teachers and the merit of proposed plans for graduate work. In all of these, he is said to have filled the bill completely while in Tech.

Estelle Sanders, one of the city's well known musicians, will present her annual program for her music students at Neville High School auditorium May 10 at 8:15 p.m.

There will be 50 or more of her students actively participating in this "Spring Serenade" as it is called.

Costumes have been secured as well as special lighting effects and scenery, and proceeds will go to the Salvation Army.

McCarthy's reaction to the possible removal of Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton as commander of Ft. Monmouth.

He said these and another monitored call between Stevens and McCarthy last Nov. 7 should be "very illuminating."

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), a subcommittee member, said he thought many people were losing sight of the issues under investigation, adding there seemed to be a widespread misconception that the hearings concerned only the treatment of a private in the Army.

He was referring to Pvt. G. David Schine, scion of a wealthy family who was an unpaid consultant of the subcommittee until he was drafted last November.

Potter said that in his opinion "extremely serious" charges were involved.

"The question on one side," he said, "is whether the investigating arm of the Senate was improperly used as a weapon in an attempt to secure preferential treatment for Pvt. Schine."

"On the other side," he added, "the question is whether the Army used Pvt. Schine as a tool or a pawn in an effort to impede or call off a Senate investigation of itself."

If the charges on either side are true, Potter said, "the individuals responsible are guilty of a violation of a public trust." It is because of the serious nature of the charges, he said, that subcommittee members "are spending all their time on this."

The final business for the convention will be the election and installation of officers for the coming year.

At 1 p.m. a barbecue at Bernstein Park will be given for all delegates by the Louisiana Motor Transport Association and West Monroe Police Department.

McCarthy's reaction to the possible removal of Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton as commander of Ft. Monmouth.

He said these and another monitored call between Stevens and McCarthy last Nov. 7 should be "very illuminating."

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), a subcommittee member, said he thought many people were losing sight of the issues under investigation, adding there seemed to be a widespread misconception that the hearings concerned only the treatment of a private in the Army.

He was referring to Pvt. G. David Schine, scion of a wealthy family who was an unpaid consultant of the subcommittee until he was drafted last November.

Potter said that in his opinion "extremely serious" charges were involved.

"The question on one side," he said, "is whether the investigating arm of the Senate was improperly used as a weapon in an attempt to secure preferential treatment for Pvt. Schine."

"On the other side," he added, "the question is whether the Army used Pvt. Schine as a tool or a pawn in an effort to impede or call off a Senate investigation of itself."

If the charges on either side are true, Potter said, "the individuals responsible are guilty of a violation of a public trust." It is because of the serious nature of the charges, he said, that subcommittee members "are spending all their time on this."

Crisis Within Administration Over Indo-China Policies May Be Climaxed With Dulles' Return From Geneva

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles' imminent return from the Geneva Conference probably will bring to a head a crisis inside the government over how strong a policy the United States should have toward Indo-China.

Dulles has been at the Geneva Conference, where Indo-China peace negotiations are the critical issue, only a week. He has decided to leave there Monday and return to Washington Tuesday. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, leaving Washington this afternoon, will replace him as chief U.S. delegate in negotiations with the Communists.

Diplomatic informants concede that Dulles is coming home to a government divided in its councils and frustrated, for the moment at least, in some of its major purposes regarding the conflict with communism in Southeast Asia. American leadership on the issue is regarded as much less decisive than when Dulles went to Geneva.

There are behind scenes fears here that the Russians may score successes in their drive to weaken the Western alliance, with resulting setbacks not only in the protection of Southeast Asia against communism but also in the organization of Western Europe for its own security. A major aim of Soviet policy is the defeat of the European Defense Community. In the struggle over EDC France, with all its vulnerability on the Indo-China issue, is a key nation.

When Dulles left Washington for Geneva 10 days ago the United States was speaking with a strong and even threatening voice on Indo-China. Dulles was still actively promoting a united front policy for the security of Southeast Asia. There was considerable talk of possible U.S. intervention.

Since that time several things have happened:

1. Some congressional leaders—like Vice President Nixon and Senate Majority Leader Knowland—have spoken of possible use of U.S. forces in Indo-China in case all else failed. But talk of such steps has evoked no great congressional or public enthusiasm and in fact has stirred up considerable opposition. The strong policy Dulles advocated seemed therefore to lack a firm home basis.

2. The British government of Prime Minister Churchill ruled against any participation in Indo-China actions pending the Geneva negotiations. Since Dulles and associates have regarded Britain's cooperation as essential in any coalition undertaking, this denied the secretary a firm allied basis for his program.

3. The administration, tentatively at least, ruled out the assignment of U.S. naval aircraft to the battle of Dien Bien Phu. The French government has requested such aid. The decision was in line with the administration's determination not to play a lone hand in the Indo-China war and to intervene, if ever, only as part of an alliance of nations.

4. President Eisenhower shifted emphasis during the past week from talk of the importance of Indo-China and the dangers of free world setbacks there, to talk of a "modus vidIendi." He defined this yesterday as some practical way of getting along with the Communists. He also renewed a line he had followed initially several months ago by saying the United States would not become involved in the Indo-China war more deeply without congressional action.

Kennon

lease plunked a record three million dollar bonus into the state Treasury.

Prosperity is still in the saddle, yet, money and where to find it probably will be the biggest single headache of the coming session.

Four key state agencies — the Highway, Welfare, Institutions and Wildlife and Fisheries departments —have been placed under control of constitutional, staggered-term boards.

A Legislative Council has been created to do research for lawmakers, and the "studyingest Legislature ever" has formed itself into volunteer survey groups under the inspiration and guidance of Sen. M. Eloi Girard of Lafayette.

These in brief, are the accomplishments of the Kennon administration at the halfway mark. Not all of them—perhaps not any of them—have won universal approval. Many have contributed to Kennon's controversial reputation.

Gambling, for instance. Critics argue that Kennon promised in his campaigns "not to change the habits of south Louisiana." In a field of nine candidates, they point out, only James McLemore of Alexandria was committed to wipe out gambling.

The governor is rapped for ringing the death knell for slot machines one day, then refusing to interfere when the Racing Commission which he appointed approved a night harness racing track for Jefferson Parish.

Kennon sees no contradiction here and no violation of the home rule principals he pledged. He says the administration gambling policy is not a "crusade" or a "drive," but rather a "fulfillment of my pledge to enforce all the laws."

What does the governor regard as the most significant accomplishments of his administration so far:

1. "I have restored constitutional government in Louisiana and returned the Legislature to a place of dignity." Many lawmakers will agree Kennon has not "horse whipped" the Legislature; many also find fault with him for not giving it guidance and direction.

"We're a ship without a rudder," warned Rep. Albert Koorhie of New Orleans when the governor announced he would have "no program" at the coming session. Yet, the same day, Sen. Charles Tooke of Shreveport said the Legislative Council and lawmaker study groups could not have existed under other governors . . . "They'd have blown them sky-high."

2. Next, Kennon believes his overall improvement program for prisons, mental hospitals and the colony has turned a "Christian ear to an inarticulate voice in Louisiana's past: The handicapped and the unfortunate."

Supporters point out there are "no votes" in the prisons and asylums, but in the July special session the governor was willing to risk the rest of his program in an all out battle for the institutions appropriations.

3. Finally, the governor thinks his program of "blue ribbon" boards has taken big spending out of pressure politics and put it into the hands of "outside businessmen." Critics see the board bills as removing control from the people and their elected representatives and giving it to the cumbersome, independent boards, responsible only to themselves and the governor.

Summing up his administration to date, Kennon says: "I campaigned for civics book government and I think it is now in operation. Witness what the Legislature is doing. What will happen next week will not be settled in the governor's office. Lawmakers can vote their convictions without worrying about having local funds cut off."

With no major administration program in sight, political observers are predicting a "wild and wooly" session. But Kennon, the first Southern governor to break party lines and support Eisenhower's candidacy, has become a past master at ignoring controversy and regarding all critics as "just lovable fellows."

M'Carthy Hits At British Trade With Red Powers

BURLINGTON, Wis., May 1—UP—Sen. Joseph McCarthy told a May Day loyalty rally Saturday that Britain's decision to extend credit to Russia should "make any loyal American see red."

McCarthy and Sen. Alexander H. Wiley, Wisconsin's two Republican senators, spoke at a "May Day, U. S. Way" celebration in which this village of 4,700 paid tribute to the Constitution and Bill of Rights.

McCarthy said Britain's announcement that she is extending $80 million credit to Russia "made me sick, way down deep."

He said Britain is willing to ship "rubber, textiles and other items that we American people will call strategic materials."

"On this May Day, we have taken out of your pockets hard-earned dollars and sent them to our ally in England to send strategic shipments of war materials to our enemy in Russia," he said.

McCarthy said 32 U. S. airmen whom the Chinese announced they had captured during the Korean war are either "dead, murdered or being brainwashed in some Red, bloodstained dungeon."

Wiley told the audience that Congress should pass legislation to cope with Communist-dominated labor unions.

Wiley also urged that Congress:

1. Enact legislation to cope with individual Communists, particularly in strategic industries."

2. Make wire-tap evidence in national security cases admissible as evidence in federal courts.

3. Give immunity to congressional witnesses who otherwise would remain silent under the Fifth Amendment.

4. Extend capital punishment to persons guilty of espionage in peacetime.

Deluge Of Rain Costs 7 Lives In Mississippi

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven persons died Saturday as a wind-whipped deluge swept central Mississippi, damaging buildings, flooding creeks and forcing some 50 people from their homes.

The downpour, mostly between midnight and 3 a.m., fell on the area bounded by Natchez, Jackson and Greenwood. Later the rain moved over to another area bounded by Greenwood, Clarksdale and a point near Vicksburg.

The heaviest rain was in Natchez, where the weatherman measured 10 inches. Jackson had five inches.

Five were killed and four injured in a two-car smashup about five miles from Greenwood. The dead were identified as Mrs. Charles Robinson Sr., and her three-year-old son, Randall, both of Paducah, Ky., and Elmer Counts, 21, Ernest L. Daniels, 22, and Rinford Clanton, 39, all of the Pee Dee Plantation near Schlater.

Leland Coleman, 29-year-old Kosciusko businessman, was killed when his car skidded on wet pavement and slammed into another auto, injuring two men.

The 10 inches that fell in Natchez did little damage because of the city's position on a bluff.

A flash flood in an outlying Jackson district saturated the first floor of several homes, forcing the occupants into rescue boats manned by police and firemen.

Minor damage was reported in Jackson's business district as water seeped under doors and soaked merchandise and equipment. The city's sewer system could not cope with the rapidly falling water.

High winds accompanied the heavy rain in Greenwood, battering homes, stores and trees. Limbs were strewn about the city and on the highways.

One Trailways bus driver said he swerved to avoid a tree lying across the road and ran into a ditch. No one was reported injured.

Throughout the triangle, creeks overflowed and made streams of highways forcing traffic to a crawl.

America's Invisible Government

Today, the United States is faced with two forms of ruination. The first is from without by the effect of armed aggression and the other is from within by the actions, sometimes curious, of many native-born Americans and some immigrants who through invisible sources of power, attain dominant policy making positions in the government. This newspaper can name at least three or four of these individuals.

Perhaps the United States' main difficulty, call it problem of you want, is in the fight by alien thinkers to change the form of government from that of a Republic to some sort of an administration operated dictatorship. In the final analysis it would constitute a Social mobocracy operated by a chief executive with the power of the congress completely curtailed and cut off. The executive would, with a controlled congress, be able to load the supreme court.

This is no mere fantasy which is being described to you, it is the facts based on the very statements and the writings of individuals who are today in positions of power and authority. The final result of such a form of government would be the weakening of the United States to a deplorable extent both financially and materially. It would completely eliminate the power of the individual American whose rights today, are rapidly being snuffed out both by internal and external decrees.

In 1952, the American people went to the polls to elect what they thought would be a Republican administration. In no way is this an attack on that party, rather it is an expression of sorrow, of condolence, as in name, there was a Republican administration elected, but as a political influence in the present administration, that party ceased to exist with the death of the late Senator Taft, if indeed, he was ever able to exert a great amount of influence. There are few people today, people who knew the platform of the Republican party, knowing the inherent beliefs held by that political party, who can recognize the administration of today as a pure Republican unit of political influence. The same holds true as regards the Democrat party.

Instead, Americans must come to recognize that political parties, as they were once known in this Republic, both of which once stood for their nation and its best interests, are no longer in existence. There is not the slightest use in "mincing words" as regards this present situation as it is one, the outcome of which, will determine the eventful future of the Republic.

Today, one must use the greatest concentration to note a difference in foreign policy as expressed by this government as against the policies of the previous several administrations. There is no longer any necessity to regard political lines as being important as a consideration for casting a vote for a candidate. Either the candidate is fearless, pro-American, a firm believer in the right of the individual citizen, the rights of local state governments over the octopus which is the federal government, the rights of this Republic over some super world organization, the preservation of the federal bill of rights and a constant running fight against all Marxian thinkers from leftwingers right through Socialist on into a battle against the Communist conspiracy, or he isn't.

There is absolutely no middle ground in this battle for the preservation of the Republic. Either one stands on the original concepts of American government and the constitution, or he doesn't.

Unfortunately, in the National Capitol, there are those who don't.

They do not care about any "original concepts" or the Constitution. Forces working both as regards personal gain and gain for an idology are in positions of the highest influence. Even the President himself has stated that it is indeed lawful to admit Socialists to the government even though it is well known that their concepts include not one single one in similarity with the concepts of the Constitution.

Just who is running the administration? Is it the President who is in Washington some 42% of the time? Who issues the edicts coming from the White House, edicts which are today directly responsible for the three ring circus in the Senate, a humiliation which is more than just a "hearing," being actually a test of the power of the Senate. Who is the guiding hand behind the foreign policy which decrees that the United States must continue to tie itself tighter with plans for eventual integration of the United States in a world superstate?

Who is responsible for the continuation of a policy which decrees that America's real allies in the Orient are to be hogtied and bound by defensive operations when they should be given arms and equipment as offensively armed nations? Who is in the government guiding the hand of the President when he condemns "book burning," a statement obviously handed to him? Who issued the idea that Communists were not to be a political argument in the next election, a statement as foolishly obvious as the existence of the threat itself?

Who issued the idea that the 25,000 Communists in the nation are not a cause of worry? Who is the guiding light in government which decrees that a constant and running fight with Senators McCarthy, Jenner and McCarran is to be held? It should be obvious to all that these three are more than mere personalities, they are standard bearers in the fight against subversion. Who is it then, that decrees the fight by these three brave and patriotic Americans be continued?

In past weeks this newspaper has carefully analyzed in this column the curious force entitled the "Republican Advance." It described the shadowy bankers and powerful New York figures involved. The question is simply this; do the combined efforts of several people both in New York and in Washington constitute an invisible government wielding great influence, and able to hold up investigation of subversion? On this Sunday morning, the people of this city, who are patriotic Americans, owe it to themselves to carefully consider that there is such dangerous influence being exerted.

Who pulls the strings of the confused, memory lacking marionette which is the Army Secretary? Who controls the State Department?

Think, Americans, on your thoughts greatly depends the future of the nation.

Union—United In Progress

Union parish. A community of people in union for the betterment of their parish as a whole to incorporate higher living standards as well as economic value.

Possessing a wealth of natural resources, such as oil, gas, timber, excellent farm land and other necessities, this northeast Louisiana parish has shown in each year since its founding, in 1839, a forward stride toward the era of 1954.

Bounded on the north by the state of Arkansas, on the east by Morehouse parish, on the south by Ouachita and Lincoln parishes, and west by Claiborne parish, Union parish sits in a strategic part of northeast Louisiana. Her situation in the community of parishes, as well as the state of Arkansas, has made her development of natural resources a joint measure with that of her neighbors. In each instance, such as the natural gas boom and the oil boom, Union parish has never taken a back seat, but has been a leader.

To distinguish Union parish as a leader, one only needs to visit the parish seat and other adjacent communities. In Farmerville, the parish seat, many modern educational facilities are visible, one of the most modern banks in the state of Louisiana is located in the town, as well as other developments to point to progress.

The mayor of Farmerville has also brought state-wide attention to his municipality by being named Mayor of the Year. Mayor R. L. Turnage has been the "father" of many progressive steps which Farmerville has made.

In Bernice, Marion, Downsville and other points in the parish the picture closely resembles that of Farmerville on a smaller scale. Each community has well kept churches, stores, schools of the parish system, and other projects benefiting the community as a whole.

Union parish is united in a force for the progress of her people.

The Y. M. C. A.

In the Twin Cities today, there is an effort to establish a Young Men's Christian Association. If ever such an organization was needed at anytime, this one certainly falls under that category.

The work of the "Y" is a well known and established fact all over the world. Its service to youth and to older men wherever it is located is and has always been excellent. Started years ago in the slums of London, England, the YMCA organization came to the U. S. just prior to the War for States Rights (sometimes erroneously referred to as the "Civil War") and since then it has spread to nearly every city in the Republic.

Now, there will soon be a fund raising and membership "roundup" to add to the growing list, even more new members.

In the month of May, the "Roundup Riders, Straw Bosses and Ranch Hands" will be approaching many citizens in both Monroe and West Monroe. They will ask you to join the Twin Cities YMCA and it is hoped that you will give these people your undivided attention and consideration. The influence of a Young Men's Christian Association in the Twin Cities would indeed be an excellent thing in these days and times.

Support your Twin Cities' YMCA.

The Right To Work Bill

In the state legislature soon to convene, there will be an important piece of legislation up for consideration. That legislation's passage is vital to the best interests of the people of the state of Louisiana. It merely gives the average American, citizen of this state, the right to work without first having to belong to a union.

It is a small, state version of the Taft-Hartley act. It has received the denunciation of the various union leaders in the state and will come under heavy fire as the time for its consideration comes up.

It is inconceivable that an individual American, supposedly possessed of God given rights, should have to belong to any type organization union or management before his position or job can be guaranteed. Should the workers not have a choice as to whether or not they want to come under the protection (as it is termed) of a union? Must there be written force used to insure the growth of the unions? Can the unions not grow by the stint of their very own accomplishments, ability and earnest work?

There is no necessity in attacking a union or a segment of the management in this affair as there is certainly no threat implied by the proposed legislation. If the unions can keep growing under their own steam without the help of laws legislated in their behalf which leaves the realm of fair play, then, more power to the unions. However, the right to work legislation merely makes certain that fair play will be instituted.

Every citizen in the state owes it to himself and the welfare of Louisiana to read the legislation pending and give it careful consideration.

Jenkins Versus Kefauver?

The election soon to come up in the state of Tennessee will be an easy one for Estes Kefauver unless he has some qualified opposition. It was Kefauver, the left wing, ADA operative who stormed his way through the nation carrying on a regular medicine show designed to scare the gangsters or perhaps, to add to his own personal prestige.

In any event, the former was not accomplished while the latter was most certainly an accomplished act.

The man nearly went to the Democrat nomination on his questionable laurels. Since then, his voice has been heard throughout the nation in dispute with the idea of more investigative committees.

Apparently, the Senator (wearer of the Coonskin cap) would prefer to see local and national gangsters, bookies and slot operators caught than he would the international murderous conspiracy of Communist gangsters. At least, that is what Kefauver implies.

Fortunately for the state of Tennessee, there has arisen a new figure. He is Ray Jenkins the man who is doing a marvelous and fair job of acting as counsel for the subcommittee on investigations which is presently holding hearings on the Pentagon-McCarthy affair. Mr. Jenkins has demonstrated for all to see that he is as fair as fair can be and is possessed of keen intellect.

That, right there, is more than enough to qualify him for the office of Senator from his state in preference to Estes Kefauver. It is hoped that Mr. Jenkins will see fit to seriously consider the nomination of his party and go on to campaign against the present holder of the Senate seat. The Senate needs more men such as Mr. Jenkins.

Shocking State Of Affairs

Ruston, La.

Editor, Monroe World:

A truly shocking state of affairs is indicated by your Sunday editorial on the McCarthy - Stevens probe in McCarthy's Senate subcommittee. Can it be that the three major news services of the U. S. would have the nerve to disagree with His Almighty? What could they know about him and his actions? After all, they only see him once or so each day. Their chance to observe him is limited to personal contact, while you have the advantage of hearsay and the reports of other equally radical newspapers.

Here's hoping that your predictions about this affair being the eventual ruination of this power in the Senate is absolutely and completely true. And quickly so!

This newspaper, at great expense, is in constant contact with the national capitol, it maintains its own correspondent, Mr. Timmons in the capitol and is in contact with various members of both the Senate and the Congress. Service Stations Need Union

Monroe, La.

Editor, Monroe World:

Here is what Monroe needs most. That is a service station union. Did you know that they are working men seven days per week 12 hours per day for $40 per week, a total of 84 hours per week?

I watch your TV program and I have been reading your paper for some years.

Take note that this $40 per week, 84 hour week is what they have been paying for quite a few years now.

I was drawing unemployment compensation and they tried to get me to take a job that was paying less money than I had been making. This was disgusting me so I appealed for a hearing but got no results. I filed for this hearing a second time and have not heard anything definite yet.

Service stations are being built on every street and close together. Take note also from the new bridge out Highway 80 going west, how many service stations there are.

Editor, Morning World:

I read your Public Forum column every week and I notice you print letters even though they sometimes criticize your paper. That is to be congratulated. I am not writing in criticism of your paper.

I want the people of Louisiana to know what has happened to me because of not having a right to work law. I was employed by the construction department of a pipe company. My section did nothing but install sprinkler systems for fire prevention. I enjoyed my work and the company was satisfied with my work. This company has plenty of work but I was laid off, because the Union refused to allow me to join. To me it seems impossible that a union can say you can or cannot work. I was actually refused the right to work. I was refused the right that every American is supposed to have, because the local in Washington said there were too many apprentices for the amount of fitters they had.

What will happen to your sons and daughters when they finish school and start looking for work? In all probability, they will not be allowed to work because the employment situation is getting more critical each day and more and more people will be refused work in the profession of their choice because the unions will not accept new members.

I am a veteran of both WW II and of the Korean Conflict. Do you think that I or anyone else should be denied the right of working and supporting his family because of a Union? The Right to Work Bill will change this situation. I sincerely hope the people of Louisiana will get behind this bill and see that it is passed for the good of everyone.

Chiropractors; To Be Or Not To Be

Editor, Morning World,

I have just received a copy of your publication in which I read with amusement the letter signed by Jack T. Jackson, M. D. I was amused at the abysmal void in the writer's knowledge in the science of chiropractic.

Medical technics change with the styles. Medically, there was a time when appendicitis was a popular excuse for expensive surgery. Appendicitis is now out of date in the more modern medical circles and is practiced only by the old fogeys in the medical profession and upon the educated retarded and get-rich-quick types. This reference to out dated medical practices is used to illustrate the point that medicine 's changing only in its technics but not in he premises upon which the practice has been developed. Nature's laws, those under which we live and without which there would be no life, do not change. There is no science outside of truth. Medicine includes a conglomerate of grotesque beliefs in diseases, cures, and the magic of chemicals. It is time that the people wake up to the absurdity of the situation and open up the fields for democratic procedures in health research as well as in other fields of human service, instead of permitting medicine to continue its closed monopoly on the health of the nation, denying through laws, the advantages that would accrue to the people of the world if the principle of free enterprise were followed in the field of health service. Free enterprise, established by the Constitution of the U. S., has permitted the unequal growth in popularity of the science of chiropractic in spite of every obstacle organized medicine could devise by which they hope to destroy it as an accepted science. Now, it is the final strategy for medicine to claim that chiropractic is "medicine" and appropriate it for their use without being detected in an attempt to steal and merge it into medicine without public observation.

The chiropractors in Louisiana know that they are not practicing medicine and are not violating the medical practice laws of the state. The records of the land show that a few chiropractors do violate their professional ethics and the laws of decency by performing criminal abortion, while many medical doctors lead the parade of abortionists. That only proves that each profession is just a cross section of the people, and does not involve the scientific issues.

Louisiana is fortunate in having newspapers and editors who will publish opinions on both sides of such important issues as human health, both public and private. The people of the state of Louisiana are entitled to all of the scientific advances in the health field, medical, non - medical, religious or otherwise.

About This Robbing Old-Age Pensioners

Ruston, La.

Editor, Monroe Morning World:

The proponent of the drive to take the sales tax money from the old-age pensioners is no other than Senator B. H. Rogers of Grand Cane, La., which answers a question that is being asked all over the state of Louisiana.

What Sen. Rogers proposes to do when the State Legislature convenes is to have the Welfare Board to handle their old people the way the Eskimos handle theirs: take them out on the ice and leave them.

Senator Rogers has two ideas about changes in the old-age pensions and neither will stand inspection. First, he states that these old people should give the state a lien on their property if they become eligible for this pension. Why? The state of Louisiana pays not one —— penny on these pensions; they are paid by the two cent sales tax which was established for this purpose. The senator is trying to put the state of Louisiana in the real estate business with fraudulent property.

The senator also states that it is a basic law of God for children to take care of their parents. Listen, Senator, that's what these relatives are doing now: they are paying this sales tax to take care of their fathers and mothers and you have enough money in the treasury to pension every one of them over 65. None of your gang has mentioned cutting the sales tax.

Something else Sen. Rogers don't seem to realize. Many conscientious mothers and fathers would rather be dead than to be a personal burden to their relatives. History of the old countries enlighten us to the fact that they began paying their old people a pension a century ago. Senator Rogers is leading us backward toward heathenism, not toward civilization.

Communism In Our Schools?

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Monroe Morning World:

I have spent the major part of my 73 years in life in studying and trying to solve the many problems that confront us in our modern life. The farther along we go, the more complex and puzzling these problems become. I often wonder if the American people as a whole are lacking in the ability to look into the future and envision the outcome of the more important things that confront us. There are always an ulterior to every plan, theory, and line of philosophy. All of them have their motives, bearings, inclusives and exclusives so arranged to reach their objective goal; both public and private.

In divining any problem, I first look for the motive that inspires, and the cause that detracts. I have seen thousands of brilliant young men and women return from college as ignorant in public politics as a cotton patch Negro. What is the cause for this deficiency? The answer is, lack of proper coaching. The cause for this neglect of culture are due to the fact that most of our modern schools have become so infiltrated with heretical theories that disqualify rather than qualify. I lay the blame for this infiltration at the doors of the patrons of the schools as well as the faculties. If the patrons in each school district would come together and work as hard to eliminate these subversive teachings from the schools as Senator McCarthy is working to weed commies out of government jobs; they would soon pretty well straighten things out. I contend that every high school and every college should establish a curriculum of modern politics and teach every young man and woman the dogmas and tenets of every kind of cracy and ism appertaining to the ruling powers. Whom they benefit and whom they injure and enslave. Then instead of our boys and girls coming home from school half shod, they will come back home robust minded and will know better how to vote and who to vote for, and what to vote for.

In this letter I shall not make any outline or explanation of any cracys or isms except that if anybody wishes to know what life is like under communism, if they will get in their automobile and drive along the highways through Angola, or Parchman, Miss., and view the hordes of convicts surrounded by armed guards ready to shoot anyone who might attempt to jump the lines, then they will have a perfect picture of life under communtsm. Some critics will say, "through prejudice old Morgan is exaggerating," but if you will consider yourself in this position, "I am not permitted to own anything I must do whatever I am ordered to do or die," then you will not be so ready to criticize sound advice. The communist recognize nothing but force: the concepts of advanced civilization, the knowledge of God, and religion, are deemed fanatical, fantastical, and false philosophies, and should we fall into the realm of communism, we would be in the same predicament as those unfortunate convicts.

B. W .MORGAN.

The State Legislature

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

If you go to Baton Rouge in the capacity of a legislator with an idea in mind to satisfy all groups, you will be mistaken. It can't be done. There are strong pressure groups that will want special grants. The problem is to find a way to raise the money to finance all divisions without levying extra taxes. The people of Louisiana are burdened with enough taxes now. There are reports that the finances are being depleted, yet the requests for more money still come in. There is going to be some effort on the part of the legislature to pass some kind of a labor law. It is the opinion of many that labor has too much power and this power should be withdrawn. This would bring on a "hot" fight between labor and industrialism. It should be kept in mind that labor is well organized. The future of the legislators' positions is at stake. This presents another problem.

Those concerned with education are asking for state assistance. I am of the opinion that if waste and extravagance was eliminated in the school systems, we would have plenty of money.

Another problem in this session of the legislature is the stock law. There are many opposed to it and many for it. There will be a big rush to get this bill passed. The more the bill is discussed, the more unpopular it will become to the people. So it would seem the best thing to do is to get it voted in quickly. I have noticed that none of the legislators have advocated a change in the law, paying more on old age pensions. Salaries for every other group in the state have been increased. The cost of living is rising, but no rise in old age compensations. . . .

These are questions that should be considered carefully by every member of the Legislature. The people will watch the outcome of this session more closely than before.

Philosophers Of Progressive Education

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I wish to ask your permission to rewrite a part of an editorial that appeared in the Sunday, April 2nd, Morning World. Which I appraise as the best Editorial that I have read in many months. I wish to rewrite this part coincidental with an appendix of my own ideas, which are as follows, "One has to realize that there is most certainly a determined effort to ruin the morals of this Republic. The United States was built as a nation of families. The core of its moral fiber was centered around its family life. Today that family life is a "victim of the times." Young American school children are actually taught to disregard the teachings of their parents. They are taught by printed pamphlets issued by "UNESCO" and others that their parents are incapable of keeping up with "modern trends" and are "prophets of false nationalism." The "progressive education" philosophers also regard the parents as fit for the furnaces of the never-world.

Marriage today is merely a supposition; —. Forgotten are the commandments of god—. More of them are broken every day by youngsters who are deliberately instructed to forget the commandment "Honor thy father and thy mother." — If the youngsters are taught to break the commandments of God, what does the future hold for the United States? — There is no necessity to "moralize"—only a necessity to face the truth of the present situation. Either this nation returns to the mores and folkways which made it great, or it will follow the same path of other nations and empires which were destroyed because of their inner debasement."

Please let me call your attention to the "philosophers of progressive education." We all know the theory and spirit that inspires the philosophy of "progressive education." It has been found after many years of research and investigations that this subversive teachings are prevalent in all of our schools, even to the highest "universities." The federal courts has repeatedly ruled that socialism and communism are subversives, and are crimes against the security, peace, and dignity of the United States. Many culprits, beginning with Eugene V. Debbs and Kate O'Hara, socialists, were sent to jail as early as 1918, and within the last decade many commies has been sent to jail and two to the electric chair.

I contend that if subversive politics are crimes against the Federal Government they are also crimes against the state governments, and every state should have an anti-Communist law written in their statutes. I further contend that not only those who were convicted are guilty, but everyone who subscribes to socialism and communism are equally guilty and should likewise be sent to jail. The Louisiana legislature will meet Monday, May 10th, I think that every loyal citizen in Louisiana should be prepared to urge the legislature to enact a rigid anti-socialist and anti-communist law, and let's get in behind those stinkers and send every one we can find to the penitentiary. And also to enact a law to prohibit the publication, sale, distribution, and possession of subversive literature. This act would be necessary, because there are several publishing houses in New York city that have tracts, pamphlets and books of every kind teaching communism which can be obtained by simply ordering them through the U. S. mails.

Some people argue "Oh, teach it to them and then they will know it," but I propose to teach my children myself, I sure don't want Malenkov to teach them. Solomon said, "Bring your child up in the way you will have him to go and when he is old he will not depart from it," so—then I think its best to teach them myself. I don't see any sense or humanity in allowing your boy to be taught communism until he is grown; and then stand him up and shoot him for advocating what he has been taught all his life. Communism is a one way line of thought, a one way philosophy that holds no incentive for expansion or improvement, because no one is allowed to own anything: everything belongs to everybody. If the world were enveloped in communism it would soon retrograde to tribalism, because everyone would sit down and depend upon nature for existence just like the ancient tribes did.

America's Invisible Government

Today, the United States is faced with two forms of ruination. The first is from without by the effect of armed aggression and the other is from within by the actions, sometimes curious, of many native-born Americans and some immigrants who through invisible sources of power, attain dominant policy making positions in the government. This newspaper can name at least three or four of these individuals.

Perhaps the United States' main difficulty, call it problem of you want, is in the fight by alien thinkers to change the form of government from that of a Republic to some sort of an administration operated dictatorship. In the final analysis it would constitute a Social mobocracy operated by a chief executive with the power of the congress completely curtailed and cut off. The executive would, with a controlled congress, be able to load the supreme court.

This is no mere fantasy which is being described to you, it is the facts based on the very statements and the writings of individuals who are today in positions of power and authority. The final result of such a form of government would be the weakening of the United States to a deplorable extent both financially and materially. It would completely eliminate the power of the individual American whose rights today, are rapidly being snuffed out both by internal and external decrees.

In 1952, the American people went to the polls to elect what they thought would be a Republican administration. In no way is this an attack on that party, rather it is an expression of sorrow, of condolence, as in name, there was a Republican administration elected, but as a political influence in the present administration, that party ceased to exist with the death of the late Senator Taft, if indeed, he was ever able to exert a great amount of influence. There are few people today, people who knew the platform of the Republican party, knowing the inherent beliefs held by that political party, who can recognize the administration of today as a pure Republican unit of political influence. The same holds true as regards the Democrat party.

Instead, Americans must come to recognize that political parties, as they were once known in this Republic, both of which once stood for their nation and its best interests, are no longer in existence. There is not the slightest use in "mincing words" as regards this present situation as it is one, the outcome of which, will determine the eventful future of the Republic.

Today, one must use the greatest concentration to note a difference in foreign policy as expressed by this government as against the policies of the previous several administrations. There is no longer any necessity to regard political lines as being important as a consideration for casting a vote for a candidate. Either the candidate is fearless, pro-American, a firm believer in the right of the individual citizen, the rights of local state governments over the octopus which is the federal government, the rights of this Republic over some super world organization, the preservation of the federal bill of rights and a constant running fight against all Marxian thinkers from leftwingers right through Socialist on into a battle against the Communist conspiracy, or he isn't.

There is absolutely no middle ground in this battle for the preservation of the Republic. Either one stands on the original concepts of American government and the constitution, or he doesn't.

Unfortunately, in the National Capitol, there are those who don't.

They do not care about any "original concepts" or the Constitution. Forces working both as regards personal gain and gain for an ideology are in positions of the highest influence. Even the President himself has stated that it is indeed lawful to admit Socialists to the government even though it is well known that their concepts include not one single one in similarity with the concepts of the Constitution.

Just who is running the administration? Is it the President who is in Washington some 42% of the time? Who issues the edicts coming from the White House, edicts which are today directly responsible for the three ring circus in the Senate, a humiliation which is more than just a "hearing," being actually a test of the power of the Senate. Who is the guiding hand behind the foreign policy which decrees that the United States must continue to tie itself tighter with plans for eventual integration of the United States in a world superstate?

Who is responsible for the continuation of a policy which decrees that America's real allies in the Orient are to be hogtied and bound by defensive operations when they should be given arms and equipment as offensively armed nations? Who is in the government guiding the hand of the President when he condemns "book burning," a statement obviously handed to him? Who issued the idea that Communists were not to be a political argument in the next election, a statement as foolishly obvious as the existence of the threat itself?

Who issued the idea that the 25,000 Communists in the nation are not a cause of worry? Who is the guiding light in government which decrees that a constant and running fight with Senators McCarthy, Jenner and McCarran is to be held? It should be obvious to all that these three are more than mere personalities, they are standard bearers in the fight against subversion. Who is it then, that decrees the fight by these three brave and patriotic Americans be continued?

In past weeks this newspaper has carefully analyzed in this column the curious force entitled the "Republican Advance." It described the shadowy bankers and powerful New York figures involved. The question is simply this; do the combined efforts of several people both in New York and in Washington constitute an invisible government wielding great influence, and able to hold up investigation of subversion? On this Sunday morning, the people of this city, who are patriotic Americans, owe it to themselves to carefully consider that there is such dangerous influence being exerted.

Who pulls the strings of the confused, memory lacking marionette which is the Army Secretary? Who controls the State Department?

Think, Americans, on your thoughts greatly depends the future of the nation.

Union—United In Progress

Union parish. A community of people in union for the betterment of their parish as a whole to incorporate higher living standards as well as economic value.

Possessing a wealth of natural resources, such as oil, gas, timber, excellent farm land and other necessities, this northeast Louisiana parish has shown in each year since its founding, in 1839, a forward stride toward the era of 1954.

Bounded on the north by the state of Arkansas, on the east by Morehouse parish, on the south by Ouachita and Lincoln parishes, and west by Claiborne parish, Union parish sits in a strategic part of northeast Louisiana. Her situation in the community of parishes, as well as the state of Arkansas, has made her development of natural resources a joint measure with that of her neighbors. In each instance, such as the natural gas boom and the oil boom, Union parish has never taken a back seat, but has been a leader.

To distinguish Union parish as a leader, one only needs to visit the parish seat and other adjacent communities. In Farmerville, the parish seat, many modern educational facilities are visible, one of the most modern banks in the state of Louisiana is located in the town, as well as other developments to point to progress.

The mayor of Farmerville has also brought state-wide attention to his municipality by being named Mayor of the Year. Mayor R. L. Turnage has been the "father" of many progressive steps which Farmerville has made.

In Bernice, Marion, Downsville and other points in the parish the picture closely resembles that of Farmerville on a smaller scale. Each community has well kept churches, stores, schools of the parish system, and other projects benefiting the community as a whole.

Union parish is united in a force for the progress of her people.

The Y. M. C. A.

In the Twin Cities today, there is an effort to establish a Young Men's Christian Association. If ever such an organization was needed at anytime, this one certainly falls under that category.

The work of the "Y" is a well known and established fact all over the world. Its service to youth and to older men wherever it is located is and has always been excellent. Started years ago in the slums of London, England, the YMCA organization came to the U. S. just prior to the War for States Rights (sometimes erroneously referred to as the "Civil War") and since then it has spread to nearly every city in the Republic.

Now, there will soon be a fund raising and membership "roundup" to add to the growing list, even more new members.

In the month of May, the "Roundup Riders, Straw Bosses and Ranch Hands" will be approaching many citizens in both Monroe and West Monroe. They will ask you to join the Twin Cities YMCA and it is hoped that you will give these people your undivided attention and consideration. The influence of a Young Men's Christian Association in the Twin Cities would indeed be an excellent thing in these days and times.

Support your Twin Cities' YMCA.

The Right To Work Bill

In the state legislature soon to convene, there will be an important piece of legislation up for consideration. That legislation's passage is vital to the best interests of the people of the state of Louisiana. It merely gives the average American, citizen of this state, the right to work without first having to belong to a union.

It is a small, state version of the Taft-Hartley act. It has received the denunciation of the various union leaders in the state and will come under heavy fire as the time for its consideration comes up.

It is inconceivable that an individual American, supposedly possessed of God given rights, should have to belong to any type organization union or management before his position or job can be guaranteed. Should the workers not have a choice as to whether or not they want to come under the protection (as it is termed) of a union? Must there be written force used to insure the growth of the unions? Can the unions not grow by the stint of their very own accomplishments, ability and earnest work?

There is no necessity in attacking a union or a segment of the management in this affair as there is certainly no threat implied by the proposed legislation. If the unions can keep growing under their own steam without the help of laws legislated in their behalf which leaves the realm of fair play, then, more power to the unions. However, the right to work legislation merely makes certain that fair play will be instituted.

Every citizen in the state owes it to himself and the welfare of Louisiana to read the legislation pending and give it careful consideration.

Jenkins Versus Kefauver?

The election soon to come up in the state of Tennessee will be an easy one for Estes Kefauver unless he has some qualified opposition. It was Kefauver, the left wing, ADA operative who stormed his way through the nation carrying on a regular medicine show designed to scare the gangsters or perhaps, to add to his own personal prestige.

In any event, the former was not accomplished while the latter was most certainly an accomplished act.

The man nearly went to the Democrat nomination on his questionable laurels. Since then, his voice has been heard throughout the nation in dispute with the idea of more investigative committees.

Apparently, the Senator (wearer of the Coonskin cap) would prefer to see local and national gangsters, bookies and slot operators caught than he would the international murderous conspiracy of Communist gangsters. At least, that is what Kefauver implies.

Fortunately for the state of Tennessee, there has arisen a new figure. He is Ray Jenkins the man who is doing a marvelous and fair job of acting as counsel for the subcommittee on investigations which is presently holding hearings on the Pentagon-McCarthy affair. Mr. Jenkins has demonstrated for all to see that he is as fair as fair can be and is possessed of keen intellect.

That, right there, is more than enough to qualify him for the office of Senator from his state in preference to Estes Kefauver. It is hoped that Mr. Jenkins will see fit to seriously consider the nomination of his party and go on to campaign against the present holder of the Senate seat.

The Senate needs more men such as Mr. Jenkins.

Your editorial in the News-Star of April 28th is a powerful plea to the American people to be alerted and can only be helpful to America. It is real journalism at its best.

Shocking State Of Affairs

Ruston, La.

Editor, Monroe World:

A truly shocking state of affairs is indicated by your Sunday editorial on the McCarthy - Stevens probe in McCarthy's Senate subcommittee. Can it be that the three major news services of the U. S. would have the nerve to disagree with His Almighty? What could they know about him and his actions? After all, they only see him once or so each day. Their chance to observe him is limited to personal contact, while you have the advantage of hearsay and the reports of other equally radical newspapers.

Here's hoping that your predictions about this affair being the eventual ruination of this power in the Senate is absolutely and completely true. And quickly so!

DAVID W. GARNETT.

(Editor's Note: The reader is in error. This newspaper, at great expense, is in constant contact with the national capitol, it maintains its own correspondent, Mr. Timmons in the capitol and is in contact with various members of both the Senate and the Congress. It deals in factual information and never in hearsay. It has sources of information not available at present to the three major wire services.)

Service Stations Need Union

Monroe, La.

Editor, Monroe World:

Here is what Monroe needs most. That is a service station union. Did you know that they are working men seven days per week 12 hours per day for $40 per week, a total of 84 hours per week?

I watch your TV program and I have been reading your paper for some years.

Take note that this $40 per week, 84 hour week is what they have been paying for quite a few years now.

I was drawing unemployment compensation and they tried to get me to take a job that was paying less money than I had been making. This was disgusting me so I appealed for a hearing but got no results. I filed for this hearing a second time and have not heard anything definite yet.

Service stations are being built on every street and close together. Take note also from the new bridge out Highway 80 going west, how many service stations there are.

I read your Public Forum column every week and I notice you print letters even though they sometimes criticize your paper. That is to be congratulated. I am not writing in criticism of your paper.

I want the people of Louisiana to know what has happened to me because of not having a right to work law. I was employed by the construction department of a pipe company. My section did nothing but install sprinkler systems for fire prevention. I enjoyed my work and the company was satisfied with my work. This company has plenty of work but I was laid off, because the Union refused to allow me to join. To me it seems impossible that a union can say you can or cannot work. I was actually refused the right to work. I was refused the right that every American is supposed to have, because the local in Washington said there were too many apprentices for the amount of fitters they had.

What will happen to your sons and daughters when they finish school and start looking for work? In all probability, they will not be allowed to work because the employment situation is getting more critical each day and more and more people will be refused work in the profession of their choice because the unions will not accept new members.

I am a veteran of both WW II and of the Korean Conflict. Do you think that I or anyone else should be denied the right of working and supporting his family because of a Union? The Right to Work Bill will change this situation. I sincerely hope the people of Louisiana will get behind this bill and see that it is passed for the good of everyone.

Chiropractors; To Be Or Not To Be

Editor, Morning World,

I have just received a copy of your publication in which I read with amusement the letter signed by Jack T. Jackson, M. D. I was amused at the abysmal void in the writer's knowledge in the science of chiropractic.

Medical technics change with the styles. Medically, there was a time when appendicitis was a popular excuse for expensive surgery. Appendicitis is now out of date in the more modern medical circles and is practiced only by the old fogeys in the medical profession and upon the educated retarded and get-rich-quick types. This reference to out dated medical practices is used to illustrate the point that medicine 's changing only in its technics but not in he premises upon which the practice has been developed. Nature's laws, those under which we live and without which there would be no life, do not change. There is no science outside of truth. Medicine includes a conglomerate of grotesque beliefs in diseases, cures, and the magic of chemicals. It is time that the people wake up to the absurdity of the situation and open up the fields for democratic procedures in health research as well as in other fields of human service, instead of permitting medicine to continue its closed monopoly on the health of the nation, denying through laws, the advantages that would accrue to the people of the world if the principle of free enterprise were followed in the field of health service. Free enterprise, established by the Constitution of the U. S., has permitted the unequal growth in popularity of the science of chiropractic in spite of every obstacle organized medicine could devise by which they hope to destroy it as an accepted science. Now, it is the final strategy for medicine to claim that chiropractic is "medicine" and appropriate it for their use without being detected in an attempt to steal and merge it into medicine without public observation.

The chiropractors in Louisiana know that they are not practicing medicine and are not violating the medical practice laws of the state. The records of the land show that a few chiropractors do violate their professional ethics and the laws of decency by performing criminal abortion, while many medical doctors lead the parade of abortionists. That only proves that each profession is just a cross section of the people, and does not involve the scientific issues.

Louisiana is fortunate in having newspapers and editors who will publish opinions on both sides of such important issues as human health, both public and private. The people of the state of Louisiana are entitled to all of the scientific advances in the health field, medical, non - medical, religious or otherwise.

About This Robbing Old-Age Pensioners

Ruston, La.

Editor, Monroe Morning World:

The proponent of the drive to take the sales tax money from the old-age pensioners is no other than Senator B. H. Rogers of Grand Cane, La., which answers a question that is being asked all over the state of Louisiana.

What Sen. Rogers proposes to do when the State Legislature convenes is to have the Welfare Board to handle their old people the way the Eskimos handle theirs: take them out on the ice and leave them.

Senator Rogers has two ideas about changes in the old-age pensions and neither will stand inspection. First, he states that these old people should give the state a lien on their property if they become eligible for this pension. Why? The state of Louisiana pays not one — penny on these pensions; they are paid by the two cent sales tax which was established for this purpose. The senator is trying to put the state of Louisiana in the real estate business with fraudulent property.

The senator also states that it is a basic law of God for children to take care of their parents. Listen, Senator, that's what these relatives are doing now: they are paying this sales tax to take care of their fathers and mothers and you have enough money in the treasury to pension every one of them over 65. None of your gang has mentioned cutting the sales tax.

Something else Sen. Rogers don't seem to realize. Many conscientious mothers and fathers would rather be dead than to be a personal burden to their relatives. History of the old countries enlighten us to the fact that they began paying their old people a pension a century ago. Senator Rogers is leading us backward toward heathenism, not toward civilization.

Communism In Our Schools?

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Monroe Morning World:

I have spent the major part of my 73 years in life in studying and trying to solve the many problems that confront us in our modern life. The farther along we go, the more complex and puzzling these problems become. I often wonder if the American people as a whole are lacking in the ability to look into the future and envision the outcome of the more important things that confront us. There are always an ulterior to every plan, theory, and line of philosophy. All of them have their motives, bearings, inclusives and exclusives so arranged to reach their objective goal; both public and private.

In divining any problem, I first look for the motive that inspires, and the cause that detracts. I have seen thousands of brilliant young men and women return from college as ignorant in public politics as a cotton patch Negro. What is the cause for this deficiency? The answer is, lack of proper coaching. The cause for this neglect of culture are due to the fact that most of our modern schools have become so infiltrated with heretical theories that disqualify rather than qualify. I lay the blame for this infiltration at the doors of the patrons of the schools as well as the faculties. If the patrons in each school district would come together and work as hard to eliminate these subversive teachings from the schools as Senator McCarthy is working to weed commies out of government jobs; they would soon pretty well straighten things out. I contend that every high school and every college should establish a curriculum of modern politics and teach every young man and woman the dogmas and tenets of every kind of cracy and ism appertaining to the ruling powers. Whom they benefit and whom they injure and enslave. Then instead of our boys and girls coming home from school half shod, they will come back home robust minded and will know better how to vote and who to vote for, and what to vote for.

In this letter I shall not make any outline or explanation of any cracys or isms except that if anybody wishes to know what life is like under communism, if they will get in their automobile and drive along the highways through Angola, or Parchman, Miss., and view the hordes of convicts surrounded by armed guards ready to shoot anyone who might attempt to jump the lines, then they will have a perfect picture of life under communtsm. Some critics will say, "through prejudice old Morgan is exaggerating," but if you will consider yourself in this position, "I am not permitted to own anything I must do whatever I am ordered to do or die," then you will not be so ready to criticize sound advice. The communist recognize nothing but force: the concepts of advanced civilization, the knowledge of God, and religion, are deemed fanatical, fantastical, and false philosophies, and should we fall into the realm of communism, we would be in the same predicament as those unfortunate convicts.

The State Legislature

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

If you go to Baton Rouge in the capacity of a legislator with an idea in mind to satisfy all groups, you will be mistaken. It can't be done. There are strong pressure groups that will want special grants. The problem is to find a way to raise the money to finance all divisions without levying extra taxes. The people of Louisiana are burdened with enough taxes now. There are reports that the finances are being depleted, yet the requests for more money still come in. There is going to be some effort on the part of the legislature to pass some kind of a labor law. It is the opinion of many that labor has too much power and this power should be withdrawn. This would bring on a "hot" fight between labor and industrialism. It should be kept in mind that labor is well organized. The future of the legislators' positions is at stake. This presents another problem.

Those concerned with education are asking for state assistance. I am of the opinion that if waste and extravagance was eliminated in the school systems, we would have plenty of money.

Another problem in this session of the legislature is the stock law. There are many opposed to it and many for it. There will be a big rush to get this bill passed. The more the bill is discussed, the more unpopular it will become to the people. So it would seem the best thing to do is to get it voted in quickly. I have noticed that none of the legislators have advocated a change in the law, paying more on old age pensions. Salaries for every other group in the state have been increased. The cost of living is rising, but no rise in old age compensations. . . .

These are questions that should be considered carefully by every member of the Legislature. The people will watch the outcome of this session more closely than before.

Philosophers Of Progressive Education

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I wish to ask your permission to rewrite a part of an editorial that appeared in the Sunday, April 2nd, Morning World. Which I appraise as the best Editorial that I have read in many months. I wish to rewrite this part coincidental with an appendix of my own ideas, which are as follows, "One has to realize that there is most certainly a determined effort to ruin the morals of this Republic. The United States was built as a nation of families. The core of its moral fiber was centered around its family life. Today that family life is a "victim of the times." Young American school children are actually taught to disregard the teachings of their parents. They are taught by printed pamphlets issued by "UNESCO" and others that their parents are incapable of keeping up with "modern trends" and are "prophets of false nationalism." The "progressive education" philosophers also regard the parents as fit for the furnaces of the never-world.

Marriage today is merely a supposition; —. Forgotten are the commandments of god—. More of them are broken every day by youngsters who are deliberately instructed to forget the commandment "Honor thy father and thy mother." — If the youngsters are taught to break the commandments of God, what does the future hold for the United States? — There is no necessity to "moralize"—only a necessity to face the truth of the present situation. Either this nation returns to the mores and folkways which made it great, or it will follow the same path of other nations and empires which were destroyed because of their inner debasement."

Please let me call your attention to the "philosophers of progressive education." We all know the theory and spirit that inspires the philosophy of "progressive education." It has been found after many years of research and investigations that this subversive teachings are prevalent in all of our schools, even to the highest "universities." The federal courts has repeatedly ruled that socialism and communism are subversives, and are crimes against the security, peace, and dignity of the United States. Many culprits, beginning with Eugene V. Debbs and Kate O'Hara, socialists, were sent to jail as early as 1918, and within the last decade many commies has been sent to jail and two to the electric chair.

I contend that if subversive politics are crimes against the Federal Government they are also crimes against the state governments, and every state should have an anti-Communist law written in their statutes. I further contend that not only those who were convicted are guilty, but everyone who subscribes to socialism and communism are equally guilty and should likewise be sent to jail. The Louisiana legislature will meet Monday, May 10th, I think that every loyal citizen in Louisiana should be prepared to urge the legislature to enact a rigid anti-socialist and anti-communist law, and let's get in behind those stinkers and send every one we can find to the penitentiary. And also to enact a law to prohibit the publication, sale, distribution, and possession of subversive literature. This act would be necessary, because there are several publishing houses in New York city that have tracts, pamphlets and books of every kind teaching communism which can be obtained by simply ordering them through the U. S. mails.

Some people argue "Oh, teach it to them and then they will know it," but I propose to teach my children myself, I sure don't want Malenkov to teach them. Solomon said, "Bring your child up in the way you will have him to go and when he is old he will not depart from it," so—then I think its best to teach them myself. I don't see any sense or humanity in allowing your boy to be taught communism until he is grown; and then stand him up and shoot him for advocating what he has been taught all his life. Communism is a one way line of thought, a one way philosophy that holds no incentive for expansion or improvement, because no one is allowed to own anything: everything belongs to everybody. If the world were enveloped in communism it would soon retrograde to tribalism, because everyone would sit down and depend upon nature for existence just like the ancient tribes did.

National Music Week Proclaimed

The mayors of Monroe and West Monroe, in keeping with a nation-wide program, have proclaimed this week as National Music Week in the Twin Cities.

Mayors J. Allen Norris of West Monroe and John Coon of Monroe signed a proclamation proclaming this week as music week and asking residents of the Twin Cities to "make every effort to participate in some phase of music, and do urge our citizens to plan suitable events to mark this auspicious occasion."

Mrs. J. Norman Coon, an officer of the Music Guild of Monroe, said of National Music Week:

"In many communities, including ours, special observances in honor of this occasion are being readied—events like mass band exhibitions, parades, school music assemblies, concerts and other types of musical programs.

"We are in favor of such wide recognition of National Music Week because it seems that music gives us far more than we realize and much which we take for granted.

"In this H-bomb era of fear and insecurity, and with the desperately fast pace of modern living, music can be likened to an oasis — a place where we may tarry and refresh ourselves — before jumping back into our individual maelstrom of activity.

"Although to many music represents a livelihood, to millions of Americans it represents relaxation, recreation, a hobby, or as we see it — an avenue toward a richer, fuller life.

"For this reason, we are proud to join with citizens in this community and throughout the nation in a salute to National Music Week."

Tornado Warnings Issued For Texas And Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 1—UP—The weather bureau issued a tornado alert at 2 p. m. Saturday for two areas of southern Oklahoma. The warnings said:

"There is a possibility of tornadoes in two separate areas of southern Oklahoma tonight. The first area is from a line from Erick to Coalgate, southward to the Texas border, from now until 7:30 p. m. the second area is from a line from Hugo to Heavener, southeastward to the state line from 3 p. m. to 10 p. m."

The weather bureau at Amon Carter Field, in the Fort Worth-Dallas area, issued a somewhat similar warning at 2 p. m. It said:

"A possibility of tornadoes exists along a 50-mile area on either side of Wichita Falls, Tex., to 70 miles southeast of McAlester, Okla., beginning at 3 p. m., on the west end to 11 p. m. on the eastern end."

Strawberry Crop Late, And Prices May Be Reduced

HAMMOND, La., —UP— An LSU extension official said Saturday that this year's late strawberry crop, coupled with lower prices and rising costs, may force some farmers to shift to other crops if weather conditions do not improve.

The strawberry crop should go to market between March 15 and April 15, said W. F. Wilson, superintendent of the Louisiana State University fruit and truck experiment station near here.

But he said cold weather and frost delayed marketing this season.

He said he expects the season's average to be below $4 a crate in the multi-million-dollar industry which is spread through Tangipahoa, St. Tammany, Livingston, St. Helena, Ascension and Washington parishes.

Farmers received $5.53 a crate last year and an average of $6.02 the previous year.

Among other factors listed by Wilson as hurting the strawberry industry in this area were:

Strawberry Crop Late, And Prices May Be Reduced

HAMMOND, La., —UP— An LSU extension official said Saturday that this year's late strawberry crop, coupled with lower prices and rising costs, may force some farmers to shift to other crops if weather conditions do not improve.

The strawberry crop should go to market between March 15 and April 15, said W. F. Wilson, superintendent of the Louisiana State University fruit and truck experiment station near here.

But he said cold weather and frost delayed marketing this season.

He said he expects the season's average to be below $4 a crate in the multi-million-dollar industry which is spread through Tangipahoa, St. Tammany, Livingston, St. Helena, Ascension and Washington parishes.

Farmers received $5.53 a crate last year and an average of $6.02 the previous year.

Among other factors listed by Wilson as hurting the strawberry industry in this area were:

State Police Report

Five of the 20 arrests made during the past week by members of the Louisiana state police were charged with drunk driving, according to a report issued from troop headquarters Friday. The report also listed persons charged with reckless driving, no driver's license, speeding, no chauffeur's license, fraudulent use of driver's license, disregarding traffic tickets and overheight load.

Charged with drunk driving were: Will Taylor, Jr., 46, Negro, 1012 Ouachita avenue, Monroe; John B. Haisty, 44, Route 3, West Monroe; Walter C. Moulder, 24, Route 1, Epps; and Henry W. Borseh, 46, 1500 Alabama street, Monroe.

Jim Jenkins, 31, Negro, 3504 Hassell street, Monroe, was charged with drunk driving and causing an accident.

Other offenses and those charged:

Reckless driving: Moses J. Pittman, 28, Springhill; Curtis E. Adcock, 18, Route 2, Winnsboro; and Clarence M. Rayburn, 45, Wisner.

National Music Week Proclaimed

The mayors of Monroe and West Monroe, in keeping with a nationwide program, have proclaimed this week as National Music Week in the Twin Cities.

Mayors J. Allen Norris of West Monroe and John Coon of Monroe signed a proclamation proclaming this week as music week and asking residents of the Twin Cities to "make every effort to participate in some phase of music, and do urge our citizens to plan suitable events to mark this auspicious occasion."

Mrs. J. Norman Coon, an officer of the Music Guild of Monroe, said of National Music Week:

"In many communities, including ours, special observances in honor of this occasion are being readied —events like mass band exhibitions, parades, school music assemblies, concerts and other types of musical programs.

"We are in favor of such wide recognition of National Music Week because it seems that music gives us far more than we realize and much which we take for granted.

"In this H-bomb era of fear and insecurity, and with the desperately fast pace of modern living, music can be likened to an oasis — a place where we may tarry and refresh ourselves — before jumping back into our individual maelstrom of activity.

"Although to many music represents a livelihood, to millions of Americans it represents relaxation, recreation, a hobby, or as we see it — an avenue toward a richer, fuller life.

"For this reason, we are proud to join with citizens in this community and throughout the nation in a salute to National Music Week."

An Humble Man

Senator Haley Attributes Success To Aged Mother

BY YVONNE BRETT
(State Editor)

KILBOURNE, May 1—A humble man, who attributes what success he might have gained in his 55 years of life to an aged mother who "patched my trousers and cared for me," is the state senator from West Carroll and Morehouse parishes.

At present, Senator Allen Haley, who can speak softly but when aroused to what he classifies as "my stubborn streak and bull headness," can express himself in no uncertain terms, is preparing to attend the regular session of the legislature which convenes in Baton Rouge next week.

Allen Haley's story follows a familiar pattern of the American way of life. Proud of a humble beginning, today he expresses his pride with equal enthusiasm for the basic and fundamental things to which he was born and which he has never left.

Sitting on the front porch of a home which is typical of those found throughout the rural sections of northeast Louisiana Sen. Haley recounted his life as his two aged parents, both 80-years-old, sat by and listened.

On the 9th of August, 1899, Allen Haley, was born in West Carroll parish near the home where he resides today with his family. The present Haley home was built in 1901 by the senator's father and is a four-room frame dwelling.

The senator from the 29th judicial district went only to the seventh grade in school. He explained "we had no higher education in the neighborhood, so I had to go to work." Sen. Haley is co-chairman of the education committee of the Senate and he laughs when he speaks of his committee standing, declaring "all the others are highly educated men, but I couldn't go any further in school. I'm a self-educated man and I know what it means."

Standing well over six feet tall, Sen. Haley is thin and when he grins the few remaining teeth are visible. He is a bachelor, but states "that can easily be explained. I never found a crazy woman who wasn't in an institution. Those that were smart were smart enough to know better than to marry me and those that were good looking enough always had a better chance. That's the reason I'm a bachelor today."

In his lifetime Sen. Haley has done "a little bit of everything." He writes insurance, runs a gin, farms and engages in politics. Before his election to the senate he served as a police juror from Ward five of West Carroll parish for three terms and had been elected to this fourth term when he resigned to run for Senator.

Asked why he decided to run for the unexpired term of Sen. Kennedy, who died while in office, Haley stated "we hadn't had a senator from West Carroll for years. I'm not no politician, but I guess something just got in my blood."

"Mama was away in Arkansas and I ran away from all my friends to qualify for the race," Haley said, emphasizing that he was the only politician in the family.

Mrs. Haley said that had she known her son was going to run for senator she would have tried to stop him. "I didn't want him to get into politics, she said, it can be a dirty mess."

When I campaigned, Haley said, I told the people that I was just a "poor, country boy," and I made no promises I couldn't keep, promising only to try and help the people of Morehouse and West Carroll parishes.

Records of the vote cast in the race in West Carroll parish showed that Sen. Haley polled 85 per cent of the entire vote in the parish. This is said to be the highest percentage ever received by a candidate.

Sen. Haley said that he is primarily interested in roads, education and old age pension benefits in connection with the bills to be presented in the May session of the legislature. "I'm going to fight for the rights of the old people who receive the old age pension, he said, because both my Mama and Daddy receive it and they are mighty proud to get it in their old days."

The senator from the 29th judicial district is the eldest of five children. He has two brothers and two sisters and is the only child living with the parents.

Two years ago Haley started work on a new home for his parents, but since the day he qualified for the senatorial race no work has been done on the house. "I got into politics and I ran out of money," he said.

Many stories are told on Senator Haley as to his non-concern about his dress and the fact that when he makes up his mind to do something he usually "sits it out until it's done."

The tale concerning dress originated when Sen. Haley was sworn into office by Lt. Gov. Barham. A group of friends went to the Haley home, about three miles outside of Kilbourne, and the senator was dressed in work clothes. He stated that he didn't really have time to go to Baton Rouge, but was persuaded to do so.

Upon arriving in Baton Rouge suitable attire was bought, but the senator wasn't impressed, he only said "I've got to hurry up and get back home."

The "sitting" tale goes back to the days when he was a police juror. Tellers of the tale state that Haley went and sat on the governor's desk and told him that "I'm not going to move until you do something." Aid, as the story goes, was given to the parish for their road system, but Haley says that the tale wasn't really as bad as it sounded. "I just don't like to sit in chairs. I like to sit on the floor or stand, he said, and I guess when I get to the legislature they will just have to put up with me not sitting in a chair, but on a desk and in other places."

The final opinion expressed by the tall man, who calls himself just a "poor, country boy" was to duplicate his first expression that "all I am is because of my mother. I'm going to live with Mama and take care of her all of her life, she has always taken care of me."

It takes ten years to develop a new apple variety from a seed to a producing tree.

Murder Suspect Is Denied Bail

CAMDEN, Ark., —UP— Circuit Judge Gus Jones Friday denied bail for a man accused of fatally shooting a North Little Rock man last April 14.

M. L. Turner had asked for the bail at a habeas corpus hearing. He is charged in the death of Lloyd R. Squire, 52, at the apartment of Turner's divorced wife.

Turner testified at the hearing that he and Squire had argued over Mrs. Turner's treatment of their child, and that in a scuffle his pistol went off accidentally.

His trial will be held May 10.

Library Board Named By East Carroll Jury

LAKE PROVIDENCE, May 1 (Special)—The East Carroll Parish Police Jury has named the following to serve as members of the parish library board: Mrs. C. M. Pogue, one year; Mrs. Casper Lensing, two years; Mrs. Jarritt Collins, three years; Mrs. Keener Howard, four years, and W. B. Ragland, Jr., five years.

George Bishop, police jury president, is an ex-officio member.

In June a demonstration bookmobile library will begin operation in the parish. It will be on a trial basis and the police jury has contributed some $10,000 for the expense. If continued, the maintenance fund will have to be raised by property tax, on vote of the people, or through a local sales tax.

In the organization of the library board, Ragland, local attorney, was named president; Mrs. Howard, vice president; Mrs. Lensing, treasurer, and the parish librarian, yet to be named, will serve as secretary.

Joe Robert Brown Given Party; Will Get Ph. D. Degree

The dinner was in recognition of the fact that at the coming commencement in Louisiana State University he will receive his doctor of philosophy degree.

Gov. Cherry To Campaign On 1 Issue, He Says

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., —UP— Gov. Francis Cherry says he does not consider his proposed 100 per cent property tax assessment amendment an issue in the coming campaign.

Cherry told newsmen at a press conference Friday that he sees only one issue in the gubernatorial campaign in July: "the issue of whether the people want to go back to the type of government we had."

That would mean, the governor said, a return of the government to "professional" politicians.

Cherry returned to Arkansas yesterday from Washington where he attended a meeting of governors and White House officials.

Oil Dealers To Oppose Hike In Gasoline Tax

ALEXANDRIA, —UP— Grant and Rapides parish oil dealers set a second meeting for May 6 to oppose any increase in the state gasoline tax.

Earl F. Roshto of Esso Standard Oil Company, the chairman of the two-parish petroleum industries committee, said that all service station operators, wholesalers and jobbers are asked to attend the meeting.

"Our people are being taxed close to the breaking point," said Roshto. "Our earning power is endangered by too many taxes now. Our highway system is a lot better off financially than our taxpayers."

There have been reports that an attempt would be made to restore the two cents a gallon tax cut off the state gasoline tax at the last legislaure session at the forthcoming one in May.

A group of friends went to the Haley home, about three miles outside of Kilbourne, and the senator was dressed in work clothes. He stated that he didn't really have time to go to Baton Rouge, but was persuaded to do so.

Upon arriving in Baton Rouge suitable attire was bought, but the senator wasn't impressed, he only said "I've got to hurry up and get back home."

The "sitting" tale goes back to the days when he was a police juror. Tellers of the tale state that Haley went and sat on the governor's desk and told him that "I'm not going to move until you do something." Aid, as the story goes, was given to the parish for their road system, but Haley says that the tale wasn't really as bad as it sounded. "I just don't like to sit in chairs. I like to sit on the floor or stand, he said, and I guess when I get to the legislature they will just have to put up with me not sitting in a chair, but on a desk and in other places."

The final opinion expressed by the tall man, who calls himself just a "poor, country boy" was to duplicate his first expression that "all I am is because of my mother. I'm going to live with Mama and take care of her all of her life, she has always taken care of me."

It takes ten years to develop a new apple variety from a seed to a producing tree.

Murder Suspect Is Denied Bail

CAMDEN, Ark., —UP— Circuit Judge Gus Jones Friday denied bail for a man accused of fatally shooting a North Little Rock man last April 14.

M. L. Turner had asked for the bail at a habeas corpus hearing. He is charged in the death of Lloyd R. Squire, 52, at the apartment of Turner's divorced wife.

Turner testified at the hearing that he and Squire had argued over Mrs. Turner's treatment of their child, and that in a scuffle his pistol went off accidentally. His trial will be held May 10.

If continued, the maintenance fund will have to be raised by property tax, on vote of the people, or through a local sales tax.

In the organization of the library board, Ragland, local attorney, was named president; Mrs. Howard, vice president; Mrs. Lensing, treasurer, and the parish librarian, yet to be named, will serve as secretary.

Gov. Cherry To Campaign On 1 Issue, He Says

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., —UP— Gov. Francis Cherry says he does not consider his proposed 100 per cent property tax assessment amendment an issue in the coming campaign.

Cherry told newsmen at a press conference Friday that he sees only one issue in the gubernatorial campaign in July: "the issue of whether the people want to go back to the type of government we had."

That would mean, the governor said, a return of the government to "professional" politicians.

Cherry returned to Arkansas yesterday from Washington where he attended a meeting of governors and White House officials.

Oil Dealers To Oppose Hike In Gasoline Tax

ALEXANDRIA, —UP— Grant and Rapides parish oil dealers set a second meeting for May 6 to oppose any increase in the state gasoline tax.

Earl F. Roshto of Esso Standard Oil Company, the chairman of the two-parish petroleum industries committee, said that all service station operators, wholesalers and jobbers are asked to attend the meeting.

"Our people are being taxed close to the breaking point," said Roshto. "Our earning power is endangered by too many taxes now. Our highway system is a lot better off financially than our taxpayers."

There have been reports that an attempt would be made to restore the two cents a gallon tax cut off the state gasoline tax at the last legislaure session at the forthcoming one in May.

Madison Parish Incendiaries Using Assassination Of Huey P. Long As Terror Threat Against Landowners

TALLULAH, La., —UP— Death such as befell Louisiana's governor and senator, Huey P. Long, has been threatened to persons in the North Louisiana hunting grounds, the Madison Parish sheriff's office said.

Violence over hunting rights of the two parishes came to a head this week when a group of irate hunters threatened to add human death to their wreckage.

The sheriff's office revealed that a letter threatening more violence stated that if persons did not believe the threats to kill, they should "try it." The letter said "Mr. Long was killed with his guards around him."

Long, best known politician in Louisiana history, was assassinated in 1935 by a victim of his own autocracy, Dr. Carl A. Weiss. He was completely surrounded by guards at the time in the Louisiana tower and capitol building that he built.

The violence in parishes of Madison and Tensas along the Mississippi River came to a head Tuesday with posting of the threatening letters after a prize bull valued at $750 was killed and five hunting cabins and a barn were burned.

The burnings started early in April but the sheriff's office said they were not suspected as arson until the threatening letter was received.

The letter, printed in pencil, was left in the mailbox of John Orvey, prominent Louisiana and Texas oil and cattleman and head of the State Mineral Board. It was his bull that was killed with a shotgun blast in the back. A carbon copy of the letter was left at the home of Hall Allen, former tax assessor here.

The letter said in part: "We are taxpayers of this state and we are going to hunt the game we pay our money to be protected. We were not allowed to hunt in these two parishes due to your hunting clubs so we organized a club of our own. We have burned a few clubs and killed a few cows to give you a sample of our work.

"If we don't get to hunt, we'll burn every club house and barn and kill every cow you have. And if any man tries to stop us, we'll kill him and burn his home. . . If you don't believe us, try it. Mr. Long was killed with his guards around him."

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission said that although much of the land was posted for "no hunting" due to private clubs and farm and livestock lands, there was still plenty of open land in the area for free hunting. The parishes have the greatest concentration of deer in the state and have considerable marshes and swamplands which provide excellent hunting grounds.

Reds Active Around World On May Day; U. S. Holds Anti-Red Parades

By UNITED PRESS

Americans in New York, Brooklyn and tiny Burlington, Wis., held their own anti-Communist version of the May Day celebration Saturday in answer to the traditional observances throughout the Communist world.

In Burlington, church bells beckoned townfolk to religious services to start a daylong celebration called "May Day, U. S. Way." The observance was designed to take May Day away from the Communists and celebrate it as a tribute to the U. S. constitution and the bill of rights.

In Moscow, 5,000 air miles from Burlington, a giant, four-jet transcontinental bomber roared over Red Square for its official unveiling and provided the major surprise of the Red celebration.

The village, decked in Red, White and Blue bunting, was jammed by a crowd of from 20,000 to 30,000 persons. Wisconsin's two senators, Alexander Wiley and Communist - hunting Joseph McCarthy, reviewed a parade of 70 floats, 27 marching units, 30 bands and a total of 5,000 marchers.

At Geneva, Switzerland, the Plenary session of the Far East Conference was cancelled to permit the Communist delegations to participate in their May Day observances.

But the noisiest demonstration was in Tokyo, where marchers screamed, "Yanks go home," and protested the American hydrogen bomb tests and Japanese rearmament.

At Peiping in Communist China, the Communist radio reported that the 21 renegade Americans who refused repatriation from Korea proposed toasts to May Day.

Traffic Safety Check Lanes Are Ready For Action

Chamber of Commerce traffic committee officials, aided by personnel of carpenter local 1811, completed the safety check lanes Saturday morning and now have "everything in readiness for the checks beginning Monday," Harry Frazer, chairman of the committee announced Saturday. The check lanes will be in operation through Friday.

"The lanes will open at 7 a.m. in order that early motorists will have an opportunity to utilize the safety check inspections," Chairman Frazer said.

Chamber authorities revealed that the over-all hours of the lanes would be from 7 until 11 a.m., and from 2 through 6 p.m.

"We invite motorists over the week end to drive by the lanes and see what we've done towards getting ready for opening day Monday," H. M. James, check lane chairman stated, "and we want to assure the public that we welcome them to these lanes during the five day inspection period."

Mayor John E. Coon has proclaimed the week of May 3-7 as "safety - check week" in Monroe and an official proclamation has been drawn up and signed by all city officials.

The project sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, Look Magazine, National Safety Council and the Inter - Highway Safety committee places Monroe - West Monroe in the national spotlight vieing with 25 other cities for the National Safety Award.

"Our lanes are located," James said, "on the 1100 block of Jackson street; the 900 block of Louisville avenue and on Montgomery avenue in West Monroe in the vicinity of Steele Lumber Company."

Chamber officials urge all motorists to strive and enter the lanes nearest their normal routes to and from work, in order, that ordinary traffic patterns will not be snarled.

"The traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce expects to check in the neighborhood of 4000 automobiles during the five-day period," O. N. McNeil liason member of the group said, "this means, of course, that we are planning on a streamline operation that will not require more than 3 to 3½ minutes on each automobile."

A very enthusiastic meeting of the 18 mechanics representing the new car franchise dealers association was held Friday afternoon at an informal buffet supper, where "briefing exercises" on the ten major points to be checked by the officials.

"Our major prize to be awarded at the conclusion of Monday's check lane operations," special events Chairman B. P. Graham said, "will be announced in the morning edition of the News-Star—World and also on radio and TV."

The lucky winner of the major award will be requested to identify himself at the Chamber of Commerce offices, prior to receiving the award.

The master grand prize, a 21-inch television set, will be awarded by the TV committee of the chamber of commerce at the conclusion of the checklane operations on Saturday, May 8th.

Automobiles that do not pass the 10 point safety check will not receive safety stickers, officials stated, but they will be qualified to compete for the minor prizes that will be awarded to automobiles during their stay in the check lanes

"We will award 46 minor prizes," Graham said, "and all a motorist has to do to qualify to win one of these is to go through the check lane and have his auto checked."

West Monroe Policemen Get Special Schooling

By PAUL JASPER
Staff Writer

Several members of the West Monroe police department, in accordance with a plan to enlarge and improve on the protection of West Monroe citizens, are now attending an 18-week training school course at Northeast Louisiana College.

Mayor J. Allen Norris said this week several officers have already completed the course — the L. S. U in-service police training school—and that plans are eventually to have every officer on the force graduate the course. Some of them are taking it now, and others will begin taking it when they complete the course, he said.

According to Mayor Norris, the training course is only one of the ways in which the department is trying to better itself.

During the past several months, the size of the department has been increased from 15 to 18 with the addition of three women who relieve trained officers for enforcement duty while handling the clerical work.

The police force members have also received two raises, which has added to police department morale, and they have received better equipment with which to do their work.

One addition is a traffic safety car for the department's traffic educational program — a program highly concentrated on by Police Chief Jeff Caldwell. The department has also stressed stricter enforcement of traffic ordinances and engineering improvements, such as the new traffic light system at the foot of the new traffic bridge.

A modern criminal investigative and identification bureau has been established within the department with the latest equipment. Present plans call for increasing the equipment in this department, and the purchasing of additional police equipment as funds are available, the mayor said.

Mrs. Newman has been teaching special Saturday morning classes at Northeast State for two years. She currently is associated with the Lake Providence school system and is considered an outstanding instructor.

Her fine experiences in the education field add to her qualifications to assist in the training of young people who plan to make teaching a profession, Dean Smith said.

Marie Johnson Still Traveling Recovery Road

EPPS, May 1 (Special)—Each day is a better day for Marie Johnson, who is showing marked improvement as each day passes.

A year will have passed when July 2nd rolls around this year since Marie was brought home from the Charity Hospital in New Orleans. Marie's return home was made possible through the joint efforts of hundreds of people in northeast Louisiana who provided money to buy the young girl an iron lung.

Marie left the confines of the iron lung about four or five months after arriving home. Since that time she has not been back in the lung, but the instrument is kept at the house so that if the emergency arrives the lung will be available.

Today the Marie that one finds is an entirely different young girl from the one she was nearly a year ago. At that time her situation was recounted in detail.

Marie now is a happy youngster taking an interest in all that surrounds and makes her life. She visits neighbors in a wheel chair, she reads, looks at television and is attempting to learn to walk.

Four teachers from the Epps High School are, each week, taking turns to teach Marie four high school subjects so that she can receive her diploma in August. She is taking history, math, English and a business course and is very excited about graduation.

Marie has every hope of regaining her health and being a normal girl.

Doctors still shake their heads as to her amazing recovery and offer no explanation. All state that the diagnosis they made of her illness when she was in various hospitals has not changed.

Costello Wore Pajamas Costing $100 Per Pair; Paid Maids $10 A Week

NEW YORK —UP— Gambler Frank Costello wore monogrammed pajamas costing $100 a pair while paying maids who worked in his household as little as $12 a week, witnesses testified in federal court Friday.

John C. McCaffery, business manager of a Fifth Avenue haberdashery firm testified that Mrs. Costello purchased six undershirts at $8.50 each and six pairs of drawers at $6.50. She had them monogrammed for Costello, the witness said, and her bill came to $90.90.

McCaffery said Costello also wore the "French model" monogrammed pajamas costing $100.15 and in 1949 purchased two pairs of the pajamas as a Christmas gift for Phil Kastel, manager of his New Orleans enterprises.

In 1949, Costello paid $61.61 for four pairs of "Sulka model" drawers, complete with monogram and $60.60 for four undershirts, the witness said.

Earlier, three women testified that they were housemaids for the Costellos at various times from 1937 through 1949. The first said she started at $10 a week and quit in 1949 at $40. The second started in 1942 at $12 and in 1948 was getting $30, when she left. The third stayed from 1948 to 1949 and received about $35 a week, she said.

Templeton, 42, was dead when authorities arrived. He was found about half out of the car with one foot on the ground.

Sheriff R. H. Stevens said lightning struck a power pole as Templeton was driving home and the lines fell across his car. When he attempted to step out of the car he grounded the charge and was electrocuted, Stevens said.

The car caught fire and burned while officers were waiting for the power to be cut off. They could not touch his body which was burned.

Marie Johnson Still Traveling Recovery Road

EPPS, May 1 (Special)—Each day is a better day for Marie Johnson, who is showing marked improvement as each day passes.

A year will have passed when July 2nd rolls around this year since Marie was brought home from the Charity Hospital in New Orleans. Marie's return home was made possible through the joint efforts of hundreds of people in northeast Louisiana who provided money to buy the young girl an iron lung.

Marie left the confines of the iron lung about four or five months after arriving home. Since that time she has not been back in the lung, but the instrument is kept at the house so that if the emergency arrives the lung will be available.

Today the Marie that one finds is an entirely different young girl from the one she was nearly a year ago. At that time her situation was recounted in detail.

Marie now is a happy youngster taking an interest in all that surrounds and makes her life. She visits neighbors in a wheel chair, she reads, looks at television and is attempting to learn to walk.

Four teachers from the Epps High School are, each week, taking turns to teach Marie four high school subjects so that she can receive her diploma in August. She is taking history, math, English and a business course and is very excited about graduation.

Marie has every hope of regaining her health and being a normal girl.

Doctors still shake their heads as to her amazing recovery and offer no explanation. All state that the diagnosis they made of her illness when she was in various hospitals has not changed.

Costello Wore Pajamas Costing $100 Per Pair; Paid Maids $10 A Week

NEW YORK —UP— Gambler Frank Costello wore monogrammed pajamas costing $100 a pair while paying maids who worked in his household as little as $12 a week, witnesses testified in federal court Friday.

John C. McCaffery, business manager of a Fifth Avenue haberdashery firm testified that Mrs. Costello purchased six undershirts at $8.50 each and six pairs of drawers at $6.50. She had them monogrammed for Costello, the witness said, and her bill came to $90.90.

McCaffery said Costello also wore the "French model" monogrammed pajamas costing $100.15 and in 1949 purchased two pairs of the pajamas as a Christmas gift for Phil Kastel, manager of his New Orleans enterprises.

In 1949, Costello paid $61.61 for four pairs of "Sulka model" drawers, complete with monogram and $60.60 for four undershirts, the witness said.

Earlier, three women testified that they were housemaids for the Costellos at various times from 1937 through 1949. The first said she started at $10 a week and quit in 1949 at $40. The second started in 1942 at $12 and in 1948 was getting $30, when she left. The third stayed from 1948 to 1949 and received about $35 a week, she said.

Evans Nominated As Commander Of 31st Division

JACKSON, Miss., May 1 (AP) —Col. Leslie L. Evans of Canton was nominated to succeed Maj. Gen. A. G. Paxton as commanding general of the 31st Infantry Division of the Mississippi National Guard.

Colonel Evans is a veteran of World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict.

While in Korea, he won the Silver Star for regrouping the division and counter-attacking, turning a riot into a victory.

Sports Whip Millers, Take First Place

Paul Martin
Looks 'Em Over

First impressions don't always count, but, after one look at the Twin Cities Sports under official fire, we believe Manager Ed Head has some talent that's going to make strong races in individual department records for Cotton States League season records this year.

The control trouble Billy Halley had during his brief appearance the other night put the Sports in an awful hole for a while, but Halley is capable of coming through, and we liked the way Sports fought back to overcome El Dorado's 8-3 lead to win out in the end.

We're already sold on catcher Sam Chetta. He looks better behind the plate than the catching we had a year ago, and his bat has more power, but we've just got to see the rest a little more even if Bobby Norden at first base, Dave Waters at third and "Buddy" Martin at second, have already loomed large in helping the Sports to two out of the first three games with some lusty hitting, and outfielders C. J. Fontana, Don Grzesick, Paul Flores and Chuck Forbes, and shortstop Herman Herzog have our confidence.

Through the three-game El Dorado series, Waters led Sports batting with a .467 average. Chetta hit for .417. Norden showed .364, and Martin and Herzog had .333 apiece. The team average for the three games was .283 against a .243 mark for an El Dorado club that was favored to finish in the first four with Meridian, Pine Bluff and Greenville. Personally, we picked the Sports instead of the Oilers to share the top four spots with the other three.

The pitching hasn't had enough work to determine just how good it might or might not be, but before another week is out, and Meridian and Pine Bluff have faced the Sports, the mound corps of Halley, Sam Adkisson, Miles McWilliams, Nick Agnos, Paul Aube and Russell Faulk, who underwent fire against El Dorado, will have had the experience of facing a pair of their strongest rivals.

Monroe has seen better opening night crowds than the 2,207 who turned out for the home opener Thursday night, but if that many more are at Legion Memorial Stadium when the Sports come home Tuesday night, and anything like that figure continues to make its weight felt, the season can't fail to be a success for the Twin Cities.

Four Softball Leagues Begin Play This Week

Monroe's summer softball program gets its start this week with four leagues in action. Recreation director Jack Hesketh last night announced opening games for the City League, two Church leagues, and the Civic Club League.

But before the Civic circuit appears in the first games Tuesday, the City League, considered the "major" loop on the recreation department's program, will hold a final meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center. Hesketh said it is necessary that all City League managers be present at the meeting.

The schedule of games this week:

Civic Club League

Tuesday—Exchange Club vs. Jaycees, 8 p.m., Barkdull Faulk; West Monroe Lions vs. Progressive Men, 8 p.m., West Monroe.

Wednesday—Veterans of Foreign Wars vs. North Monroe Lions, 8 p.m., Barkdull Faulk.

City League

Thursday — Three-Way Finance vs. News-Star, 8 p.m., Barkdull Faulk; Foremost Dairies vs. United Gas, 8 p.m., Sherrouse.

Church 'B' League

Meridian Beaten In Series Opener By 4 To 3 Count

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 1 (AP) — Monroe took over first place in the Cotton States League tonight by edging Meridian 4-3.

Monroe scored three runs in the fifth inning to tie the game at 3-3. Two of the runs came when Meridian pitcher Roy Jayne dropped the ball while covering at first with the bases loaded.

Meridian got its first two runs in the second inning on four walks and a double by Beans Giordanendo. The third run came in the third inning on two walks and a single by Moose Shetler.

Imbros Takes First Money In Kyne 'Cap

SAN MATEO, Calif., May 1 (AP)—Imbros led from wire to wire today to win the $100,000 William P. Kyne Handicap at Bay Meadows race track before a record crowd of 26,155.

Imbros' owner Andrew Crevolin and trainer Willie Molter, who earlier today accounted for the Kentucky Derby with Determine, became the first owner-trainer team to ever win two $100,000 races in the same day.

Imbros went to the post the favorite at 7-5 and Fleet Bird was the second choice at 8-5, Trusting ran third.

HAMMOND, La., May 1 (Special)—The Northeast State College Indians split a Gulf States Conference baseball doubleheader here today with the Southeastern Louisiana College nine, losing the first, 5-4; and winning the nightcap, 8-3.

The first game was a heartbreaker for freshman hurler Joe Jordan, who pitched all the way for the Indians. Two gopher balls to Chimento and Bell, the latter good for two runs, and an infield error cost the Tribe dearly.

Bo Laird, another Northeast freshman, was the winning moundsman in the second encounter, in which the Tribe overcame a three-run deficit in the sixth, to tally five markers, adding three more in the seventh for good measure.

Gerald Hare and J. B. Nolan were the leading stickmen for the Indians in the nightcap, with two-for-three and two-for-four respectively. Jordan, pinchhitting in the big sixth, rapped a bases-loaded single to keep the rally moving.

Two errors, hits by Hare, Jordan and Nolan, plus two walks accounted for all five runs.

In the next frame, Nolan led off with a single, Harold Davis beat out a perfect bunt, and Laird followed suit to load the sacks. Mark Boatright came through with a two-run single, and Tommy Leos squeezed in the third marker of the inning.

Carruthers Puts His Title On Line In Contest Today

BANGKOK, Sunday May 2 (AP)—This ancient capital seethed with excitement over tonight's 12-round world bantamweight title fight in which Chamrern Songkitrat, the pride of Thailand, seeks to wrest the crown from Australian Jimmy Carruthers.

The little Australian, whose kangaroo wallop has cooled 11 opponents in 19 professional bouts, goes into the ring against a rugged Bangkok police graduate of the free-kicking, ear-pulling, eye-gouging Thai style of fighting.

The fight starts between 8 and 8:30 p.m. (7-7:30 a.m., CST) and will be broadcast in English on shortwave radio (25 meters).

It will be fought under Marquis of Queensbury rules but limited to 12 rounds. If it wasn't the heat it might have been humidity that forced the bobtailed bout. Temperatures hovered around 100 degrees on final training days and both fighters waited to work out until the comparative cool of evening. In any event, the American and European rules requiring title fights to go 15 rounds do not apply here.

Gigantic Scores Upset Victory In Race At Belmont

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—Joe W. Brown's Gigantic, so lightly held by his New Orleans sportsman owner that he wasn't nominated for any of the three-year-old classics, scored a startling upset victory in annexing the Swift Stakes at Belmont Park today before a crowd of 36,862.

The 3-year-old son of Challedon-Dorothy B., last in the winner circle in taking the Louisiana Derby at the New Orleans Fair Grounds, got up in a hard drive to defeat Wheatley stable's Quick Lunch by a nose. The seven furlongs was run in the slow time of 1:25 1-5 on a fast track.

Third money went to William H. Perry's Remand, who finished a length back. John Barry Ryan's Buttevant was fourth another length and a half astern.

Middlecoff Leads By Three Strokes In Frisco Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1 (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the one-time Memphis dentist, shot a 2-under-par 70 today for a 36-hole total of 139 to retain his lead in the $10,000 San Francisco Open Invitational Golf Tournament.

After a long drive, he had a fine iron that came close to hitting the pin on the 425-yard finishing hole. He lined up the putt and the ball rimmed the cup before dropping.

His two sub-par tours gave Middlecoff a 3-stroke lead over his closest rival, Shelley Mayfield, Chicopee, Mass. Mayfield tacked up a 2-under-par 70 to stay in the chase with a total of 142.

While Middlecoff was attracting the big gallery, a small-time grocery store proprietor and amateur golfer named Lido Landi gave old man par his worst beating.

Landi, 26, who runs his store at nearby Sharp's Park, set a new competitive course record with a 33-32—65. Lido, a squatty little fellow, had eight birdies and one bogie.

Robbins In Fine Finish To Claim Southern Crown

ATHENS, Ga., May 1 (AP)—Slender Hillman Robbins of Memphis State, in the greatest comeback in this tournament's history, won the Southern Intercollegiate Golf Championship today with a sensational final round of 66—six under par.

The quiet, soft-spoken Robbins put together rounds of 71-70-72-66—279 over the 6,544-yard, rain-soaked Athens Country Club Course Palmer had 69-69-70-72—280. Par is 36-36—72.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

First impressions don't always count, but, after one look at the Twin Cities Sports under official fire, we believe Manager Ed Head has some talent that's going to make strong races in individual departments for Cotton States League season records this year.

The control trouble Billy Halley had during his brief appearance the other night put the Sports in an awful hole for a while, but Halley is capable of coming through, and we liked the way Sports fought back to overcome El Dorado's 8-3 lead to win out in the end.

We're already sold on catcher Sam Chetta. He looks better behind the plate than the catching we had a year ago, and his bat has more power, but we've just got to see the rest a little more even if Bobby Norden at first base, Dave Waters at third and "Buddy" Martin at second, have already loomed large in helping the Sports to two out of the first three games with some lusty hitting, and outfielders C. J. Fontana, Don Grzesiek, Paul Flores and Chuck Forbes, and shortstop Herman Herzog have our confidence.

Through the three-game El Dorado series, Waters led Sports batting with a .467 average. Chetta hit for .417. Norden showed .364, and Martin and Herzog had .333 apiece. The team average for the three games was .283 against a .243 mark for an El Dorado club that was favored to finish in the first four with Meridian, Pine Bluff and Greenville. Personally, we picked the Sports instead of the Oilers to share the top four spots with the other three.

The pitching hasn't had enough work to determine just how good it might or might not be, but before another week is out, and Meridian and Pine Bluff have faced the Sports, the mound corps of Halley, Sam Adkisson, Miles McWilliams, Nick Agnos, Paul Aube and Russell Faulk, who underwent fire against El Dorado, will have had the experience of facing a pair of their strongest rivals.

Monroe has seen better opening night crowds than the 2,207 who turned out for the home opener Thursday night, but if that many more are at Legion Memorial Stadium when the Sports come home Tuesday night, and anything like that figure continues to make its weight felt, the season can't fail to be a success for the Twin Cities.

Four Softball Leagues Begin Play This Week

Monroe's summer softball program gets its start this week with four leagues in action. Recreation director Jack Hesketh last night announced opening games for the City League, two Church leagues, and the Civic Club League.

But before the Civic circuit appears in the first games Tuesday, the City League, considered the "major" loop on the recreation department's program, will hold a final meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center. Hesketh said it is necessary that all City League managers be present at the meeting.

The schedule of games this week:

HAMMOND, La., May 1 (Special)—The Northeast State College Indians split a Gulf States Conference baseball doubleheader here today with the Southeastern Louisiana College nine, losing the first, 5-4; and winning the nightcap, 8-3.

The first game was a heartbreaker for freshman hurler Joe Jordan, who pitched all the way for the Indians. Two gopher balls to Chimento and Bell, the latter good for two runs, and an infield error cost the Tribe dearly.

Bo Laird, another Northeast freshman, was the winning moundsman in the second encounter, in which the Tribe overcame a three-run deficit in the sixth, to tally five markers, adding three more in the seventh for good measure.

Gerald Hare and J. B. Nolan were the leading stickmen for the Indians in the nightcap, with two-for-three and two-for-four respectively. Jordan, pinchhitting in the big sixth, rapped a bases-loaded single to keep the rally moving.

Two errors, hits by Hare, Jordan and Nolan, plus two walks accounted for all five runs.

In the next frame, Nolan led off with a single, Harold Davis beat out a perfect bunt, and Laird followed suit to load the sacks. Mark Boatright came through with a two-run single, and Tommy Leos squeezed in the third marker of the inning.

BANGKOK, Sunday May 2 (AP)—This ancient capital seethed with excitement over tonight's 12-round world bantamweight title fight in which Chamrern Songkitrat, the pride of Thailand, seeks to wrest the crown from Australian Jimmy Carruthers.

The little Australian, whose kangaroo wallop has cooled 11 opponents in 19 professional bouts, goes into the ring against a rugged Bangkok police graduate of the free-kicking, ear-pulling, eye-gouging Thai style of fighting.

The fight starts between 8 and 8:30 p.m. (7-7:30 a.m., CST) and will be broadcast in English on shortwave radio (25 meters).

It will be fought under Marquis of Queensbury rules but limited to 12 rounds. If it wasn't the heat it might have been humidity that forced the bobtailed bout. Temperatures hovered around 100 degrees on final training days and both fighters waited to work out until the comparative cool of evening. In any event, the American and European rules requiring title fights to go 15 rounds do not apply here.

Batteries were Carroll and Helner, Mer Rouge; T. Barham, K. Colson and B. Day, Oak Ridge.

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—Joe W. Brown's Gigantic, so lightly held by his New Orleans sportsman owner that he wasn't nominated for any of the three-year-old classics, scored a startling upset victory in annexing the Swift Stakes at Belmont Park today before a crowd of 36,862.

The 3-year-old son of Challedon-Dorothy B., last in the winner circle in taking the Louisiana Derby at the New Orleans Fair Grounds, got up in a hard drive to defeat Wheatley stable's Quick Lunch by a nose. The seven furlongs was run in the slow time of 1:25 1-5 on a fast track.

Third money went to William H. Perry's Remand, who finished a length back. John Barry Ryan's Buttevant was fourth another length and a half astern.

Byrd's Spikemen Capture State's Double-A Crown

Middlecoff Leads By Three Strokes In Frisco Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1 (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the one-time Memphis dentist, shot a 2-under-par 70 today for a 36-hole total of 139 to retain his lead in the $10,000 San Francisco Open Invitational Golf Tournament.

After a long drive, he had a fine iron that came close to hitting the pin on the 425-yard finishing hole. He lined up the putt and the ball rimmed the cup before dropping.

His two sub-par tours gave Middlecoff a three-stroke lead over his closest rival, Shelley Mayfield, Chicopee, Mass. Mayfield teed up a 2-under-par 70 to keep up in the chase with a total of 142.

While Middlecoff was attracting the big gallery, a small-time grocery store proprietor and amateur golfer named Lido Landi gave old man par his most beating today.

Landi, 26, who runs his store at nearby Sharp's Park, set a new competitive course record with a 33-32—65. Lido, a squatty little fellow, had eight birdies and one bogie.

Robbins In Fine Finish To Claim Southern Crown

ATHENS, Ga., May 1 (AP)—Slender Hillman Robbins of Memphis State in the greatest comeback in this tournament's history, won the Southern Intercollegiate Golf Championship today with a sensational final round of 66—six under par.

The quiet, soft-spoken Robbins put together rounds of 71-70-72-66—279 over the 6,544-yard, rain-soaked Athens Country Club course. Palmer had 69-69-70-72—280. Par is 36-36—72.

Three Schools To Be Submitted For SWC Membership

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)—Texas Tech, Oklahoma and probably University of Houston will be submitted for membership in the Southwest Conference at the spring meeting in Waco May 14, 15.

Texas Tech, long an applicant for a place in the league, and Oklahoma, which at one time indicated it would like to be in the conference, were placed on the agenda for the meeting of the faculty committee, governing body of the conference.

University of Texas submitted a proposal for expansion and the way it was submitted indicated Texas would ask for a vote first on Texas Tech then a vote on both Tech and Oklahoma, obviously the latter to be a double-barreled proposal only if the first should fail.

Conference executive secretary Howard Grubbs said the agenda also would carry the line "consideration of any additional proposals for expansion."

Grubbs would not reveal what if any school wanted the latter on the agenda but it was reported that Baylor, staunch backer of University of Houston, while preparing to vote for Texas Tech, also wanted University of Houston submitted. Houston had been seeking admission to the conference since 1948 when the first official vote was made on Texas Tech's application.

Tech and Oklahoma were turned down last spring at a meeting in Fort Worth when they were submitted together. Each got three votes—Texas, Texas Christian and Texas A & M. Tech needs two more in order to get into the conference. Should Baylor come over Texas, A & M and TCU stay with Tech, only one vote would be needed. It has been variously reported that Arkansas would then go with the majority, thus giving Tech a place in the conference.

Texas Tech officials expressed delight over prospects of the school being voted upon separately. They have claimed that when Tech was submitted at the same time as some other school it hurt their chances.

George Curtis To Test Wolf Man In Mat Main

A three-bout wrestling card is slated for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, with George Curtis returning to take on the Alaska Wolf Man in the best of three falls, 90-minute time limit feature; Indian Chief Apache wrestles Paddy Mack in a one-fall, 30-minute time limit semi-final; and Bill Barney meets Danny Dusek in the one-fall opener, with a 30-minute limit.

First intimation that Oklahoma might want in the league came last winter when a representative of the regents came to Dallas and "explored" the possibility of entering the conference. Nothing came of it at that meeting.

Loy Scarborough will referee the two preliminaries, but in all likelihood, Barney will handle the feature.

The younger Curtis, who has not appeared here for many weeks, must be regarded as the underdog in his match with the Wolf, for the latter defeated brother Jack, generally rated as a more skillful and experienced grappler, in the feature bout last week.

The vicious, snarling Wolf, who slam-bangs into everyone, will be a rough opponent for George, who must win in order to uphold the family's honor.

Mack has alternated in using illegal and clean tactics in his many matches here, but he has always proved a highly-skilled mat technician. In fact, he has only been on the losing end of one match here, and teamed with the Chief to beat "Big Boy" Cronin and the Wolf in a tag match some weeks ago.

The Indian, always a highly popular crowd-pleaser at the Arena, may, for the first time, meet an opponent who is more skilled in Wrestling than in "dirty work."

Barney, the only Arena wrestler to hold a win over Mack, is also in for a rugged battle. Dusek, who easily defeated big Charro Aztec, is as husky and strong as they come, and usually wrestles more with muscular force than with villainy. Their match should be a clean tussle, unless Dusek becomes peeved at Bill's popularity with the fans.

Hoad Over Rose In Aussie Net Return

SYDNEY, May 1 (AP)—Australia's Davis Cup star Lewis Hoad made a happy return to big time tennis today when he beat Mervyn Rose in straight sets in an interstate match.

Playing his first serious tennis since he was called into the army for national training last January, Hoad won 11-9, 6-3, 6-3.

In another match Ken Rosewall—who like Hoad was playing for New South Wales—defeated Victorian Rex Hartwig 2-6, 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 9-7.

Hasty Road Runs 2nd, Hasseyampa Comes Home 3rd

By JOHN CHANDLER

LOUISVILLE, May 1 (AP)—Determine, a little package of dynamite from California, became the first gray horse in history to win the Kentucky Derby as he caught the front-running Hasty Road about a sixteenth of a mile from home today in the 80th running of America's horse race classic.

With a wildly screaming throng of 100,000 watching the $124,100 thriller, jockey Ray York put his pint-sized colt ahead of the 16 other 3-year-olds to drag down the richest purse since the Derby was inaugurated in 1875.

To owner Andy Crevolin, Alhambra, Calif., automobile dealer, went a $102,050 jackpot — $4,000 more than Count Turf earned by the 1951 Derby. Hasseyampa finished third.

This afternoon's race, with humid, muggy 80 degree weather laying a haze over ancient Churchill Downs, was sweet revenge for Determine. Four days ago in the Derby trial, Hasty Road beat Determine by a head as the Hasty House Farm's speedster broke the track record for a mile with a 1:35 clocking.

It seemed then that if California was to gather any Derby laurels this year, it would have to be up to Robert S. Lytle's Correlation, for Determine seemed a tired little rascal after chasing Hasty Road last Tuesday.

Correlation, owned by a Los Angeles oil man, was not in the trial, having won the Wood Memorial last Saturday in New York. Previously he had won the Florida Derby, so the crowd made him the 3-1 favorite this afternoon. Correlation, however, wasn't up to it on the dusty Down's racing strip, as he finished sixth.

A year ago when the great Native Dancer failed by a head to win the mile and a quarter race in Dark Star's upset victory, they shook their heads. If the Dancer couldn't, then no grey horse can possibly do the job.

But determined little Determine, who had won the Santa Anita Derby and five other stakes in California before flying here to lose Tuesday, showed them that this business of picking derby winners is no cinch.

York, in winning his first derby after finishing fourth on Phil D in 1951 and fifth on Arroz, another California-owned horse in 1952, gave Determine a confident ride and came under the wire a length and a half ahead of Hasty Road, greatest money-winning 2-year-old in history with earnings of $277,132. Hasty Road is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben of Toledo, O.

Hasty Road, who led from the start of the gruelling run, wound up two and a half lengths ahead of the third horse, Hasseyampa, owned by the Walmac Farm of R. W. McIlvain, Chicago and Lexington, Ky.

In fourth place, another two and a half lengths back, was Goyamo, whose co-owner, Royce G. Martin, Toledo, died in a Lexington hospital a few minutes after the race was run today. Martin suffered a heart attack yesterday. His Woodvale Farm and Mrs. Alton Jones owned Goyamo jointly.

The Crevolin ace bounced home in 2:03 compared with Whirlaway's derby and track record of 2:01 2-5 set in 1941. Determine paid $10.60, $5.60 and $4.80. Hasty Road, fourth choice at 5-1 and also an entry with stablemate Sea O'Erin, returned $6.80 and $5.60. Hasseyampa, a 25-1 shot was $12 to show.

York, 22 - year - old native of Gloucester, Mass., oddly enough won his first race in California, at Pleasanton, July 4, 1949, but he saved his real celebration for this great victory.

York came into the jockey's room with tears in his eyes, happy tears, in part for his 10 per cent share of the purse is over $10,000.

"I met my wife and she kissed me and she started crying and then I busted out too," he explained. Mrs. Crevolin, wife of the owner, was crying in the winner's circle as the presentation was made.

"The horse ran well, and at the final eighth pole, when I looked around, I knew I had the race." York continued. He said he had some trouble with the jam at the start, but soon went around horses and "got going pretty good."

Determine is not California-bred but was foaled at Forest Retreat farm, near Carlisle, Ky., April 7, 1951. He was sold by his breeder, Dr. Leslie Asbury, to Crevolin for $12,000 at the Lexington sales. Determine's daddy is Alibhai, who was bred by the Aga Khan. The dam is Koubis, and Determine was her first foal.

Crevolin said he tried several names for the colt, and all were rejected by the Jockey Club registrar. He told his wife:

"I am sure this will be a good colt and I am determined to get a good name for him." She replied:

"If you are so determined, why not call him Determine?"

He was.

Determine, who won only two stakes last year and $26,435, really has been collecting the folding green in 1954. His win today shot his 1954 total to $259,800, and his lifetime figure to $286,235.

Tribe Routs Yanks, 10-2, To Sweep 2-Game Series

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians swept their two-game set with the New York Yankees by whipping the champions, 10-2, today. A ladies day crowd of 27,325 of which 20,938 paid saw Early Wynn hold the Bombers to six hits. This was the ninth time in fourteen games that the Yanks had been stopped with six or fewer hits.

The Yankees took a one-run lead in the first inning and then were sandbagged. Cleveland batted around for five runs in the third and scored four more in the fifth. Bad fielding by the New Yorkers marred each rally.

A quartet of second-line pitchers were devoured by the Indians' batters, with shortstop George Strickland leading the attack. The usually light-hitting infielder drove a double and two singles and batted in three runs.

Wynn had a four-hitter for eight innings. Two of those came in the first when Jerry Coleman doubled and Berra singled for a run. The other Yankee score came in the ninth when Bob Cerv hit a homer.

Sauer's Bat Big Factor In Cubs' Win Over Giants

CHICAGO, May 1 (AP)—Hank Sauer homered and doubled to account for three runs today in leading the Chicago Cubs to a 4-3 victory over the New York Giants. Johnny Klippstein registered his first triumph after two losses with a scattered six hit chore.

Sauer brought a Wrigley field paid crowd of 12,192 to its feet in the fourth inning by parking the ball into the right field bleachers. Ralph Kiner, who had beaten out a surprise bunt, scored ahead of him and boosted the Cubs into a 2-1 lead.

Sauer's fifth homer was the 23rd for the Cubs in 11 games and contributed to the first runs off 36-year-old Marv Grissom in 16 innings.

Hoyt Wilhelm, who went to the mound in the eighth with the score tied 3-3 after a pinch hitter had been used for Grissom, was charged with the defeat.

Three Schools To Be Submitted For SWC Membership

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)—Texas Tech, Oklahoma and probably University of Houston will be submitted for membership in the Southwest Conference at the spring meeting in Waco May 14, 15.

Texas Tech, long an applicant for a place in the league, and Oklahoma, which at one time indicated it would like to be in the conference, were placed on the agenda for the meeting of the faculty committee, governing body of the conference.

University of Texas submitted a proposal for expansion and the way it was submitted indicated Texas would ask for a vote first on Texas Tech then a vote on both Tech and Oklahoma, obviously the latter to be a double-barreled proposal only if the first should fail.

Conference executive secretary Howard Grubbs said the agenda also would carry the line "consideration of any additional proposals for expansion."

Grubbs would not reveal what if any school wanted the latter on the agenda but it was reported that Baylor, staunch backer of University of Houston, while preparing to vote for Texas Tech, also wanted University of Houston submitted. Houston had been seeking admission to the conference since 1948 when the first official vote was made on Texas Tech's application.

Tech and Oklahoma were turned down last spring at a meeting in Fort Worth when they were submitted together. Each got three votes—Texas, Texas Christian and Texas A & M. Tech needs two more in order to get into the conference. Should Baylor come over Texas, A & M and TCU stay with Tech, only one vote would be needed. It has been variously reported that Arkansas would then go with the majority, thus giving Tech a place in the conference.

First intimation that Oklahoma might want in the league came last winter when a representative of the regents came to Dallas and "explored" the possibility of entering the conference. Nothing came of it at that meeting.

Texas Tech officials expressed delight over prospects of the school being voted upon separately. They have claimed that when Tech was submitted at the same time as some other school it hurt their chances.

George Curtis To Test Wolf Man In Mat Main

A three-bout wrestling card is slated for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, with George Curtis returning to take on the Alaska Wolf Man in the best of three falls, 90-minute time limit feature; Indian Chief Apache wrestles Paddy Mack in a one-fall, 30-minute time limit semi-final; and Bill Barney meets Danny Dusek in the one-fall opener, with a 30-minute limit.

Loy Scarborough will referee the two preliminaries, but in all likelihood, Barney will handle the feature.

The younger Curtis, who has not appeared here for many weeks, must be regarded as the underdog in his match with the Wolf, for the latter defeated brother Jack, generally rated as a more skillful and experienced grappler, in the feature bout last week.

The vicious, snarling Wolf, who slam-bangs into everyone, will be a rough opponent for George, who must win in order to uphold the family's honor.

Mack has alternated in using illegal and clean tactics in his many matches here, but he has always proved a highly-skilled mat technician. In fact, he has only been on the losing end of one match here, and teamed with the Chief to beat "Big Boy" Cronin and the Wolf in a tag match some weeks ago.

The Indian, always a highly popular crowd-pleaser at the Arena, may, for the first time, meet an opponent who is more skilled in Wrestling than in "dirty work."

Barney, the only Arena wrestler to hold a win over Mack, is also in for a rugged battle. Dusek, who easily defeated big Charro Aztec, is as husky and strong as they come, and usually wrestles more with muscular force than with villainy. Their match should be a clean tussle, unless Dusek becomes peeved at Bill's popularity with the fans.

Hoad Over Rose In Aussie Net Return

SYDNEY, May 1 (AP)—Australia's Davis Cup star Lewis Hoad made a happy return to big time tennis today when he beat Mervyn Rose in straight sets in an interstate match.

Playing his first serious tennis since he was called into the army for national training last January, Hoad won 11-9, 6-3, 6-3.

In another match Ken Rosewall—who like Hoad was playing for New South Wales—defeated Victorian Rex Hartwig 2-6, 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 9-7.

By JOHN CHANDLER

LOUISVILLE, May 1 (AP)—Determine, a little package of dynamite from California, became the first gray horse in history to win the Kentucky Derby as he caught the front-running Hasty Road about a sixteenth of a mile from home today in the 80th running of America's horse race classic.

With a wildly screaming throng of 100,000 watrhing the $124,100 thriller, jockey Ray York put his pint-sized colt ahead of the 16 other 3-year-olds to drag down the richest purse since the Derby was inaugurated in 1875.

To owner Andy Crevolin, Alhambra, Calif., automobile dealer, went a $102,050 jackpot — $4,000 more than Count Turf earned by the 1951 Derby. Hasseyampa finished third.

This afternoon's race, with humid, muggy 80 degree weather laying a haze over ancient Churchill Downs, was sweet revenge for Determine. Four days ago in the Derby trial, Hasty Road beat Determine by a head as the Hasty House Farm's speedster broke the track record for a mile with a 1:35 clocking.

It seemed then that if California was to gather any Derby laurels this year, it would have to be up to Robert S. Lytle's Correlation, for Determine seemed a tired little rascal after chasing Hasty Road last Tuesday.

Correlation, owned by a Los Angeles oil man, was not in the trial, having won the Wood Memorial last Saturday in New York. Previously he had won the Florida Derby, so the crowd made him the 3-1 favorite this afternoon. Correlation, however, wasn't up to it on the dusty Down's racing strip, as he finished sixth.

A year ago when the great Native Dancer failed by a head to win the mile and a quarter race in Dark Star's upset victory, they shook their heads. If the Dancer couldn't, then no grey horse can possibly do the job.

But determined little Determine, who had won the Santa Anta Derby and five other stakes in California before flying here to lose Tuesday, showed them that this business of picking derby winners is no cinch.

York, in winning his first derby after finishing fourth on Phil D in 1951 and fifth on Arroz, another California-owned horse in 1952, gave Determine a confident ride and came under the wire a length and a half ahead of Hasty Road, greatest money-winning 2-year-old in history with earnings of $277,132. Hasty Road is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben of Toledo, O.

Hasty Road, who led from the start of the gruelling run, wound up two and a half lengths ahead of the third horse, Hasseyampa, owned by the Walmac Farm of R. W. McIlvain, Chicago and Lexington, Ky.

In fourth place, another two and a half lengths back, was Goyamo, whose co-owner, Royce G. Martin, Toledo, died in a Lexington hospital a few minutes after the race was run today. Martin suffered a heart attack yesterday. His Woodvale Farm and Mrs. Alton Jones owned Goyamo jointly.

The Crevolin ace bounced home in 2:03 compared with Whirlaway's derby and track record of 2:01 2-5 set in 1941. Determine paid $10.60, $5.60 and $4.80. Hasty Road, fourth choice at 5-1 and also an entry with stablemate Sea O'Erin, returned $6.80 and $5.60. Hasseyampa, a 25-1 shot was $12 to show.

York, 22 - year - old native of Gloucester, Mass., oddly enough won his first race in California, at Pleasanton, July 4, 1949, but he saved his real celebration for this great victory.

York came into the jockey's room with tears in his eyes, happy tears, in part for his 10 per cent share of the purse is over $10,000.

"I met my wife and she kissed me and she started crying and then I busted out too," he explained. Mrs. Crevolin, wife of the owner, was crying in the winner's circle as the presentation was made.

"The horse ran well, and at the final eighth pole, when I looked around, I knew I had the race," York continued. He said he had some trouble with the jam at the start, but soon went around horses and "got going pretty good."

Determine is not California-bred but was foaled at Forest Retreat farm, near Carlisle, Ky., April 7, 1951. He was sold by his breeder, Dr. Leslie Asbury, to Crevolin for $12,000 at the Lexington sales. Determine's daddy is Alibhai, who was bred by the Aga Khan. The dam is Koubis, and Determine was her first foal.

Crevolin said he tried several names for the colt, and all were rejected by the Jockey Club registrar. He told his wife:

"I am sure this will be a good colt and I am determined to get a good name for him." She replied: "If you are so determined, why not call him Determine?"

He was.

Determine, who won only two stakes last year and $26,435, really has been collecting the folding green in 1954. His win today shot his 1954 total to $259,800, and his lifetime figure to $286,235.

Tribe Routs Yanks, 10-2, To Sweep 2-Game Series

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians swept their two-game set with the New York Yankees by whipping the champions, 10-2, today. A ladies day crowd of 27,325 of which 20,938 paid saw Early Wynn hold the Bombers to six hits. This was the ninth time in fourteen games that the Yanks had been stopped with six or fewer hits.

The Yankees took a one-run lead in the first inning and then were sandbagged. Cleveland batted around for five runs in the third and scored four more in the fifth. Bad fielding by the New Yorkers marred each rally.

A quartet of second-line pitchers were devoured by the Indians' batters, with shortstop George Strickland leading the attack. The usually light-hitting infielder drove a double and two singles and batted in three runs.

Wynn had a four-hitter for eight innings. Two of those came in the first when Jerry Coleman doubled and Berra singled for a run. The other Yankee score came in the ninth when Bob Cerv hit a homer.

Trucks Wins With 1-Hitter

White Hose Whip Red Sox, 3 To 0; Goodman Spoiler

BOSTON, May 1 (AP)—Fireman Virgil Trucks tossed a brilliant one-hitter at Boston today as league leading Chicago defeated the Red Sox 3-0. Batteryman Sherman Lollar accounted for two runs with a seventh inning homer and ninth inning single for the support the 35-year-old fastball artist needed to gain his third victory in four starts this year.

Trucks faced just 31 batters in giving the White Sox their tenth victory in their last 12 games. He struck out eight and walked three.

The loss, fourth in a row for the Red Sox, marked the second time this year Boston had been the victim of a one-hit performance at Fenway Park. New York's Jim McDonald turned the trick April 19 in the afternoon game of a Patriot's Day double header.

Lollar led off the seventh with a home run into the left field screen which was all the margin Trucks needed. Chicago added a pair of security runs in the ninth off loser Bill Henry and rookie reliefer Tom Brewer.

Lollar, whose single scored Minnie Minoso, took second when Goodman misplayed his hit in left for an error and reached third when Brewer, who had just come in, uncorked a wild pitch. Manager Paul Richards sent in Don Nicholas to run for Lollar and he came home on Johnny Groth's sacrifice fly.

Henry, the only Red Sox hurler to pitch a complete game this year, gave up only four hits in the first eight innings but the lefthander was pulled with one out in the ninth after two singles and a sacrifice made it 2-0. Brewer didn't allow a hit in finishing out.

Georgia League In Stew Over Negro Ball Players

SANDERSVILLE, Ga., May 1 (AP)—This Georgia city of 5,000 threatened today to quit the Class D Georgia State Baseball League if three other clubs continue to play Negroes.

H. N. McMichael, a league director and spokesman, said an ultimatum would be delivered at a meeting of the six-club league's directors in Sylvania tomorrow.

"It's a simple proposition," he said. "If the Negroes are not withdrawn, we will withdraw."

He added:

"We just can't play with them here. We won't do it. We have had no trouble. The feeling, though, is pretty high."

McMichael said that Dublin and Douglas clubs each have two Negro playels and Vidalia, either two or three.

N. M. Jordan, president of the Sandersville club said he was "very sorry the protest had been made" and added:

"It was not made with my knowledge or consent. For business reasons and for other reasons, I am very sorry information on the affair was given out."

Howard Threlkeld, president of the Vidalia club which has two Negroes on its roster, said the Vidalia directors have no intention of dropping their Negro players.

"I personally think Negro players will be the salvation of minor league ball in this part of the country," Threlkeld said. "We have experienced no trouble with ours."

He added that Vidalia hasn't played Sandersville yet, but on two playing dates at home the team has drawn good attendance, about 30 per cent Negro.

Threlkeld said the only reason his club would drop a Negro player would be because "he didn't pan out as the quality of player" the club desires, but certainly not because of his race."

Manager Jim Beavers of Vidalia said crowds at Vidalia numbered about 3,500 opening night and about 1,200 the next night, compared with crowds of 200 to 300 last season.

McMichael reported that when Sandersville opened here Monday with Dublin attendance was less than 1,000 when 3,000 had been expected.

"When we played Douglas Wednesday," he added, "there was only a handful of people out—hardly more than 150."

On top of that, the club spokesman said, a citizens mass meeting Thursday voted unanimously to withdraw support of the club if its opponents continue to field Negroes against it.

"They gave us 10 days to try to work things out," said McMichael. "If we can't do it, we'll have to withdraw."

Another club spokesman, who declined the use of his name, said sharp friction was generated when the Dublin Negro players refused to use separate dressing room facilities arranged for them.

The high school gymnasium, built with public donations, he explained, is used by the baseball players in changing their clothing. By custom, the visiting team uses the girl's gym, he added.

The Dublin team, he asserted, was asked to have the two Negro players use "a nice place with a shower" which had been engaged at a Negro undertaking establishment.

It did not, he reported, and the Negroes went with the other players into the girls' section of the gym and used it as a dressing room.

The spokesman said if this had been known generally among the game spectators at the time there might have been trouble.

Johnny Rozsa, business manager of the Douglas club, which is affiliated with Cincinnati of the National League, could see no "valid" objection to Negro players. He said the two on his club have "boosted attendance at our home games and nearly all the others."

Patton Bids Late To Beat Welch In North, South Play

PINEHURST, N. C., May 1 (AP)—Miracle shots on the last three holes and a missed two-foot putt by his opponent gave Billy Joe Patton a one-up 37-hole victory today in the finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament over Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill.

Patton, 32-year-old Morganton, N. C., lumberman whose third place finish in the recent Masters Tournament made him the talk of the country, appeared on the way to an unexpected defeat. Welsh, 34-year-old attorney, came from behind for the fifth time by winning the 32nd and 33rd holes with par golf.

After each parred the 34th, Welsh was nicely on the green on the short 35th while Patton was trapped. The North Carolinian exploded beautifully but the ball was still 1 feet from the hole while Welsh was assured his par three.

After careful study, Patton rolled in the 1-footer to stave off defeat. On this hole Patton's tee shot went deep into the woods to the left. The ball landed close to a pine tree, leaving him very little room to swing, but he hooked out beautifully onto the fiarway and was on the far edge of the green in three. Welsh, meanwhile, put his tee shot in a fairway trap, came out still well behind Patton and put his third to the right of the pin on the edge of the green.

From there Welsh chipped and the ball went seven feet by the hole. Patton, some 18 feet from the pin, got down nicely in two for a five while Welsh missed his putt to send the match into overtime.

Teeing up on the first hole for the third time today, Patton drove into the rough on the right side of the fairway, the ball landing near a bush. As he prepared to make the shot, Patton sadly observed, "I never let well enough alone. Here I go putting the ball back in the woods. I have to play trick shots all afternoon."

And he did play a trick shot. He laced a six-iron through the opening over a trap just off the edge of the green.

Welsh, whose drive was down the middle, put his second some 20 feet over the green. But he chipped the ball about two feet from the hole with his third. Patton left himself five feet on a 45-foot putt but he knocked it in for a four. That left it up to Welsh to make his two-footer, and he missed, giving Patton the match.

Spain, Egypt Move To 2nd Round Of Europe Davis Cup

LONDON, May 1 (AP)—Spain and Egypt advanced to the second round of the European Zone Davis Cup tennis competition today while Brazil and Ireland held 2-1 leads and Yugoslavia led Monaco 2-0 in best of five first round series.

Brazil had expected to gain the second round, too, for it went up against Switzerland with a 2-0 lead and a doubles team composed of Bob Falkenburg, onetime Wimbledon champion who now lives in Brazil, and veteran internationalist Armand Vieira. But the brother team of Jean-Pierre and Paul Blondel surprised the South Americans 6-3, 8-6, 4-6, 3-6, 6-2 at Montreaux, Switzerland, and kept their country's chances alive.

All the seven first round matches—nine countries drew first round byes—are best of five series, with two singles the first day, a doubles match the second day and two more singles the third.

Spain took a clinching 3-0 lead over Holland when Carlos Ferrer and Jose Draper trimmed Holland's Fred Dehnert and Rob Van Meegeren 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 in the doubles at The Hague. Spain now must meet Italy's powerful team in the second round.

Egypt kept pace with Spain as Donald Acobas and Ismael Adel whipped the Turkish pair of Suzan Guerel and Nazmi Bari 6-1, 6-1, 6-3 before a cheering Cairo crowd. The Egyptains next play Sweden, also in Cairo, starting May 18.

Ireland, which gained a 1-1 split in Friday's singles with Austria when Hans Redl had to default because of an injury when he was within one game of victory, took a 2-1 lead at Vienna. Buy Jackson and Vivien Gotto teamed to defeat Redl and Franz Saiko 6-3, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

Yugoslavia's aces, Josip Palada and Vladimir Petrovic, won every set against Monaco as Palada defeated Alec Noghes 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 and Petrovic downed Georges Pasquier 6-1, 7-5, 7-5.

The Hungary - New Zealand match starts tomorrow in Budapest while Finland and Norway battle at Helsinki May 6-8.

Patton Bids Late To Beat Welch In North, South Play

PINEHURST, N. C., May 1 (AP)—Miracle shots on the last three holes and a missed two-foot putt by his opponent gave Billy Joe Patton a one-up 37-hole victory today in the finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament over Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill.

Spain, Egypt Move To 2nd Round Of Europe Davis Cup

LONDON, May 1 (AP)—Spain and Egypt advanced to the second round of the European Zone Davis Cup tennis competition today while Brazil and Ireland held 2-1 leads and Yugoslavia led Monaco 2-0 in best of five first round series.

Brazil had expected to gain the second round, too, for it went up against Switzerland with a 2-0 lead and a doubles team composed of Bob Falkenburg, onetime Wimbledon champion who now lives in Brazil, and veteran internationalist Armand Vieira. But the brother team of Jean-Pierre and Paul Blondel surprised the South Americans 6-3, 8-6, 4-6, 3-6, 6-2 at Montreaux, Switzerland, and kept their country's chances alive.

All the seven first round matches—nine countries drew first round byes—are best of five series, with two singles the first day, a doubles match the second day and two more singles the third.

Spain took a clinching 3-0 lead over Holland when Carlos Ferrer and Jose Draper trimmed Holland's Fred Dehnert and Rob Van Meegeren 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 in the doubles at The Hague. Spain now must meet Italy's powerful team in the second round.

Egypt kept pace with Spain as Donald Acobas and Ismael Adel whipped the Turkish pair of Suzan Guerel and Nazmi Bari 6-1, 6-1, 6-3 before a cheering Cairo crowd. The Egyptains next play Sweden, also in Cairo, starting May 18.

Ireland, which gained a 1-1 split in Friday's singles with Austria when Hans Redl had to default because of an injury when he was within one game of victory, took a 2-1 lead at Vienna. Buy Jackson and Vivien Gotto teamed to defeat Redl and Franz Saiko 6-3, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

Yugoslavia's aces, Josip Palada and Vladimir Petrovic, won every set against Monaco as Palada defeated Alec Noghes 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 and Petrovic downed Georges Pasquier 6-1, 7-5, 7-5.

The Hungary - New Zealand match starts tomorrow in Budapest while Finland and Norway battle at Helsinki May 6-8.

21-Year-Old Heir To Huge Fortune Held For Robbery

TORONTO, May 1 (UP) — John Leonard Smallman, 21-year-old heir of a $2,600,000 fortune and known as Canada's richest young man, was arrested today and charged with being an accomplice in a $41 holdup.

Officers had been looking for him for some time, but he had been absent from his apartment.

Police said Smallman is accused in connection with the beating and robbery last December of Lawrence T. Nash. Nash was hospitalized several days after the robbery by three men.

Nash told police he was taken to an apartment by a man who said he was a jewelry salesman and that he gave the salesman an order. Afterward, he said, the man took him to a tavern where they were joined by two other men. An auto ride, the beating and the robbery followed, he narrated.

Smallman at 14 became heir to a $2,600,000 fortune left by a great aunt. He soon was to receive the yearly interest on his fortune, about $150,000, and to get half the principal when he is 25.

He was married at London, Ont., Feb. 16, 1952, to Mary Kathleen Steers, 22-year-old daughter of a socially prominent London, Ont., family.

Ridgway Reveals Destructiveness Of New Cannon

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 1—UP—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, said Saturday the Army's new 280 mm cannon can fire atomic shells about as destructive as the A-bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

He said progress in developing this and other new weapons has been encouraging. But he added, in an address prepared for the Missouri Department of the Reserve Officers' Association, it is important for the reserve armed forces to keep pace with weapons development.

Ridgway said this is a "tremendous challenge," but nonetheless essential in face of today's Soviet menace.

In discussing weapons progress, Ridgway said the atomic cannon is the "most noteworthy" of America's new arsenal.

"It has, furthermore, the capability of firing either high explosive projectiles or atomic projectiles with a yield in destructive power approximating that of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima," he said.

"Before long, with our units in the field we shall have organizations equipped with rockets and guided missiles, both of which will add significantly to our capability for medium and long-range artillery fire," he added.

Ridgway said both types of weapons are being tried out now in the North Carolina maneuver labeled "exercise flashburn."

Blue Ridge Quartet Will Appear Soon

Their appearance will be along with another singing group—possibly the Rangers—officials said.

The Blue Ridge Quartet has gained widespread recognition in its field, singing convention officials related in making the announcement.

Several Stores

press of bodies when some 12 to 15 persons made a dive for the rear door of the store, seeking shelter as the storm appeared. Both made it inside the store, however.

"It was the worst thing they could have done," Warren said, "with all the different things we have in here to fall. But once they got in, they couldn't get out. The wind held the door closed."

Warren said the wind sucked the plate glass out of his two large front windows and his front door, tore up a television antenna on the roof, and continued on down the street, taking several signs along with it.

"One man had just walked out of here and gotten into his automobile," Hobson said. "He said the whole car rocked when the storm hit. We could even feel this building shake." The appliance store is made of brick.

A woman employe at Durrett's Furniture store, which was next in the storm's path, said it tore off portions of the roof, leaving it open to the drenching rains which followed. "It rained through three stories," she said.

The woman said she had seen the storm when it hit at Warren's and Eureka grocery company next to Warren's. "It looked like it was right down on the street," she said.

A number of persons also sought shelter inside the furniture store when the storm struck, she added.

J. R. Mouton, owner of Mouton's Shoe store in West Monroe across the street from Warren's said, "It (the storm) roared like a siren when it came down the street. I thought it was a fire truck at first."

Mouton's store was undamaged.

The storm formation then apparently lifted momentarily, passed over the river, and came to earth again on the northside of Monroe, where it uprooted a large pecan tree and three smaller trees in the vicinity of North Third and K streets. The deluge which followed the winds flooded a number of northside streets.

Commissioner of Streets and Parks Wayne Huckaby, who made an inspection of the city during and following the storm, said that most of the city sewerage system was functioning properly, but that the large volume of water fell quicker than it could be carried off. He said Forsythe avenue, North Fifth and Sixth streets, and streets in the vicinity of Marie Place were flooded temporarily.

However, the run-off was rapid, and early yesterday evening most of the streets were reported in fairly good shape.

High water was also reported at South Sixth street in the vicinity of Winnsboro road and in several streets in Morningside Addition.

Commissioner Huckaby also said a number of limbs and smaller trees littered the streets in the wake of the storm, but that crews were working to clear away the debris as soon as possible. Early yesterday evening he said that as far as was known no thoroughfares were blocked by fallen trees or other debris left by the storm.

An official of the Louisiana Power and Light Company said lights had been knocked out in a few places, and that other minor interferences were reported. However, he added, no feeder lines were knocked out, nor was any other major damage reported.

A spokesman for the Southern Bell Telephone Company said a few individual lines were knocked out of service, but described the damage inflicted on the communications system by the storm as "just the normal run of trouble cases." He added that repairs were being made as rapidly as possible.

The Monroe Fire Department reported that the department radio system, which had been knocked out of service at alarm headquarters by lightning Friday afternoon, was restored to service Saturday morning, and was functioning properly late yesterday. While the regular radio was out of service, calls were handled over an auxiliary system at fire station number four.

West Monroe police said that except for the damage inflicted on the city's business district, the only reports they had recieved of damage concerned broken limbs and downed trees.

Yesterday morning Bastrop authorities reported that the railroad underpass on the Bastrop-Collinston road was flooded, but passable to traffic. High water was also reported in the yard of one resident near Cedar Creek. Although the water was said to be inside the car, which was parked in the yard, it was not up to the floor level of the house.

Friday afternoon, a small tornado struck on the Western outskirts of West Monroe, unroofing two houses and the water works building and causing extensive damage to two water pumps.

The only injury reported was to 14-year-old Martha Murphy, who was struck in the head by a flying board as she tried to enter her house. She did not require hospitalization.

Several other persons in the unroofed houses narrowly escaped injury.

Twisters Buffet

Grandfield, also in southwestern Oklahoma, injuring three persons and destroying six or eight houses.

The tornado first appeared headed direct for the downtown section. The town siren wailed while citizens ran frantically for cover. But as it neared the city, it turned away, sideswiping the northeast edge.

Donald Ray Nease, 19, was reported critically hurt when he was blown 55 yards from his home which was destroyed.

Frank Patterson, Grandfield city manager, said the twister "made toothpicks" out of the Nease home. He estimated the damage to the town would exceed $30,000.

Another tornadic wind moved through the Dale community four miles west of Shawnee in central Oklahoma tonight. Several cars were blown off the road, many homes slightly damaged with some injuries reported. Further details were not available.

Meeker suffered heavy damage, troopers said. All three hospitals at nearby Shawnee were reported filled with victims of the Meeker storm.

There were no immediate reports of injuries.

For the fifth straight day, twisters and stormy weather buffeted some part of the state. A massive cold front added a freezing threat for the Panhandle. Thunderstorms were predicted from near Amarillo to Big Spring and hard, local rainstorms in North Central Texas as the front bulged eastward.

One small twister shortly after noon Saturday smashed two barns and unroofed a farm home near Vernon. Another twister at Tipton, Okla., in the same general area, injured three persons, one at Hines, Tex., also near Vernon, destroyed several houses. No one was injured there.

There was an unconfirmed report of a tornado that smashed to earth three times between Chillicothe and Lockett.

TORONTO, May 1 (AP) — John Leonard Smallman, 21-year-old heir of a $2,600,000 fortune and known as Canada's richest young man, was arrested today and charged with being an accomplice in a $41 holdup.

Officers had been looking for him for some time, but he had been absent from his apartment.

Police said Smallman is accused in connection with the beating and robbery last December of Lawrence T. Nash. Nash was hospitalized several days after the robbery by three men.

Nash told police he was taken to an apartment by a man who said he was a jewelry salesman and that he gave the salesman an order. Afterward, he said, the man took him to a tavern where they were joined by two other men. An auto ride, the beating and the robbery followed, he narrated.

Smallman at 14 became heir to a $2,600,000 fortune left by a great aunt. He soon was to receive the yearly interest on his fortune, about $150,000, and to get half the principal when he is 25.

He was married at London, Ont., Feb. 16, 1952, to Mary Kathleen Steers, 22-year-old daughter of a socially prominent London, Ont., family.

Ridgway Reveals Destructiveness Of New Cannon

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 1—UP—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, said Saturday the Army's new 280 mm cannon can fire atomic shells about as destructive as the A-bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

He said progress in developing this and other new weapons has been encouraging. But he added, in an address prepared for the Missouri Department of the Reserve Officers' Association, it is important for the reserve armed forces to keep pace with weapons development.

Ridgway said this is a "tremendous challenge," but nonetheless essential in face of today's Soviet menace.

In discussing weapons progress, Ridgway said the atomic cannon is the "most noteworthy" of America's new arsenal.

"It has, furthermore, the capability of firing either high explosive projectiles or atomic projectiles with a yield in destructive power approxmating that of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima," he said.

"Before long, with our units in the field we shall have organizations equipped with rockets and guided missiles, both of which will add significantly to our capability for medium and long-range artillery fire," he added.

Ridgway said both types of weapons are being tried out now in the North Carolina maneuver labeled "exercise flashburn."

Blue Ridge Quartet Will Appear Soon

Their appearance will be along with another singing group—possibly the Rangers—officials said.

The Blue Ridge Quartet has gained widespread recognition in its field, singing convention officials related in making the announcement.

press of bodies when some 12 to 15 persons made a dive for the rear door of the store, seeking shelter as the storm appeared. Both made it inside the store, however.

"It was the worst thing they could have done," Warren said, "with all the different things we have in here to fall. But once they got in, they couldn't get out. The wind held the door closed."

Warren said the wind sucked the plate glass out of his two large front windows and his front door, tore up a television antenna on the roof, and continued on down the street, taking several signs along with it.

"One man had just walked out of here and gotten into his automobile," Hobson said. "He said the whole car rocked when the storm hit. We could even feel this building shake." The appliance store is made of brick.

A woman employe at Durrett's Furniture store, which was next in the storm's path, said it tore off portions of the roof, leaving it open to the drenching rains which followed. "It rained through three stories," she said.

The woman said she had seen the storm when it hit at Warren's and Eureka grocery company next to Warren's. "It looked like it was right down on the street," she said.

A number of persons also sought shelter inside the furniture store when the storm struck, she added.

J. R. Mouton, owner of Mouton's Shoe store in West Monroe across the street from Warren's said, "It (the storm) roared like a siren when it came down the street. I thought it was a fire truck at first."

Mouton's store was undamaged.

The storm formation then apparently lifted momentarily, passed over the river, and came to earth again on the northside of Monroe, where it uprooted a large pecan tree and three smaller trees in the vicinity of North Third and K streets. The deluge which followed the winds flooded a number of northside streets.

Commissioner of Streets and Parks Wayne Huckaby, who made an inspection of the city during and following the storm, said that most of the city sewerage system was functioning properly, but that the large volume of water fell quicker than it could be carried off. He said Forsythe avenue, North Fifth and Sixth streets, and streets in the vicinity of Marie Place were flooded temporarily.

However, the run-off was rapid, and early yesterday evening most of the streets were reported in fairly good shape.

High water was also reported at South Sixth street in the vicinity of Winnsboro road and in several streets in Morningside Addition.

Commissioner Huckaby also said a number of limbs and smaller trees littered the streets in the wake of the storm, but that crews were working to clear away the debris as soon as possible. Early yesterday evening he said that as far as was known no thoroughfares were blocked by fallen trees or other debris left by the storm.

An official of the Louisiana Power and Light Company said lights had been knocked out in a few places, and that other minor interferences were reported. However, he added, no feeder lines were knocked out, nor was any other major damage reported.

A spokesman for the Southern Bell Telephone Company said a few individual lines were knocked out of service, but described the damage inflicted on the communications system by the storm as "just the normal run of trouble cases." He added that repairs were being made as rapidly as possible.

The Monroe Fire Department reported that the department radio system, which had been knocked out of service at alarm headquarters by lightning Friday afternoon, was restored to service Saturday morning, and was functioning properly late yesterday. While the regular radio was out of service, calls were handled over an auxiliary system at fire station number four.

West Monroe police said that except for the damage inflicted on the city's business district, the only reports they had recieved of damage concerned broken limbs and downed trees.

Yesterday morning Bastrop authorities reported that the railroad underpass on the Bastrop-Collinston road was flooded, but passable to traffic. High water was also reported in the yard of one resident near Cedar Creek. Although the water was said to be inside the car, which was parked in the yard, it was not up to the floor level of the house.

Friday afternoon, a small tornado struck on the Western outskirts of West Monroe, unroofing two houses and the water works building and causing extensive damage to two water pumps.

The only injury reported was to 14-year-old Martha Murphy, who was struck in the head by a flying board as she tried to enter her house. She did not require hospitalization.

Several other persons in the unroofed houses narrowly escaped injury.

NEEDS CONSENT

Twisters Buffet

Grandfield, also in southwestern Oklahoma, injuring three persons and destroying six or eight houses.

The tornado first appeared headed direct for the downtown section. The town siren wailed while citizens ran frantically for cover. But as it neared the city, it turned away, sideswiping the northeast edge.

Donald Ray Nease, 19, was reported critically hurt when he was blown 55 yards from his home which was destroyed.

Frank Patterson, Grandfield city manager, said the twister "made toothpicks" out of the Nease home. He estimated the damage to the town would exceed $30,000.

Another tornadic wind moved through the Dale community four miles west of Shawnee in central Oklahoma tonight. Several cars were blown off the road, many homes slightly damaged with some injuries reported. Further details were not available.

Meeker suffered heavy damage, troopers said. All three hospitals at nearby Shawnee wese reported filled with victims of the Meeker storm.

There were no immediate reports of injuries.

For the fifth straight day, twisters and stormy weather buffeted some part of the state. A massive cold front added a freezing threat for the Panhandle. Thunderstorms were predicted from near Amarillo to Big Spring and hard, local rainstorms in North Central Texas as the front bulged eastward.

One small twister shortly after noon Saturday smashed two barns and unroofed a farm home near Vernon. Another twister at Tipton, Okla., in the same general area, injured three persons, one at Hines, Tex., also near Vernon, destroyed several houses. No one was injured there.

There was an unconfirmed report of a tornado that smashed to earth three times between Chillicothe and Lockett.

Wind, rain and some hail cracked windows in Vernon.

Barbara Sammons Becomes Bride Of Wellman Johnson

Miss Barbara Jean Sammons, daughter of Mrs. Frances Sammons of this city, became the bride of Wellman Acil Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson, in an impressive double ring ceremony performed Thursday, April 22, at seven o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

The candles were lighted by Mrs. J. L. Harrell and Miss Violet Venable.

Given in marriage by her brother, Ronald Sammons, the bride was attired in a waltz-length gown of ice blue nylon net over taffeta. The bodice was of chantilly lace with a high collar and fitted sleeves which came to points over the wrist. Lace covered buttons extended to the bodice. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a white taffeta Juliet cap sprinkled with seed pearls.

Miss Helen Johnson, maid of honor, was attired in an ankle length pink nylon net over taffeta with a lace blero. Her headdress was of matching net. She carried a blue lace umbrella adorned with pink daisies.

Rosalie Wachowski was flower girl and also wore a pink organdy model and carried a basket of sweetpeas.

Jo Lynn Harrell served the bridegroom as best man and George Reynolds was groomsman. Ushers were Richard Venable, Charles Venable and Ernest Venable.

A reception followed the ceremony in the social center of the church. Centering the bride's table was an umbrella surrounded by white cndles. The wedding cake and punch bowl were also tastefully arranged on the table.

Assisting with the courtesies at the reception were Miss Arthur Hall, Miss Georgia Pope and Miss Dolores Wallace.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast and south Louisiana, the bride changed to a blue suit with pink and white accessories and a white orchid. They will make their home at 1003½ Ridge Avenue.

Miss Puckett's Engagement Is Announced At Formal Tea

The engagement of Miss Leah Anne Puckett and John Sam McDuffie, Jr., son of Mrs. John S. McDuffie and the late John S. McDuffie of Oak Ridge, was announced at an afternoon tea between three and five o'clock Sunday in the home of Mrs. Jack Waldrop of Collinston.

The tea table was overlaid with an imported Japanese linen cloth and centered with a picturesque array of white asters. A cut glass punch bowl and white tapers in candelabra entwined in greenery completed the dining table setting.

Dainty napkins with the name of the bride-to-be and groom - elect with their wedding date, June 25, 1954, were used for making the announcement.

Mrs. Robert O'Quin of Alexandria and Mrs. Norman McDuffie of Oak Ridge alternated at the punch service.

Tea girls were Miss Ann Boyd, Miss Elizabeth Trippe, both of Collinston, Miss Sarah Young and Miss Dorothy Ann Lamb both of Bastrop.

The hostesses were attired in spring formals.

Here's a different kind of snack: Cover slices of bread with processed cheese, thinly sliced. Top with canned apple slices and a sprinkling of brown sugar and cinnamon. Broil until the cheese begins to melt. Serve at once with coffee or tea for grownups, milk or cocoa for small fry.

Wondering what to season that tomato juice with so it will be especially delicious? Try onion, green pepper, Worcestershire sauce, celery seed, lemon juice, salt and pepper, sugar. Allow the juice and seasonings to stand in the refrigerator for a couple of hours, then strain and serve.

Fiber Rug Is Good Buy

NEW YORK — (NEA) —Buying furniture on a budget is nothing at all like taking candy away from a baby. Young married people moving into a first apartment are faced with blank walls and bare floors, together with the uneasy feeling that they should have stayed at home, where chairs and sofas and drapes were provided.

No matter how handy the young man may be in following how-to instructions and thus knocking together a bookcase from orange crates, there are still, inescapably, things that must be bought at a store. Few grooms care to sit around waiting for their brides to weave the living-room rug.

In deciding how much money is going to go for what, it makes sense to put the most money into the pieces that are going to be with you longest. (These will also be the things you need most urgently.)

If yours is a one-room apartment, you'll want to put money into modern sofas that serve as beds. Later, if you buy a house, these can serve nicely in a guest room or bed-room sitting room. In buying upholstered pieces, you want lasting quality.

But a first rug might very well be an inexpensive one. Eventually, you'll want good broadloom for your permanent home. Meanwhile, you can have a good-looking rug at moderate price. For the fiber rug is coming into general, year-around use.

Once confined to sun porches and to summer use, the fiber rug has undergone changes. Its handsome, reversible, comes in room sizes and cut-to-order lengths, too. It may be woven of fibers alone or in a blend that combines wool and rayon yarns with the fiber.

Bottorff-Bruno Wedding Plans Are Announced

Miss Sara Ellen Bruno's engagement and approaching marriage to William Vaughan Bottorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard of this city, is announced today by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Bruno.

The wedding will be solemnized at St. Matthews Catholic Church on June 12.

The bride-elect has chosen as matron of honor Mrs. Charles Amman. Bridesmaids will be Miss Helen Wilds and Miss Yvonne Brett.

Mr. Bottorff will be attended by Frank Howard as best man.

Miss Bruno is a graduate of Neville High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega. She was also a member of Delta Beta Sigma.

Fiber Rug Is Good Buy

NEW YORK — (NEA) —Buying furniture on a budget is nothing at all like taking candy away from a baby. Young married people moving into a first apartment are faced with blank walls and bare floors, together with the uneasy feeling that they should have stayed at home, where chairs and sofas and drapes were provided.

No matter how handy the young man may be in following how-to instructions and thus knocking together a bookcase from orange crates, there are still, inescapably, things that must be bought at a store. Few grooms care to sit around waiting for their brides to weave the living-room rug.

In deciding how much money is going to go for what, it makes sense to put the most money into the pieces that are going to be with you longest. (These will also be the things you need most urgently.)

If yours is a one-room apartment, you'll want to put money into modern sofas that serve as beds. Later, if you buy a house, these can serve nicely in a guest room or bed-room sitting room. In buying upholstered pieces, you want lasting quality.

But a first rug might very well be an inexpensive one. Eventually, you'll want good broadloom for your permanent home. Meanwhile, you can have a good-looking rug at moderate price. For the fiber rug is coming into general, year-around use.

Once confined to sun porches and to summer use, the fiber rug has undergone changes. Its handsome, reversible, comes in room sizes and cut-to-order lengths, too. It may be woven of fibers alone or in a blend that combines wool and rayon yarns with the fiber.

Bottorff-Bruno Wedding Plans Are Announced

The bride-elect has chosen as matron of honor Mrs. Charles Amman. Bridesmaids will be Miss Helen Wilds and Miss Yvonne Brett.

Mr. Bottorff will be attended by Frank Howard as best man.

Miss Bruno is a graduate of Neville High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega. She was also a member of Delta Beta Sigma.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD RAY GRIGGS

Couple Wed In England

A recent wedding of interest to friends in the Twin Cities is that of Janet Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Martin of Diss, Norfolk, England, and Sgt. Harold Ray Griggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Griggs, Sr., of West Monroe.

The wedding was performed in Norfolk, England in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

Sgt. Griggs is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and enlisted in the air force in January 1951. He has been stationed in England with the air force in January 1951. He has been stationed in England with the air force for more than two years.

The couple will return to the states in early summer and make their home in West Monroe.

It's important to consider the shape of your face when buying a dress. Select a dress the neckline of which will be flattering. For example, a V-shape is good for the round- and square-faced girls. The high, round neckline is good for the girl whose face is long.

After laundering blankets, raise the nap by brushing them with either a wire - bristled pet brush or a nylon hair brush. The latter can also be used to raise the nap of corduroy and knitted garments.

News From The Public Library

During the month of April 400 new books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Of this number 69 books were adult books and the other were juvenile titles. At the close of the Louisiana Library Association in March, we purchased the entire exhibits of several publishers and these exhibits were made up largely of children's books. We purchased them because they sold them to us at a special discount and because we knew that we needed extra books to take care of our summer reading club, which will open this year on the 31st of May. Already mothers and children are asking us about our plans for the club. I will visit all of the schools during the next month and tell the children about the club, but you can be sure that we will have one and that we would like to see every boy and girl in Ouachita Parish enrolled as a member of the club.

Some of the adult books added during the month have been most interesting and I have told you about many of them on previous Sundays. However, there are several new and interesting titles this week. "A Feast For the Forgiven" by Vurrell Yentzen is a novel laid in the Cajun country of Louisiana. It is definitely a novel intended for adults and not for those adults who are strict in their tastes. However it is a novel of force and one which we felt should be a part of our Louisiana collection.

Probably of all mystery writers Agatha Christie has the largest following both among men and women. "A Pocket full of Rye" is another novel concerned with the remarkable Miss Marple. All those who read "Funerals Are Fatal" will want to read this story. Then there is the "Faulkner Reader," a new edition of the Works of William Faulkner. It contains the complete text of "The Sound and the Fury" slections from other novels, three novellas, nine short stories and the text of his Nobel prize acceptance speech.

One of the most delightful books that I have read in a long time is "Gypsy in the Parlor" by Margery Sharp. Her humor is always perfectly delightful and this book is especially enjoyable. It is the story of an English farm family told through the eyes of their little niece from London, who spent her summers with them. Some of the scenes are just as entertaining as can be. If you want an evening of pure enjoyment be sure to read "The Gypsy in the Parlor."

Ouachita Parish is particularly fortunate in the fact that it has a number of garden clubs. With the interests of so many women in mind, the Ouachita Parish Public Library has built up an excellent collection of garden books and new ones are being added all the time. Many of the titles are self-explanatory. "Daylilies" by Ben Arthur Davis, "Amaryllis" by Peggy Schulz, "Evergreens" by Kumlein, "Garden in your Window" by Jean Hersey, "Dahlias for Every Garden," by Marian Walker are fascinating new titles. Flower arrangement books are also numerous and lovely. New titles to appeal to the many flower arrangers are: "The Corsage Manual" by Mildred Schlumpf" "Flower Arrangement for Churches" by Adelaide B. Wilson and "Color in Flower Arrangement" by the same author and "Flowers in Glass" by Julia Berrall.

One way to prevent spilling accidents during a children's party is to make gay plastic coveralls as favors for the tots. Decorate them with crude animal cutouts or flowers to appeal to the youngsters. Then, when ice cream gets spilled, a soapy cloth will take care of the damage.

News From The Public Library

During the month of April 400 new books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Of this number 69 books were adult books and the other were juvenile titles. At the close of the Louisiana Library Association in March, we purchased the entire exhibits of several publishers and these exhibits were made up largely of children's books. We purchased them because they sold them to us at a special discount and because we knew that we needed extra books to take care of our summer reading club, which will open this year on the 31st of May. Already mothers and children are asking us about our plans for the club. I will visit all of the schools during the next month and tell the children about the club, but you can be sure that we will have one and that we would like to see every boy and girl in Ouachita Parish enrolled as a member of the club.

Some of the adult books added during the month have been most interesting and I have told you about many of them on previous Sundays. However,, there are several new and interesting titles this week. "A Feast For the Forgiven" by Vurrell Yentzen is a novel laid in the Cajun country of Louisiana. It is definitely a novel intended for adults and not for those adults who are strict in their tastes. However it is a novel of force and one which we felt should be a part of our Louisiana collection.

Probably of all mystery writers Agatha Christie has the largest following both among men and women. "A Pocket full of Rye" is another novel concerned with the remarkable Miss Marple. All those who read "Funerals Are Fatal" will want to read this story. Then there is the "Faulkner Reader," a new edition of the Works of William Faulkner. It contains the complete text of "The Sound and the Fury" slections from other novels, three novellas, nine short stories and the text of his Nobel prize acceptance speech.

One of the most delightful books that I have read in a long time is "Gypsy in the Parlor" by Margery Sharp. Her humor is always perfectly delightful and this book is especially enjoyable. It is the story of an English farm family told through the eyes of their little niece from London, who spent her summers with them. Some of the scenes are just as entertaining as can be. If you want an evening of pure enjoyment be sure to read "The Gypsy in the Parlor."

Ouachita Parish is particularly fortunate in the fact that it has a number of garden clubs. With the interests of so many women in mind, the Ouachita Parish Public Library has built up an excellent collection of garden books and new ones are being added all the time. Many of the titles are self-explanatory. "Daylilies" by Ben Arthur Davis, "Amaryllis" by Peggy Schulz, "Evergreens" by Kumlein, "Garden in your Window" by Jean Hersey, "Dahlias for Every Garden," by Marian Walker are fascinating new titles. Flower arrangement books are also numerous and lovely. New titles to appeal to the many flower arrangers are: "The Corsage Manual" by Mildred Schlumpf" "Flower Arrangement for Churches" by Adelaide B. Wilson and "Color in Flower Arrangement" by the same author and "Flowers in Glass" by Julia Berrall.

One way to prevent spilling accidents during a children's party is to make gay plastic coveralls as favors for the tots. Decorate them with crude animal cutouts or flowers to appeal to the youngsters. Then, when ice cream gets spilled, a soapy cloth will take care of the damage.

Couple Wed In England

A recent wedding of interest to friends in the Twin Cities is that of Janet Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Martin of Diss, Norfolk, England, and Sgt. Harold Ray Griggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Griggs, Sr., of West Monroe.

The wedding was performed in Norfolk, England in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a becoming faille suit with matching accessories.

Sgt. Griggs is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and enlisted in the air force in January 1951. He has been stationed in England with the air force in January 1951. He has been stationed in England with the air force for more than two years.

The couple will return to the states in early summer and make their home in West Monroe.

It's important to consider the shape of your face when buying a dress. Select a dress the neckline of which will be flattering. For example, a V-shape is good for the round- and square-faced girls. The high, round neckline is good for the girl whose face is long.

After laundering blankets, raise the nap by brushing them with either a wire - bristled pet brush or a nylon hair brush. The latter can also be used to raise the nap of corduroy and knitted garments.

MRS. ALVIN EUGENE HOBBS

Mildred White Becomes Bride Of Alvin Hobbs

First Methodist Church, West Monroe, was the scene at 7:30 p.m. April 24 for the wedding of Miss Mildred Lellia White and Alvin Eugene Hobbs. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White and Mr. Hobbs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Hobbs of Minden.

Baskets of white gladioli and majestic daisies decorated the altar. James Gilmer, organist, accompanied Miss Polly Ragland who sang, "Because," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin with insets of lace embroidered with seed pearls. The full skirt extended to a cathedral train. Her illusion veil fell from a tiara of orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Jackie White served her sister as maid of honor. Her floor length gown was of apple green nylon net over taffeta with silk folds coming from bodice down to the back. A cluster of flowers were placed at the back waist line. Her bouquet was of yellow jonquils and crotan leaves tied with green satin ribbons. A matching headpiece of green net with a single jonquil completed her costume.

Mrs. James Perry, sister of the bride was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Marjorie Redmond, another sister, and Miss Billie Blazier. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor. Glenda Ann Crawford of Shreveport, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was made like the attendants in yellow. The candle lighters were Miss Mary Rita Smith and Mrs. Glenda Ann Thomason.

Best man was Henry Hobbs, brother of the bridegroom, and groomsmen were Jack Hogge, Beaumont, Tex., Fred Foster, Shreveport, Jay Oberling, New Orleans and James Perry.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was covered with a cutwork cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake surrounded by yellow chrysanthemums tied with white satin ribbons. Candelabra at either end were entwined with greenery and held green candles.

The wedding book was presided over by Mrs. Carol White and others assisting were Mrs. F. C. McConnell, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Mrs. Horace Eyers, Mrs. Hugh Davis and Mrs. Faye Heard.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs will make their home in Lake Charles where both will teach in the public schools there.

Hobby Day Program Again On Tuesday

Members of the 10 and 25 Home Demonstration Clubs, under the able leadership of its president, Mrs. W. J. Lowe, enjoyed a tour of gardens in the Logtown community. The first stop on this tour was a visit to Mrs. Jewel McQuiller, former agent, who had assisted in planning the landscaping of these gardens.

The spacious garden of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shipp makes a perfect setting for the plantation home. Here usefulness as well as beauty is emphasized. The living area, a feature lately developed, is most inviting when you come in the front entrance. The beds were colorful with oxalis, iris, larkspur, roses and many other annuals and perennials. Plenty of shade was provided by huge pecans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Calloway's garden is spacious and here an abundance of color was provided by annuals and floribunda roses. At this home you see how to landscape when the house is outlined with a concrete walk at the base of the house.

At the plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Faust, the club members saw at least 36 patented roses in full bloom. Space will not allow the listing of them. Mrs. Faust had a demonstration in controlling leaf spot. The foliage was as beautiful as the flowers. Although the bulbs were not in bloom we saw how many had given beauty to the garden just recently.

A picnic lunch was next enjoyed in "Lover's Lane," a part of the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stout. Here the 25 year club elected officers for 1954-55, Mrs. W. J. Lowe, president, and Mrs. C. R. Alexander, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Lowe was presented a president's pin, which is the insignia of home demonstration work and five rubies.

A committee to plan the Christmas party, which is to be December 16, was appointed, Mrs. L. J. Bower, chairman, Mrs. Neal McHenry, Mrs. Gertie Landrum, of the 25 year club, and Mrs. Will Davis and Mrs. A. T. Stout of the 10 year club.

After seeing the Stout garden, the J. B. Filholl, Sr., where they saw the formal garden. At the rear of the house a rose garden, a garden of Louisiana iris, fish pond and many other interesting features were enjoyed. Summer snow florbunda roses, in full bloom, and dwarf sweet peas outlined the circle in the formal garden. The center was a mass of larkspur in many colors.

In one area of the garden we saw plants more than 100 years old. Many other rare and old plants are in this area among them the green rose which was in full bloom.

The next stop was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Grandberry. Grace has a wonderful outdoor living room. Shade is provided, the entire day, in some part of this outdoor living area. It is surrounded by blooming plants among them them the rare old moss rose.

In Mrs. Lowe's garden we saw poppies and white perennials blooming with many other annuals and roses. Duetzia was also used in this garden.

Next we visited the Neal McHenry garden where thousands of day lilies were in full bloom. These lilies have been used as ground cover in wide beds around the garden. Many other flowers gave color to these gardens which are sheltered by the limbs of the many huge trees.

Mrs. J. C. Williams showed the plan she was using in developing the surrounding and her new modern home.

The last garden visited was that of Mrs. Mattie Sharp where beds of pink double poppies added color to the garden.

Hobby Day

Forty - eight women participated in the activities. Thanks to those who cooperated: Miss Lola Caldwell, Mrs. Clara Dennis, Mrs. Gertie Landrum, Mrs. Mildred Swift and Mrs. Audrey Dawson.

Pioneer Spirit Still Thriving In Union Parish

By JOHN EARL TAYLOR

A lone, hardy pioneer after treeking across the wilderness of Alabama and Mississippi and into North Louisiana in the latter 1780's soon carved from the vast wilderness a teeming agricultural territory known now as Union Parish. This man according to historical records was John Honeycutt.

PARISH TRADE SCHOOL—The Union Parish Trade School, above, is a recent addition to the educational facilities of the parish.

FARMERVILLE HIGH SCHOOL—The new high school, which was completed in the latter portion of the school year of 1951, is just one example of the many fine and modern high school buildings in the parish. This structure exemplifies the true progress of Union parish in its educational facilities.

The echelon of settlers that followed close behind Honeycutt were mainly trappers and hunters. Possibly this group of people was trying to move on from conditions that existed along the eastern coastal area.

Honeycutt, according to the records, was granted a tract of land from the Spanish government, under whose dominion the state of Louisiana was at that time, in the year 1790.

Learning from a group of Indians camped near the mouth of Bayou Cornie that a family of settlers lived nearby, Honeycutt decided to traverse the distance to pay his respects. After traveling about 15 miles, Honeycutt came upon the cabin of a man named Feazel. To his surprise and delight, Honeycutt discovered that Feazel had several daughters of marrying age. Needing a wife, Honeycutt asked for one of Feazel's daughters in matrimony.

Feazel, wanting to be accommodating, lined his daughters up for Honeycutt's inspection. According to an age-old tradition, Honeycutt pointed to his choice and in a pioneer fashion said "I'll take this 'un." This marriage gave rise to many prominent descendants who were instrumental in the development of Union Parish and portions of northern Louisiana.

First Settlers

Settlers of Anglo-Saxon descent from Virginia, the Carolinas, and Tennessee were primarily farmers and they sought out the river areas and bayou lands. Some of their early homesites were located along the Bayous D'Arbonne, Cornie and De Loutre in Union Parish.

The territory of Orleans, as it was called in 1807, was divided into 19 parishes with Ouachita being the most northerly. In 1839, Union Parish was created out of the northern part of Ouachita Parish. It has an area of 910 square miles, is situated in the northeastern portion of the state, and is bounded on the north by the state of Arkansas, on the east by the Ouachita River separating it from Morehouse, on the south by Ouachita and Lincoln Parishes and on the west by Claiborne Parish.

A bit of controversy arose from the selection of a name for the county seat in 1839. Some wanted it named Woodville, in honor of Matthew Wood, a first settler and president of the first police jury. This was against Wood's wishes so the parish seat was named Farmerville after Lt. Gov. W. W. Farmer. A most distinguished man, Farmer then had a strong hand in the affairs of the state. He is buried in Farmerville, his grave being one of the first there. At the time the section was made a parish, the estimation of the population was about 1,800.

On May 16, 1839, the first police jury met to establish some form of government for the parish. The jury named Matthew Wood as its president, Thomas Van Hook as clerk, W. C. Carr, sheriff, Claiborne M. Smith, recorder. Thomas Van Hook was the first district clerk and John Taylor, the first judge in the parish. The group set about to organize the forces of a community government. Three assessors were appointed for the year 1839.

The 'Patrol'

There grew also out of this centralization, according to records, a sort of police force known as the "patrol." The patrolman's primary duty was to see that none of the Negro slaves left the plantations to which they belonged without proper passes. It was also the job of the 'patrol" to see that curfew that had been established was observed.

The diligence and perseverance of this first governmental body was very commendable for a pioneer one. It continued to pass measures for the improvement of roads, better organization of the government, and more emphasis on education.

On September 21, the jury passed a measure providing for the erection of Union Parish's first court house. The plans called for a structure 34 feet long by 26 feet wide, two stories high with first floor 10 feet high and the second only seven feet. This was to have been of frame construction.

There was an alteration in plans whereby the building was to become a brick one and it was to be 36 feet by 28 feet.

Family Feuds

A traditional political battle and feud ensued in the history of Union Parish as it has in the history of any nation. It was between the Wood and Harvey families. Col. Matthew Wood headed the former and Peter Harvey the latter.

The Harveys were fixed Democrats and the Woods, extreme Whigs. In 1840, the Democratic party nominated Martin Van Buren for a second term as president while the Whigs had as their choice William Henry Harrison.

The Whigs in that election, hung coonskins on their gates which were symbolic as to the party that they belonged to. General Harrison had worn a coonskin cap in his famous escapades and campaigns.

Harrison was elected by a large majority and his supporters in Union Parish as well as in the nation. were jubilant. But their glory was short lived because Harrison, weary from the campaign died shortly after.

News of his death soon spread over Union Parish and according to records, Wood wore a strip of black cloth on his arm, mourning the death of his beloved general.

Wood, as the legend goes, encountered Harvey one day as he sat at a corner of one of the local stores.

"Good morning, Peter," Wood commented.

Wood drew his pistol and fired point blank at Harvey. The bullet struck a button on Harvey's coat and glanced off, wounding him slightly. Harvey rushed Wood and took the pistol away from him and began to strike Wood some punishing blows. Willis Wood, son of the elder Wood intervened and took his father out of town. Wood after a few days left for Texas but came back several years later and settled near his son in Lincoln parish.

Steamboat Days

About the first steamboat on the Bayou D'Arbonne was the "Pioneer." This and other boats traveled between Monroe and Stein's Bluff, a distance of 80 miles, twice a week.

As boats were means of transporting supplies and food stuffs as well as persons, it was essential that a fairly good system of water transportation be maintained.

According to old "Uncle Mark" Rabun, steamboating was quite popular. He could remember his first trip up the Cornie Bayou with even the cheering and hollering of the people that crowded the banks. He stated that on the trip they loaded 30 bales of cotton and filled the rest of the space with passengers. They journeyed as far as Dubach, then known as Colvin's Store.

Among the last of the steamboat captains to help retire the steamboats of Union parish into the annals of history was the late Capt. Oscar Baughman. He had been commander of a good many boats which operated on and near the Ouachita River.

When the railroad made its appearance in 1904 the steamboat faded from the scene, but the memories of the accounts and legends of these boats and men who had a traditional part in the exciting, colorful, and dramatic riverboat history of the south, still lingers on.

Not to be lacking in the field of journalism a man by the name of J. M. Rabun established the first newspaper in Farmerville entitled "Union Record" in the year 1870. There have been some to say that a paper "The Inquirer" was founded in 1855, but no definite evidence can be shown.

The only competition to the "Union Record" was not until eight years later, which was in the form of "The Baptist Messenger" published by Rev. S. C. Lee, a prominent Baptist minister in Union Parish.

During that same year the "Union Record" was sold to J. E. Trimble and the name of the paper was changed to "The Gazette." This title is still retained by Emmett J. Lee and Ben M. Lee present owners and operators. The paper today, as it has been in the past, is the official journal of the Union Parish Police Jury and the Union Parish School Board.

"The Afro-American," a Negro journal made its debut in 1895, but folded within a year because its publisher, a Baptist, criticized the way the Methodist Negroes were holding a revival. He was whipped and run out of town.

Tragic Romance

"In the Gloaming," an old time favorite cherished and loved by many Americans, was composed in Union Parish by a then young and beautiful music teacher Anna Portesque Harrison.

The song as one can see by its first verse "In the gloaming, o my darling, when the lights are dim and low, and the quiet shadows falling softly come and softly go. When the winds are sobbing faintly with a gentle, unknown woe, Will you think of me and love me as you did once long ago?", grew out of a tragic romance.

Miss Harrison, along with her mother, had established themselves in the old Hopkins home (as it is known in the vicinity of Marion) as musical instructors to the daughters of Rev. Elias George.

As the story goes Miss Harrison, a truly young and pretty miss, fell in love with a native Louisianian, Miles Goldsby. Miss Harrison's mother along with some friends strongly advocated that she no longer see Goldsby. Their reason being one of ancient origin. "He's not the man for such a proper, refined and cultured girl as you." She was finally convinced that a marriage would be unsuccessful.

This was a calamity in the life of Anna Harrison and before she had returned to her native city, New Orleans, the ballad of sentimentality "In the Gloaming" had been written. It was not published until later after her arrival in New Orleans.

First Telephone

Col. Stein, who operated a very large concern in the parish frequently visited New York City to buy stock. On one of these trips he viewed a demonstration of the then newly invented telephones. After thinking over the possibilities of this new instrument he bought stock in the Bell Telphone Co.

Upon his return to Farmerville he brought three telephones with him which he had installed in his business. One was placed in his store in Farmerville, another at Stein's Bluff on the Bayou Cornie, where he kept a branch store, and the third at Fork Ferry on Bayou D'Arbonne.

Marion

Marion, considered as one of the oldest towns in Union Parish was settled, according to some of the older inhabitants and various records, around 1832. The David Stewart family, according to records, were possibly the oldest settlers in the vicinity of Marion. In 1832 Stewart constructed a crude cabin that was located four miles south of the town.

Pascal B. Traylor, was sold the first tract of land in the vicinity by the U. S. Land Office according to the Union Parish land conveyance record in 1839. The price was $397. His grant today occupies the center portion of Marion.

A group of people met in Marion to construct a school shortly before the outbreak of the Civil War. When the war came, it interrupted the building project, but school was continued in the unfinished building. John Hopkins was the first school teacher of the Bell Academy, the title that was bestowed upon the institution. The building was soon torn down and classes were begun in the Bell church. The next place of academic pursuance was in the Baptist church. From here studies were transferred to the old Union Church.

Bernice

The town of Bernice located in the northwestern portion of Union Parish was established by Capt. C. C. Henderson, pioneer lumber and railroadman. The site for the town was carved from a huge virgin forest known as the "big woods." Capt. Henderson purchased from Dave Cole and Allen Lowery the building location of the town.

On April 18, 1899, the town was formally incorporated with Jake Cruze as its first mayor. The first business establishment in the town was begun in a makeshift tent owned by a man named Nelson. According to records, the first sale was a box of matches, made to R. T. "Uncle Dick" Moore.

The first school was taught in Bernice by Miss Julia Foster. The school located on the east side of the Rock Island railroad was destroyed by fire in 1906. A short time later a large brick building was erected and the school became known as the Bernice High School with George W. Newton its first principal.

Today, Bernice is definitely a thriving community. One of the fastest growing business establishments in this section is the Salley Grocery Co., which was organized in 1934.

Bernice is linked with Arkansas and Ruston, La., by a much traversed Highway 167 and is serviced with the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway. The transportational facilities which Bernice has had access to since its establishment 55 years ago has been a definite factor in its advancement.

Accompanying the growth of Bernice proper, civic pride has maintained a step by step progress along with growth. Today, Bernice is definitely an asset to Union Parish.

Haile

Some of the early settlers included the Wilhite, Landers, Watson, Downs, Kelley and Lewis families. One of the old time settlers, J. T. Hester, has said that he could remember when there were only deer trails through Downsville and only one road leading from Shreveport to Monroe.

The town was named in honor of the Democratic congressman, Q. S. Downs.

Today, Downsville, like most of the other communities is a thriving agricultural one. It has a very modern high school, providing essential educational facilities which have been stressed since the beginning of the parish.

Farmerville

The actual incorporation of Farmerville came in the year 1842. This act was modified by the charter of 1870 under which the town now operates. Many sections have been added and reconstructed.

The first traffic laws were those passed in 1917 whereby the speed and parking rules of autos were stipulated. Franchises were granted in the installment of modern conveniences in the 1920's such as gas, water and electricity. In the year 1930 a census showed a population of 1,134. In 1939 it was estimated at 1,500. Today Farmerville boasts of 2,163 "friendly people."

MAYOR R. L. TURNAGE

Farmerville is an example of a town emerging from the depths of deterioration into one of the state's cleanest and modern municipalities. Recently its mayor, R. L. Turnage, was named "mayor of the year" at the annual Louisiana Municipal Convention. He gained the award by heading a four year improvement program for the town of Farmerville.

In 1949 Mayor Turnage's administration composed of Jack Turnage, Fred T. Preaus, Carl Miller, Jake Long, and Robert Lee Albritton entered office under very adverse conditions. The streets were in a bad way, sanitary conditions were terrible and fire protection was practically non - existent. During the next four years Mayor Turnage instigated measures of reform. Having full cooperation of the citizenery of Farmerville beneficial measures began to take shape and form. Now Farmerville has a new water system with a 150,000 gallon storage tank and a new water main. The number of street lights have been increased from 39 to 217. BANKING FACILITIES

Another credit to Farmerville and Union Parish is the brand new ultra - modern bank which was opened on February 15th of this year. This new service institution cost $150,000 and is equipped with summer and winter air conditioning a night deposit slot, continuous music for the employees and customers, a drive in, bullet - proof deposit window, and an indoor garden for a bit of added beauty. Paintings by a local artist, Larce Holder, depict the future of Union Parish. These murals are very soothing to the eye as well as hopefully reflecting the prosperity of the parish.

As one citizen aptly put it, "This is one bank which is not only unsurpassed in beauty and customer conveniences, it is a service institution . . . not a mere depository as most small town banks are, to the detriment of their communities."

The gentlemen who made it possible for Farmerville to claim ownership to one of the state's most modern town banks are: president, N. B. James, vice - president, A. B. Turnage, and the board of directors, J. R. Fuller, James E. Fuller, E. N. Albritton, and S. L. Fuller.

Construction of a new Caliborne Electric co-op office building costing approximately $73,400 has begun in Farmerville. Mayor Turnage stated, "This is more evidence of the progress of the people's own power co-op and of the town of Farmerville. The proposed fire - proof extension building is expected to be complete within five or six months. It will have facilities to accommodate 16 employees and mobile service vehicles."

With the completion of Farmerville High School in 1951 it became one of the most modern secondary schools in Union Parish and in the whole of north Louisiana.

These numerous facts and features go to show that Farmerville is definitely a tribute to Union Parish and that it soon should become a "major" center of activity in north Louisiana.

AGRICULTURE, FORESTRY

Union Parish has now, as in the past, an abundance of timber resources as well as agricultural ones. This is due to the foresight of several "commissions" who have engineered projects of reforestration and supervised methods of cutting the timber. Another factor is that some farmers has allowed the natural seedlings to become small stands of timber. In doing this, the farmer has possibly put future money in his pocket by utilizing land that is detrimental to the prosperity of his farm.

The agricultural and forestry "commissions" of the parish are now headed by a group of officials who are definitely interested in the well - being and future of Union Parish.

The parish has access to some of the finer agricultural lands in North Louisiana. Of the 86,548 acres of land suitable for farming 21,337 are classified as A-1. The remainder fall into two other categories namely one of the mediocre type and then the poorer classification. There are 35,367 acres of pasture lands and 397,432 acres of woodland.

OLIN INDUSTRIES

Of the 574,209 total acres in the parish, Olin Industries owns 170,620 acres. The major expectation of industry for the parish rests upon the shoulders of this corporation. It has been authenticated by representatives of the firm that a manufacturing concern is to be located in Union Parish. With the coming of this plant, Union Parish should have new roads of progress thrown open to it.

Union Parish is the third largest parish taxpayer in severance tax in the state of Louisiana. This tax is used primarily for the maintenance of roads, schools and welfare programs. The number of taxpayers participating in the Homestead Exemption measure is 3,356. The total number of taxpayers is 6,304. The grand total tax collection for 1953 was $606,043.01.

OVER 1000 OIL, GAS WELLS

The parish has, located within its boundaries, 972 gas wells and 198 oil wells. Two major gas companies pipe lines (26 in. and 30 in.) span the parish and several others cross it in various sections.

GAME AND WILDLIFE

In 1948 the sportsmen of Union Parish organized the "Union Parish Sportsmen Game Association" and affiliated itself with the state wildlife organization, which is composed of between 18 and 20 thousand members from the parishes in Louisiana. Fred Hamilton, of Downsville, has been president since the Union Parish federation's organization. Vice - president, B. H. Howard of Port Union Plantation, has been succeeded by Dr. J. D. Miller, deputy sheriff of Union Parish. Armond Rabun, a Farmerville attorney, has been secretary - treasurer since the organization began.

The Union Parish Association, working with the Pittman-Robinson section of Louisiana Wildlife Fisheries Commission has secured within the parish one game refuge of approximately 15,000 acres. The refuge has been in existence for five years and through the trapping facilities there have been released in Union Parish in the past three years around 300 deer. The parish is closed to deer hunting for a period of five years except an area along the Ouachita River west to the Missouri - Pacific railroad. The parish's season is to open in 1958. It is reported that in the narrowest strip which was open for deer hunting last year, 30 buck deer were taken. This is something that hasn't taken place in Union Parish in over half a century.

The Union Parish fair held in Farmerville each year is very instrumental in showing, the residents and visitors as well, the excellent products that were raised and produced throughout the year. Recently a new display building, rodeo arena, and a stock enclosure was constructed to take care of the increasing interest that has been shown toward the annual display of farm produce and home achievements.

PARISH SCHOOL BOARD

Between the years 1947 and 1952, the Union Parish School Board spent over $1,000,000 in the construction and renovation of educational buildings for both the white and colored schools. According to informants most of this sum has been used for new buildings.

The 10 schools coming under jurisdiction of the Union Parish School Board are Linville, Marion, Farmerville, Downsville, Bernice, Spearsville, Douglas, Union Parish Training School, Elliott, and Marion Industrial. The last four named are for colored students.

All of the high schools offer general, business, vocational home economics and vocational agriculture courses. Marion Industrial School is very adequately facilitated with proper equipment for an industrial art course. The transportational facilities to and from the schools in the parish are excellent and up to par according to standards. No child has to walk over ½ mile.

Union Parish has come a long way from the annals of the past and has developed rapidly in the last few years. With proposed industry slated to make an appearance in the parish, its already innumerable features, and its leaders with the modern know-how techniques, Union is marked to be one of the leading parishes in the state.

Pioneer Spirit Still Thriving In Union Parish

By JOHN EARL TAYLOR

A lone, hardy pioneer after treeking across the wilderness of Alabama and Mississippi and into North Louisiana in the latter 1780's soon carved from the vast wilderness a teeming agricultural territory known now as Union Parish. This man according to historical records was John Honeycutt.

The echelon of settlers that followed close behind Honeycutt were mainly trappers and hunters. Possibly this group of people was trying to move on from conditions that existed along the eastern coastal area.

Honeycutt, according to the records, was granted a tract of land from the Spanish government, under whose dominion the state of Louisiana was at that time, in the year 1790.

Learning from a group of Indians camped near the mouth of Bayou Cornie that a family of settlers lived nearby, Honeycutt decided to traverse the distance to pay his respects. After traveling about 15 miles, Honeycutt came upon the cabin of a man named Feazel. To his surprise and delight, Honeycutt discovered that Feazel had several daughters of marrying age. Needing a wife, Honeycutt asked for one of Feazel's daughters in matrimony.

Feazel, wanting to be accommodating, lined his daughters up for Honeycutt's inspection. According to an age-old tradition, Honeycutt pointed to his choice and in a pioneer fashion said, "I'll take this 'un." This marriage gave rise to many prominent descendants who were instrumental in the development of Union Parish and portions of northern Louisiana.

First Settlers

Settlers of Anglo-Saxon descent from Virginia, the Carolinas, and Tennessee were primarily farmers and they sought out the river areas and bayou lands. Some of their early homesites were located along the Bayous D'Arbonne, Cornie and De Loutre in Union Parish.

The territory of Orleans, as it was called in 1807, was divided into 19 parishes with Ouachita being the most northerly. In 1839, Union Parish was created out of the northern part of Ouachita Parish. It has an area of 910 square miles, is situated in the northeastern portion of the state, and is bounded on the north by the state of Arkansas, on the east by the Ouachita River separating it from Morehouse, on the south by Ouachita and Lincoln Parishes and on the west by Claiborne Parish.

A bit of controversy arose from the selection of a name for the county seat in 1839. Some wanted it named Woodville, in honor of Matthew Wood, a first settler and president of the first police jury. This was against Wood's wishes so the parish seat was named Farmerville after Lt. Gov. W. W. Farmer. A most distinguished man, Farmer then had a strong hand in the affairs of the state. He is buried in Farmerville, his grave being one of the first there. At the time the section was made a parish, the estimation of the population was about 1,800.

On May 16, 1839, the first police jury met to establish some form of government for the parish. The jury named Matthew Wood as its president, Thomas Van Hook as clerk, W. C. Carr, sheriff, Claiborne M. Smith, recorder. Thomas Van Hook was the first district clerk and John Taylor, the first judge in the parish. The group set about to organize the forces of a community government. Three assessors were appointed for the year 1839.

There grew also out of this centralization, according to records, a sort of police force known as the "patrol." The patrolman's primary duty was to see that none of the Negro slaves left the plantations to which they belonged without proper passes. It was also the job of the 'patrol" to see that curfew that had been established was observed.

The diligence and perseverance of this first governmental body was very commendable for a pioneer one. It continued to pass measures for the improvement of roads, better organization of the government, and more emphasis on education.

On September 21, the jury passed a measure providing for the erection of Union Parish's first court house. The plans called for a structure 34 feet long by 26 feet wide, two stories high with first floor 10 feet high and the second only seven feet. This was to have been of frame construction.

There was an alteration in plans whereby the building was to become a brick one and it was to be 36 feet by 28 feet.

Family Feuds

A traditional political battle and feud ensued in the history of Union Parish as it has in the history of any nation. It was between the Wood and Harvey families. Col. Matthew Wood headed the former and Peter Harvey the latter.

The Harveys were fixed Democrats and the Woods, extreme Whigs. In 1840, the Democratic party nominated Martin Van Buren for a second term as president while the Whigs had as their choice William Henry Harrison.

The Whigs in that election, hung coonskins on their gates which were symbolic as to the party that they belonged to. General Harrison had worn a coonskin cap in his famous escapades and campaigns.

Harrison was elected by a large majority and his supporters in Union Parish as well as in the nation, were jubilant. But their glory was short lived because Harrison, weary from the campaign died shortly after.

News of his death soon spread over Union Parish and according to records, Wood wore a strip of black cloth on his arm, mourning the death of his beloved general.

Wood drew his pistol and fired point blank at Harvey. The bullet struck a button on Harvey's coat and glanced off, wounding him slightly. Harvey rushed Wood and took the pistol away from him and began to strike Wood some punishing blows. Willis Wood, son of the elder Wood intervened and took his father out of town. Wood after a few days left for Texas but came back several years later and settled near his son in Lincoln parish.

Steamboat Days

About the first steamboat on the Bayou D'Arbonne was the "Pioneer." This and other boats traveled between Monroe and Stein's Bluff, a distance of 80 miles, twice a week.

As boats were means of transporting supplies and food stuffs as well as persons, it was essential that a fairly good system of water transportation be maintained.

According to old "Uncle Mark" Rabun, steamboating was quite popular. He could remember his first trip up the Cornie Bayou with even the cheering and hollering of the people that crowded the banks. He stated that on the trip they loaded 30 bales of cotton and filled the rest of the space with passengers. They journeyed as far as Dubach, then known as Colvin's Store.

Among the last of the steamboat captains to help retire the steamboats of Union parish into the annals of history was the late Capt. Oscar Baughman. He had been commander of a good many boats which operated on and near the Ouachita River.

When the railroad made its appearance in 1904 the steamboat faded from the scene, but the memories of the accounts and legends of these boats and men who had a traditional part in the exciting, colorful, and dramatic riverboat history of the south, still lingers on.

Not to be lacking in the field of journalism a man by the name of J. M. Rabun established the first newspaper in Farmerville entitled "Union Record" in the year 1870. There have been some to say that a paper "The Inquirer" was founded in 1855, but no definite evidence can be shown.

The only competition to the "Union Record" was not until eight years later, which was in the form of "The Baptist Messenger" published by Rev. S. C. Lee, a prominent Baptist minister in Union Parish.

During that same year the "Union Record" was sold to J. E. Trimble and the name of the paper was changed to "The Gazette." This title is still retained by Emmett J. Lee and Ben M. Lee present owners and operators. The paper today, as it has been in the past, is the official journal of the Union Parish Police Jury and the Union Parish School Board.

"The Afro-American," a Negro journal made its debut in 1895, but folded within a year because its publisher, a Baptist, criticized the way the Methodist Negroes were holding a revival. He was whipped and run out of town.

Tragic Romance

"In the Gloaming," an old time favorite cherished and loved by many Americans, was composed in Union Parish by a then young and beautiful music teacher Anna Portesque Harrison.

The song as one can see by its first verse "In the gloaming, o my darling, when the lights are dim and low, and the quiet shadows falling softly come and softly go. When the winds are sobbing faintly with a gentle, unknown woe, Will you think of me and love me as you did once long ago?", grew out of a tragic romance.

Miss Harrison, along with her mother, had established themselves in the old Hopkins home (as it is known in the vicinity of Marion) as musical instructors to the daughters of Rev. Elias George.

As the story goes Miss Harrison, a truly young and pretty miss, fell in love with a native Louisianian, Miles Goldsby. Miss Harrison's mother along with some friends strongly advocated that she no longer see Goldsby. Their reason being one of ancient origin. "He's not the man for such a proper, refined and cultured girl as you." She was finally convinced that a marriage would be unsuccessful.

This was a calamity in the life of Anna Harrison and before she had returned to her native city, New Orleans, the ballad of sentimentality "In the Gloaming" had been written. It was not published until later after her arrival in New Orleans.

Another factor is that some farmers has allowed the natural seedlings to become small stands of timber. In doing this, the farmer has possibly put future money in his pocket by utilizing land that is detrimental to the prosperity of his farm.

The agricultural and forestry "commissions" of the parish are now headed by a group of officials who are definitely interested in the well - being and future of Union Parish.

The parish has access to some of the finer agricultural lands in North Louisiana. Of the 86,548 acres of land suitable for farming 21,337 are classified as A-1. The remainder fall into two other categories namely one of the mediocre type and then the poorer classification. There are 35,367 acres of pasture lands and 397,432 acres of woodland.

OLIN INDUSTRIES

Of the 574,200 total acres in the parish, Olin Industries owns 170,620 acres. The major expectation of industry for the parish rests upon the shoulders of this corporation. It has been authenticated by representatives of the firm that a manufacturing concern is to be located in Union Parish. With the coming of this plant, Union Parish should have new roads of progress thrown open to it.

Union Parish is the third largest parish taxpayer in severance tax in the state of Louisiana. This tax is used primarily for the maintenance of roads, schools and welfare programs. The number of taxpayers participating in the Homestead Exemption measure is 3,356. The total number of taxpayers is 6,304. The grand total tax collection for 1953 was $606,043.01.

OVER 1000 OIL, GAS WELLS

The parish has, located within its boundaries, 972 gas wells and 198 oil wells. Two major gas companies pipe lines (25 in. and 30 in.) span the parish and several others cross it in various sections.

GAME AND WILDLIFE

In 1948 the sportsmen of Union Parish organized the "Union Parish Sportsmen Game Association" and affiliated itself with the state wildlife organization, which is composed of between 18 and 20 thousand members from the parishes in Louisiana. Fred Hamilton, of Downsville, has been president since the Union Parish federation's organization. Vice - president, B. H. Howard of Port Union Plantation, has been succeeded by Dr. J. D. Miller, deputy sheriff of Union Parish. Armond Rabun, a Farmerville attorney, has been secretary - treasurer since the organization began.

The Union Parish Association, working with the Pittman-Robinson section of Louisiana Wildlife Fisheries Commission has secured within the parish one game refuge of approximately 15,000 acres. The refuge has been in existence for five years and through the trapping facilities there have been released in Union Parish in the past three years around 300 deer. The parish is closed to deer hunting for a period of five years except an area along the Ouachita River west to the Missouri - Pacific railroad. The parish's season is to open in 1958. It is reported that in the narrowest strip which was open for deer hunting last year, 30 buck deer were taken. This is something that hasn't taken place in Union Parish in over half a century.

The Union Parish fair held in Farmerville each year is very instrumental in showing, the residents and visitors as well, the excellent products that were raised and produced throughout the year. Recently a new display building, rodeo arena, and a stock enclosure was constructed to take care of the increasing interest that has been shown toward the annual display of farm produce and home achievements.

PARISH SCHOOL BOARD

Between the years 1947 and 1952, the Union Parish School Board spent over $1,000,000 in the construction and renovation of educational buildings for both the white and colored schools. According to informants most of this sum has been used for new buildings.

The 10 schools coming under jurisdiction of the Union Parish School Board are Linville, Marion, Farmerville, Downsville, Bernice, Spearsville, Douglas, Union Parish Training School, Elliott, and Marion Industrial. The last four named are for colored students.

All of the high schools offer general, business, vocational home economics and vocational agriculture courses. Marion Industrial School is very adequately facilitated with proper equipment for an industrial art course. The transportational facilities to and from the schools in the parish are excellent and up to par according to standards. No child has to walk over ½ mile.

Union Parish has come a long way from the annals of the past and has developed rapidly in the last few years. With proposed industry slated to make an appearance in the parish, its already innumerable features, and its leaders with the modern know-how techniques, Union is marked to be one of the leading parishes in the state.

First Methodist Church Will Show Wesley Film

He stated that the church qualified for this special pre-release showing by making a contribution toward the cost of the feature-length color film.

Produced by the Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church, the picture was filmed in England for the American church by the J. Arthur Rank organization. The total cost was over $200,000, which motion picture leaders say has produced a picture worth far more than that expenditure.

The dramatic and influential life of the 18th century evangelist will be brought to the screen for the first time in this film which runs one hour and 17 minutes.

Wesley was the founder of the evangelical movement which grew into a family of Methodist churches in the world, one of which is America's largest Protestant denomination.

Historians also credit his movement with creating such a transformation in the life of late 18th century England that the country escaped an experience of violence similar to the French Revolution.

Leonard Sachs, outstanding English stage and television actor, portrays the famous "horseman of the Lord," as Wesley came to be known as he rode up and down England winning thousands of people to a new understanding of religion and a transformed life.

Date of the premiere showing at First Methodist Church will be May 6, 7, 8, 9. Two showings will be given each evening, at 7 and 8:30 p.m., to accommodate the large numbers expected. Everyone is invited, admission will be free.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: I simply can't see the use of praying. What difference does it make? Do you seriously believe that my prayers can change the will of God and persuade Him to give me what I want? R. S.

ANSWER: Let me say at once that while I sympathize with your feelings, I don't agree with your theology! You seem to have got your ideas about prayer all mixed up.

Let me try to help you by saying this. Prayer is not our persuading God to do what we want. It is asking God to help us — and others — to do what He wants. When Jesus gave us the model prayer He taught us to say, "Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven" (Matt. 6:10). That is the only thing that really matters — His will, not ours. In the Garden of Gethsemane Jesus Himself prayed, "Not My will, but Thine be done."

When we pray we put ourselves in vital touch with God. That is what prayer is in its simplest form. It is not just asking God for things. Still less is it trying to command His will. Real prayer is enjoying fellowship with God, thanking Him for His goodness and talking to Him about our needs and the needs of others, just as a child would talk to his father.

I believe prayer is the most wonderful force we Christians can use. It lifts us up to God. It brings us in tune with the Infinite. It is like a spiritual cable which brings the power of heaven into our lives.

You ask me, Does prayer make any difference? I answer with conviction, and from personal experience — Yes! A thousand times Yes!

Dr. Falshaw, Counselor In N. Y. Church, To Visit

Interdenominational prayer groups of the Twin Cities have arranged for Dr. Gladys Falshaw, who is presently a counselor at Calvary Episcopal Church in New York City, to conduct a prayer service in Grace Episcopal Church in Monroe on Monday, May 3. A spokesman for these groups urges all interested persons to be present for the service which is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m.

DR. FALSHAW

Dr. Falshaw, a native of England, a graduate of the University of Paris, where she earned her doctorate in literature, was confirmed in the Church of England in 1939, and was a missionary to India for many years. In recent years she has traveled across the United States speaking to groups in behalf of India's needy millions. During these speaking engagements she was increasingly called on for spiritual aid and her lectures were transformed into spiritual missions.

Now at Calvary Church she is continuing and extending her work in spiritual counseling and is, in addition, conducting quiet days and schools of prayer with the permission of the bishop of New York. "Many people in various churches of the Twin Cities have found Dr. Falshaw's spiritual guidance of great help and have found deeper meaning and fuller service in their own church sacraments," the prayer group spokesman said, "and it is hoped that many others will on this occasion find such enrichment."

United Church Women To Hold Fellowship Lunch

On Friday, May 7, at 11:45 a.m., United Church Women of Monroe and West Monroe will hold the second meeting of the year in the form of a covered-dish luncheon in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church of Monroe. The theme is to be "Christian Women's Trusteeship."

The project selected by United Church Women for this year in the Twin Cities is the sponsoring of a good will industries in Monroe.

Lawrence A. Shirley and Ernest Reed will be the guest speakers on this occasion. Mr. Shirley has served 25 years as head of the Shreveport organization of Goodwill Industries. Under his supervision sales in Goodwill stores have increased from $5,000 in 1930 to $90,000 in 1953. Mr. Shirley is recognized as one of the outstanding executive directors in the United States. His region comprises Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, and west Tennessee. Mr. Shirley and Mr. Reed will show a film picturing the workings of Goodwill Industries.

Ernest H. Reed is pastor-emeritus of Kings Highway Christian Church of Shreveport. He was formerly secretary of the Louisiana Christian Missionary Society. He is presently the chaplain and public relations director of the Goodwill Industries of Shreveport.

Goodwill Industries is a "non-profit charitable organization." It is non - sectarian in service and control but holds that religion is all important in rebuilding human lives. Speakers of all faiths lead the workers' morning chapel. The purpose of a Goodwill Industries is to provide training, employment and rehabilitation for the physically and mentally handicapped and to provide work suited for people with limited facilities for work, giving training and confidence to develop him to his fullest capacities and utilization. Goodwill Industries "help the handicapped help themselves."

Goodwill Industries collects discarded shoes, clothing, furniture, and other household articles which people no longer want or need and repairs these discarded articles making them usable again. Goodwill Industries is run like a business but gives employment to physically and mentally handicapped people.

All wives of ministers of the Twin Cities are invited to come and bring their husbands. Presidents of outstanding local civic organizations also are invited. United Church Women urge all church women to come and bring a covered dish for this May fellowship luncheon.

In addition to the address, there was scheduled election of officers and reports from retiring officers. These reports were made by Robertson, president of Lake Charles; Jim Donaldson, vice - president, also of Lake Charles; Peggy Donaldson, secretary, also from Lake Charles; and Mary Law, treasurer, New Orleans.

First Methodist Church Will Show Wesley Film

He stated that the church qualified for this special pre-release showing by making a contribution toward the cost of the feature-length color film.

Produced by the Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church, the picture was filmed in England for the American church by the J. Arthur Rank organization. The total cost was over $200,000, which motion picture leaders say has produced a picture worth far more than that expenditure.

The dramatic and influential life of the 18th century evangelist will be brought to the screen for the first time in this film which runs one hour and 17 minutes.

Wesley was the founder of the evangelical movement which grew into a family of Methodist churches in the world, one of which is America's largest Protestant denomination.

Historians also credit his movement with creating such a transformation in the life of late 18th century England that the country escaped an experience of violence similar to the French Revolution.

Leonard Sachs, outstanding English stage and television actor, portrays the famous "horseman of the Lord," as Wesley came to be known as he rode up and down England winning thousands of people to a new understanding of religion and a transformed life.

Date of the premiere showing at First Methodist Church will be May 6, 7, 8, 9. Two showings will be given each evening, at 7 and 8:30 p.m., to accommodate the large numbers expected. Everyone is invited, admission will be free.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: I simply can't see the use of praying. What difference does it make? Do you seriously believe that my prayers can change the will of God and persuade Him to give me what I want? R. S.

ANSWER: Let me say at once that while I sympathize with your feelings, I don't agree with your theology! You seem to have got your ideas about prayer all mixed up.

Let me try to help you by saying this. Prayer is not our persuading God to do what we want. It is asking God to help us — and others — to do what He wants. When Jesus gave us the model prayer He taught us to say, "Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven" (Matt. 6:10). That is the only thing that really matters — His will, not ours. In the Garden of Gethsemane Jesus Himself prayed, "Not My will, but Thine be done."

When we pray we put ourselves in vital touch with God. That is what prayer is in its simplest form. It is not just asking God for things. Still less is it trying to command His will. Real prayer is enjoying fellowship with God, thanking Him for His goodness and talking to Him about our needs and the needs of others, just as a child would talk to his father.

I believe prayer is the most wonderful force we Christians can use. It lifts us up to God. It brings us in tune with the Infinite. It is like a spiritual cable which brings the power of heaven into our lives.

You ask me. Does prayer make any difference? I answer with conviction, and from personal experience — Yes! A thousand times Yes!

Dr. Falshaw, Counselor In N. Y. Church, To Visit

DR. FALSHAW

Interdenominational prayer groups of the Twin Cities have arranged for Dr. Gladys Falshaw, who is presently a counselor at Calvary Episcopal Church in New York City, to conduct a prayer service in Grace Episcopal Church in Monroe on Monday, May 3. A spokesman for these groups urges all interested persons to be present for the service which is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m.

Dr. Falshaw, a native of England, a graduate of the University of Paris, where she earned her doctorate in literature, was confirmed in the Church of England in 1939, and was a missionary to India for many years. In recent years she has traveled across the United States speaking to groups in behalf of India's needy millions. During these speaking engagements she was increasingly called on for spiritual aid and her lectures were transformed into spiritual missions.

Now at Calvary Church she is continuing and extending her work in spiritual counseling and is, in addition, conducting quiet days and schools of prayer with the permission of the bishop of New York. "Many people in various churches of the Twin Cities have found Dr. Falshaw's spiritual guidance of great help and have found deeper meaning and fuller service in their own church sacraments," the prayer group spokesman said, "and it is hoped that many others will on this occasion find such enrichment."

United Church Women To Hold Fellowship Lunch

On Friday, May 7, at 11:45 a.m., United Church Women of Monroe and West Monroe will hold the second meeting of the year in the form of a covered-dish luncheon in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church of Monroe. The theme is to be "Christian Women's Trusteeship."

The project selected by United Church Women for this year in the Twin Cities is the sponsoring of a good will industries in Monroe.

Lawrence A. Shirley and Ernest Reed will be the guest speakers on this occasion. Mr. Shirley has served 25 years as head of the Shreveport organization of Goodwill Industries. Under his supervision sales in Goodwill stores have increased from $5,000 in 1930 to $90,000 in 1953. Mr. Shirley is recognized as one of the outstanding executive directors in the United States. His region comprises Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, and west Tennessee. Mr. Shirley and Mr. Reed will show a film picturing the workings of Goodwill Industries.

Ernest H. Reed is pastor-emeritus of Kings Highway Christian Church of Shreveport. He was formerly secretary of the Louisiana Christian Missionary Society. He is presently the chaplain and public relations director of the Goodwill Industries of Shreveport.

Goodwill Industries is a "non-profit charitable organization." It is non - sectarian in service and control but holds that religion is all important in rebuilding human lives. Speakers of all faiths lead the workers' morning chapel. The purpose of a Goodwill Industries is to provide training, employment and rehabilitation for the physically and mentally handicapped and to provide work suited for people with limited facilities for work, giving training and confidence to develop him to his fullest capacities and utilization. Goodwill Industries "help the handicapped help themselves."

Goodwill Industries collects discarded shoes, clothing, furniture, and other household articles which people no longer want or need and repairs these discarded articles making them usable again. Goodwill Industries is run like a business but gives employment to physically and mentally handicapped people.

All wives of ministers of the Twin Cities are invited to come and bring their husbands. Presidents of outstanding local civic organizations also are invited. United Church Women urge all church women to come and bring a covered dish for this May fellowship luncheon.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

May Will Be Busy Month In Garden

May third through the eighth is National Home Demonstration Week. History reveals that certain movements have caused lasting and important changes in the lives of people. We believe the home demonstration movement is one of these. Call on your Home Demonstration agents to help you to help your home, your family, and your community.

In The Garden

You can plant the following seed this month, sweet alyssum, four o'clock, periwinkle (bush type, vinca rosea), moonflower (vine), sunflower, portulaca (moss Rose), ageratum, tithona (Mexican sun flower), marigold, (tall and dwarf) torenia, cosmos, zinnia, balsam, African golden daisy, and princess feather.

This is the month that your violets can be divided with single plants and reset in a bed with lots of leaf mold. However, the foliage on my plants is a foot long so I'll wait until fall to transplant. You may have the same situation. If you have any extra violet plants, please call me. So many gardeners are asking for them.

The old day lily never disappoints us. There are different varieties that bloom from early spring until frost. They can be moved at any time. Many are evergreen and will go through the drouth well. They do respond to watering. They are beautiful along garden paths, on hill sides and slopes and the dwarf ones make nice borders.

I've had four calls this morning asking if its all right to cut back the early blooming bulb foliage. For blooms next season, leave that foliage on until it is completely dead. Also, wait to transplant these bulbs when they're dormant—in August. You can divide your native iris. Plant where there's plenty of humus in the soil. They like damp places but this is not necessary. They, too, are planted shallow and they like acid soil.

For lawns that are root infested, cotton seed meal is an excellent fertilizer because it helps make the soil, decays slowly and feeds over a long period of time. Root infested lawns could have a light sprinkling of complete fertilizer every month during spring and early summer.

If you'll cut back your larkspur, stock, daisies, and other spring blooming plants that have finished their blooming, they'll put out new growth and a second flowering. Sprinkle a little 5-10-5 around the plants to give them a boost.

Unless you have a good mulch in your beds, you'll spend the next few days weeding. Every rain brings on the obnoxious things. Be careful not to uproot small plants as you viciously snatch at these enemies.

I've just had a call saying "Those who love roses should go by the Robinson home, 601 Georgia Street and the Dupont Garden, 810 Alabama.

Mr. Pill and Friends

For old Mr. Pill Bug — get a 50 per cent DDT dust and sprinkle on the ground in your beds. This should put a quick end to him. One to two pounds of 6 per cent chlordane sprinkled on the lawn will get rid of ants and red bugs, around the play pen and sand pile where the little ones play.

I can't understand why mildew is so prevalent this year. The weather has been dry — however — it's here and in quantities. The verbenia and crepe myrtles are especially hard hit. I'd suggest cutting back the verbena, fertilizing, and dusting with sulphur. This same sulphur will get the mildew on the crepe myrtles. Don't forget to dust sulphur when the foliage is completely dry.

For crayfish, use one pound of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder to 10 gallons of water. Put about a cup full in each crayfish hole. It's a little like putting salt on the birds tail to catch him, but the crayfish makes a pretty obvious hole that won't be too hard to find.

Plentiful Foods

Style Forecast

Milady, it seems, will wear gloves shorter than short this summer. They'll reach just to the wristbone, may have a small cuff or none at all. For dress wear and after-five gatherings, there are the white and pastel kids. Dressy day time shorties are cape skin in white and pastels. Gloves of town and country are soft, dove gray with hand saddle stitching. Capeskins are both lighter and more simple; pigskins are both soft and lustrous.

Air conditioning temperatures to please all is an impossibility, so the very cold natured will wear stoles and cotton coats this summer. Cotton coats and suits have arrived with a bang this year. One item that's making fashion news is the tailored cotton chesterfield with velveteen collar. The new dark cottons will prove as practical for late summer as for fall and winter.

Did you ever buy a dress labeled "fabric washable" then when it was laundered the zipper or trimming faded? A fabric washability guarantee is just what it says. The trimmings are not insured washable. Most houses do keep up their reputation by being careful about this, but it's a good idea to read your label. Zippers, buttons, lining, thread, stiffening, decorative trimming and the cut of the garment and method of construction most certainly influence washability.

I'll see you Tuesday on KNOE-TV at the new time—1:30 p.m. We will plan and plant our lawns. See you next Sunday in this same column.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Best Things To Do With Wooded Area

If you have too much lot to grow grass on and still have a woodsy area left over when you have laid out your garden and grounds, you can keep this wooded section as a sort of wild part of the property without doing too much to it. Many home owners are a bit puzzled as to how to go about this, howeever. They do not know what to take out and what to leave in the woods. The first thing to do is to go over the whole section looking at the shade trees. High shade is a wonderful thing to have. Maybe some of the tallest and largest trees are damaged at the bottom or leaning. If you have plenty of big trees, these can come out, but if there are few tall trees, hesitate a long time before you take out the few that are there. Keep them until smaller ones can take their places.

One of the best things you can do to help you see the wooded area is to remove some of the low branches from the taller trees. Then you will be able to see through and get an idea of what the whole place is like. If you are lucky enough to have many dogwoods, you can remove all but two or three of the main trunks from those which are just large bunches of shrubby tops. It takes years for such bushy dogwoods to bloom. If you need them as a low screen to hide neighboring buildings or for privacy, that is a different matter. In such cases, you will not wish to cut out much of anything from the area ten or fifteen feet from your property line.

Honeysuckle and poison ivy should be grubbed up or killed with weed killer and then pulled out if they are at all plentiful on your lot. Both of these vines will increase as time goes on and destroy all your good plants or make the area dangerous. Of course, you would not let anyone burn poison ivy because of the danger of its reaching people who might be close by. As we have mentioned in the column before, winter is the best time to use weed killer on honeysuckle. You have to use it almost double strength, but when the leaves are off everything but the honeysuckle (it is nearly evergreen), there is little danger of the gas from 2-4D weed killer's damaging nearby plants. Poison oak or ivy does not have evergreen leaves and so must be sprayed with weed killer in the growing season.

If you dislike the brown leaves on the ground under the trees and shrubs in a wild area, you can plant periwinkle or ivy or some other ground cover in the shade. The disadvantage of the ivy is that it will surely climb the trees in time, and you will have to remove it every single year if you do not want it on your trees. We have pointed out before that heart leaves or wild ginger of the evergreen kinds make a gorgeous ground cover for densely shaded or even sparsely shaded areas under trees. These plants will not spread nor creep, but you can buy them at reasonable prices from the dealers in wild flowers in our southern mountains. The two evergreen kinds are listed in catalogues and in wild flower books as Asarum virginica and A. arifolia. You will remember that they are the plants with little brown aromatic flowers which are hidden almost under the ground when you find them in the spring.

The very simplest thing to do with all the small wild bushes you find growing willy - nilly over the woods is to take them up and plant them in a wide border all around the edge of your woods. A few can be set out in small groups together, too, here and there in the woods. If you will replant them immediately in their new location, you will not lose many after a good watering. They can even be moved in the summer if you will cut them back and see to it that they do not dry out. The two kinds of arrow - wood, various little wild huckle - berries, wild haws, fringe trees, buck - eyes and many other kinds have flowers and colored leaves that are worth having in the woods garden, especially in the fall.

Yellow jessamine, trumpet vine, cross vine and coral honeysuckle or woodbine can be transplanted easily to a suitable tree or to an old trunk of a dead tree to climb up and then spill over. These vines respond wonderfully to a little care and food. All but the trumpet vine can grow in as much as half shade, and, of course, the jessamine and the cross vine are evergreens which brighten up the woods in winter.

There are a good many tough wild flowers which you can establish in large beds in the woods with little or no trouble. The small clumps of chrysogonum are easy to move and will live in oak and pine woods. Many kinds of ferns are also easy to move, and so is the little iris chrystata which blooms in deep woods in the middle of the spring. The very best way to get your wild flowers is to order them by the dozen or hundred from one of the wild flower nurseries. You can then add to these quantities with the things you can find and transplant fresh with a large ball of soil on each one from your own property somewhere in the country. There is no sense in stealing wild flowers from other people when you have a friend who will let you collect them.

Annual Garden Show Held By Delhi Club

The Delhi Garden Club held its Spring Flower Show April 14 at the Country Club. There were 36 entries in the arrangement division. In this division there were 10 blue ribbons, 11 red ribbons, and pine white ribbons. Mrs. B. Skidmore won the sweepstake prize in the arrangement division for having the most points.

There were 97 entries in the horticulture division. In this division there were 44 blue ribbons, 29 red ribbons and 14 white ribbons. Mrs. Gertrude Phillips won the tri-color award in this division for having the most outstanding flower on exhibit.

Prune Your Trees To Natural Shape

The pruning of a tree usually is quite a problem to an amateur. In fact, many so-called professional gardeners do not seem to know how to shape a tree correctly. There is no better guide to follow with trees than that afforded by nature.

We all know, whether we have realized it or not, that most young trees growing in the open and free from interference of any kind, develop an attractive symmetrical form and usually require little pruning.

This state of affairs continues for several years and then from one cause or another, frequently through competition of closely placed branches, limbs weaken and eventually die. Such condition also results from malnutrition, drouth or repeated defoliation by insects or diseases.

Quality Of Plant Judged

Another series of flower show judging schools is being sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs of the fifth district school No. I will be held in Monroe in June, exact date to be announced later. The question is asked why flower show schools? Primarily, of course, to train good judges — to assure the garden clubs of having their flower shows judged according to accepted standards. More important —to take the guess out of exhibiting.

The exhibitor learns the fundamental principles that are a part of every prize - winning entry. Lessons on design, color, plant material and growth all aid in making "your idea" the masterpiece which wins the blue ribbon. But judging schools have a larger scope; the education of the spectator. It is understood that those with some knowledge of music enjoy a concert more. Also, one who recognizes beauty of line, loveliness of color and form enjoys a trip to an art museum with greater appreciation.

Why is it not equally important to view a flower show with a trained eye?

Is it not more pleasant to have an acquaintance with native plants, to know how to produce a specimen, and to have the appreciation that a truly fine arrangement never "just happens"?

Judges this week were Mrs. John Devine of Tallulah and Mrs. C. E. McKenzie of Monroe. The Bastrop Garden Clubs exhibited lovely arrangements and fine horticulture. Mrs. J. E. Jackson was awarded first place in the arrangement section. Mrs. Jackson created a lovely triangular arrangement of Bells of Ireland and yellow (Sutter's Gold) roses in a low gray container.

Running a very close second was Mrs. B. K. Conger's mass arrangement of sweet peas. Airy nandina foliage was used as a background for the color harmony shading from pink into deep purple. Mrs. Conger also made a mass arrangement of snapdragons in shades of red which was awarded a third place.

In the horticulture section, Mrs. J. E. Jackson was awarded blue ribbons for pink geranium and Casa Morena iris. Mrs. Conger red ribbon for Missouri iris. Also on display were wonderful specimen iris from the gardens of Harry Hipp, Calhoun, anl Mrs. W. R. Gates West Monroe. Mr. Hipp displayed Ola Kala, a deep yellow ruffled, Cascade Splendor, a beautiful copper - pink blend and Moonlit Sea, deep purple veined. Mrs Gates displayed Amandine, large flaring yellow slightly ruffled, and Blue Rhythm, a cornflower blue, fine bloomer on widely branched stems. Mrs. R. R. Piggott exhibited a double red Amaryllis of the McCann strain, "Helen Hull," named for our national council president of 1948-1949. Several iris enthusiasts have mentioned the need of a local iris society.

Any gardener interested in joining such a society please contact the garden center. "Lovely Louisiana" the Welcome Garden Club's flower show was a joy to behold. We have many fine gardeners in the district as witnessed by the wonderful flowers exhibited in the horticulture section. The artistry of the arrangers will long be remembered. Next Tuesday, May 4, The Iris Garden Club of Delhi and Newellton Garden Club will hold their flower shows.

If a pot holder or some other small item is set ablaze, you can extinguish it with baking soda. The carbon dioxide that's thrown off when baking soda is thrown on the fire cuts off the oxygen that's necessary for combustion.

THE HOME SHIFT—

May Will Be Busy Month In Garden

May third through the eighth is National Home Demonstration Week. History reveals that certain movements have caused lasting and important changes in the lives of people. We believe the home demonstration movement is one of these. Call on your Home Demonstration agents to help you to help your home, your family, and your community.

In The Garden

You can plant the following seed this month, sweet alyssum, four o'clock, periwinkle (bush type, vinca rosea), moonflower (vine), sunflower, portulaca (moss Rose), ageratum, tithona (Mexican sun flower), marigold, (tall and dwarf) torenia, cosmos, zinnia, balsam, African golden daisy, and princess feather.

This is the month that your violets can be divided with single plants and reset in a bed with lots of leaf mold. However, the foliage on my plants is a foot long so I'll wait until fall to transplant. You may have the same situation. If you have any extra violet plants, please call me. So many gardeners are asking for them.

The old day lily never disappoints us. There are different varieties that bloom from early spring until frost. They can be moved at any time. Many are evergreen and will go through the drouth well. They do respond to watering. They are beautiful along garden paths, on hill sides and slopes and the dwarf ones make nice borders.

I've had four calls this morning asking if its all right to cut back the early blooming bulb foliage. For blooms next season, leave that foliage on until it is completely dead. Also, wait to transplant these bulbs when they're dormant—in August. You can divide your native iris. Plant where there's plenty of humus in the soil. They like damp places but this is not necessary. They, too, are planted shallow and they like acid soil.

For lawns that are root infested, cotton seed meal is an excellent fertilizer because it helps make the soil, decays slowly and feeds over a long period of time. Root infested lawns could have a light sprinkling of complete fertilizer every month during spring and early summer.

If you'll cut back your larkspur, stock, daisies, and other spring blooming plants that have finished their blooming, they'll put out new growth and a second flowering. Sprinkle a little 5-10-5 around the plants to give them a boost.

Unless you have a good mulch in your beds, you'll spend the next few days weeding. Every rain brings on the obnoxious things. Be careful not to uproot small plants as you viciously snatch at these enemies.

I've just had a call saying "Those who love roses should go by the Robinson home, 601 Georgia Street and the Dupont Garden, 810 Alabama.

Mr. Pill and Friends

For old Mr. Pill Bug — get a 50 per cent DDT dust and sprinkle on the ground in your beds. This should put a quick end to him. One to two pounds of 6 per cent chlordane sprinkled on the lawn will get rid of ants and red bugs, around the play pen and sand pile where the little ones play.

I can't understand why mildew is so prevalent this year. The weather has been dry — however — it's here and in quantities. The verbenia and crepe myrtles are especially hard hit. I'd suggest cutting back the verbena, fertilizing, and dusting with sulphur. This same sulphur will get the mildew on the crepe myrtles. Don't forget to dust sulphur when the foliage is completely dry.

For crayfish, use one pound of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder to 10 gallons of water. Put about a cup full in each crayfish hole. It's a little like putting salt on the birds tail to catch him, but the crayfish makes a pretty obvious hole that won't be too hard to find.

Plentiful Foods

Style Forecast

Milady, it seems, will wear gloves shorter than short this summer. They'll reach just to the wristbone, may have a small cuff or none at all. For dress wear and after-five gatherings, there are the white and pastel kids. Dressy day time shorties are cape skin in white and pastels. Gloves of town and country are soft, dove gray with hand saddle stitching. Capeskins are both lighter and more simple; pigskins are both soft and lustrous.

Air conditioning temperatures to please all is an impossibility, so the very cold natured will wear stoles and cotton coats this summer. Cotton coats and suits have arrived with a bang this year. Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Because of poor lighting, many women actually do a professional job of AGING their faces with make-up

You Need Proper Light To Apply Your Makeup

In a recent conversation Max Factor Jr. brought up a most interesting idea and followed with some suggestions which will be valuable to you. He said, "A woman can take 10 years off of her appearance if she will throw the correct light on her face when applying her makeup."

This is something that most of us forget. We are apt to turn on any old light and squint along or make up for daytime under artificial light or sit at a dressing table with lovely but completely deluding and inefficient lighting.

Mr. Factor continued, "Most women around middle age become so busy and involved that they are not aware of the fact that the lighting under which they apply make-up is inadequate. Therefore, day after day they do an almost professional job of AGING their faces in an attempt to overcome the shadows they see in the mirror, shadows which do not exist in real life."

Wrong Light Adds Years

The higher - than - your - head light casts deep shadows under your eyes and around your nose and mouth. I discovered this years ago when testing microphones and lights for lectures. When the only lights were those high above my head I looked so awful that I used to rush out and look at myself in the broad daylight. I was always consoled because I looked much younger in daylight than I did under the overhead lights. Now with the proper lighting I can look 15 years younger than I did years ago with incorrect lighting.

While you do not have to stand up and talk to an audience under your bathroom or dressing table lights you are certain to apply your make up in a way unflattering to you when on the street or at the grocery store or when lunching at some restaurant or in some home. You will put too much makeup on in order to compensate for the shadows and are likely to use the wrong colors.

Make It Count

This is one of those seemingly superficial things which can make a magic difference in your appearance. How you apply your makeup and what kind you use IS superficial when compared to the real issues and problems of life, but if you are going to use make-up why not make it do something for you?

If you would like to have my leaflet, "What's Going On?" (makeup tricks) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 to Josephine Lowman in care of Morning World.

PATTERN M244 by Charles Kleibacker

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I have been dating a girl "steady" for over a year and am very fond of her. However, she has no intentions of settling down. I am 24 and she is 21. I don't know why she keeps dating if she doesn't intend to marry. When I mention marriage, she avoids the question. Should I give her more time and hope that she changes or should I start dating other girls?—Waiting

The quickest way to help the shy violet make up her mind is to sing a swan song to her one night. Tell her you love her but feel you have not made much of a dent in her heart, so will bow out. If she lets you go, you have saved time and money. If she doesn't, she will have to give you a definite answer as to the future. Either way, we win.

Dear Ann Landers: After the death of her husband, should the widow use her husband's name—as, "Mrs. William Smith" — or her own name — as, "Mrs. Mary Smith": — Wondering

When her husband gave her his name on their wedding day, he gave it to his wife for her lifetime. She can use it as long as she wishes.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am a senior in high school. Our prom is coming up soon. I am afraid that I will not be asked by anyone as I don't go "steady." I have a crush on a certain boy who is fickle and roves from one girl to the next. How can I get him to ask me to be his partner at the prom? — Desperate

I have news for you — good news! A girl who is a member of the graduating class has the same right to ask any boy to escort her to her prom as a boy has. Therefore, ask your fickle boy friend, but quick, to be your partner before another girl does! If he bids "Nay," hop to it and ask another boy. The important thing is to get your bid in early.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of Morning World.)

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. No. Clenching your jaw and vowing you won't be self-conscious makes you worse. You can cure yourself by action—chiefly talking to other people. Nearly all self-consciousness is due to fear of mingling socially with other people.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. A boy, allergic to many foods, dust, and cats, had asthma. Doctors found that he often did not have the asthma attacks when exposed to these irritants, however. They found that the parents, by their harsh treatment of the boy, were the chief cause of his attacks. When the parents were "cured," the boy was cured.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No, apparently not. University of Minnesota psychologists studied 230 broken love affairs of men students, and 314, of women. Over two-thirds began with "attraction," rose regularly to "love," then tapered off to "attraction" again, ending in "indifference." Almost half stated that when it ended they were relieved.

Overcoming Self-Consciousness

Don't let self-consciousness handicap your progress in business and socially. Overcome this unattractive trait with the help of the booklet, OVERCOMING SELF-CONSCIOUSNESS. Contains helpful popularity test and easily understood rules which have been successfully used by good conversationalists. For a copy of the booklet send 15 cents (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state), to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of Morning World.

You'll always be prepared for last-minute dates if you keep a pair of fresh white gloves, some perfume and jewelry in your office desk. These, plus a freshly scrubbed face and fresh make-up, should make you quite presentable.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Because of poor lighting, many women actually do a professional job of AGING their faces with make-up

You Need Proper Light To Apply Your Makeup

In a recent conversation Max Factor Jr. brought up a most interesting idea and followed with some suggestions which will be valuable to you. He said, "A woman can take 10 years off of her appearance if she will throw the correct light on her face when applying her makeup."

This is something that most of us forget. We are apt to turn on any old light and squint along or make up for daytime under artificial light or sit at a dressing table with lovely but completely deluding and inefficient lighting.

Mr. Factor continued, "Most women around middle age become so busy and involved that they are not aware of the fact that the lighting under which they apply makeup is inadequate. Therefore, day after day they do an almost professional job of AGING their faces in an attempt to overcome the shadows they see in the mirror, shadows which do not exist in real life."

Wrong Light Adds Years

The higher - than - your - head light casts deep shadows under your eyes and around your nose and mouth. I discovered this years ago when testing microphones and lights for lectures. When the only lights were those high above my head I looked so awful that I used to rush out and look at myself in the broad daylight. I was always consoled because I looked much younger in daylight than I did under the overhead lights. Now with the proper lighting I can look 15 years younger than I did years ago with incorrect lighting.

While you do not have to stand up and talk to an audience under your bathroom or dressing table lights you are certain to apply your make up in a way unflattering to you when on the street or at the grocery store or when lunching at some restaurant or in some home. You will put too much makeup on in order to compensate for the shadows and are likely to use the wrong colors.

Make It Count

This is one of those seemingly superficial things which can make a magic difference in your appearance. How you apply your makeup and what kind you use IS superficial when compared to the real issues and problems of life, but if you are going to use makeup why not make it do something for you?

If you would like to have my leaflet, "What's Going On?" (makeup tricks) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 to Josephine Lowman in care of Morning World.

PATTERN M244 by Charles Kleibacker

PROMINENT DESIGNER—A new name, a great, new talent in the American couture is young Mr. Charles of Charles Kleibacker. The fabulous grace and beauty of his custom clothes—see M244—have sent his reputation and influence soaring sky-high. Just look at the lines of today's pattern. See how the bodice is molded—the waist dipped to follow the feminine figure like a shadow. You can wear this dress sheath-slim or belt on the great, wide overskirt that transforms the silhouette — makes it look like another dress. "I made my Original in black ribbed silk with the contrast of white organdy," says Mr. Charles. "Silk shantung, cotton, taffeta are also appropriate fabrics," he believes. Whichever fabric you choose, you won't see another summer dance dress as beautiful or alluring as your Original by Mr. Charles.

Pattern M244 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 dress requires 2¼ yards 35-inch fabric; dress yoke and overskirt require 4⅛ yards.

'Phantom Of The Rue Morgue' Is Next Attraction

The shocking thriller, "Phantom of the Rue Morgue," has been brought to the screen by Warner Bros. in 3 Dimension and WarnerColor. Based on the classic mystery "Murders in the Rue Morgue," by Edgar Allan Poe, the suspenseful film drama stars Karl Malden, Claude Dauphin, Patricia Medina and Steve Forrest. It begins a local engagement Thursday at the Paramount Theatre.

Action of the film revolves about the terror loosed upon the city of Paris by a gargantuan phantom whose physical strength coupled with an illusive cunning brings panic to the populace. Among its beauteous victims are Allyn McLerie, assistant to a knife-thrower; Veola Vonn, an artist's model; and a young actress played by Dolores Dorn. Not until the final scenes unreel can the audience determine what matter of man or beast is the phantom, as Police Inspector Dauphin finally traps the monster after a thrilling roof-top chase against the moody background of gas-lit Paris.

Reportedly maintaining the same high degree of photography achieved by the highly successful John Wayne starrer, "Hondo," "Phantom of the Rue Morgue" is said to rate among the top offerings of the 1954 movie season.

Production of the film involved the rection of 40 special sets, ranging in size from a cabaret dressing room to a fully-stocked simulation of the Paris Zoo. Some of the more elaborate sets included a laboratory of the Sorbonne University in Paris; a cafe in the Latin Quarter; a sailor's dive on the waterfront, which featured the antics of a pair of Apache dancers; an artist's studio, complete with a gauze-draped model; and the Rue Morgue, the street made famous by Edgar Allan Poe.

Ronald Reagan's Hate For Communism

By DEWEY MARTIN
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, May 1 — At Congressional committee hearings on un-American activities, Actor Ronald Reagan has been described as Hollywood's "one-man battalion" in the fight against Communism.

On the screen in his latest picture, MGM's dramatic "Prisoner of War," Reagan appears as a captured American soldier who, for reasons better understood by the audience than by his U. S. Army buddies, plays footsie with the Red bosses on a North Korean prison camp.

In the end, Reagan's heart proves to be in the right place. But not until after he and his prison mates, including Steve Forrest and Robert Horton, and myself, are victimized participants in scenes of some of the most cruelly calculated "brain washing" torture ever filmed.

Atrocities depicted in the film all are based on authentic, documented incidents reported to the United Nations command by exchanged and repatriated prisoners of the Korean war. Writer Allen Rivkin based the screen play on personal interviews he obtained, through U. S. Army cooperation, with 60 returning POWs on their arrival in San Francisco.

Captain Robert H. Wise of Fort Lewis, Wash., who was himself a prisoner of the Korean Reds from December, 1950, to September, 1953, was brought to Hollywood by Director Andrew Marten and Producer Henry Berman to serve as technical adviser during shooting of the picture.

"We were only re-enacting Red atrocities," said Reagan when production ended. "But it didn't take much imagination to realize what the real thing must have been like. Everybody connected with the picture felt a great emotional experience. I know I did — and I think audiences who see it will share the experience.

"I'm sure they'll feel some good, healthy hate for the enemy we're fighting, and get a real thrill out of seeing an authentic story of what this crop of American kids did in Korea."

Although his role gave him the chance to get in a few licks against his longtime ideological enemy, Communism, that was a secondary consideration in Reagan's decision to accept the acting assignment. The business - minded star had turned down film offers totaling about $300,000 in the preceding few months. Occupied by his other interests and his horse-breeding ranch in the Malibu mountains, he wasn't anxious to play just any role that came along.

When the script was submitted through his agent, however, Reagan's acceptance was enthusiastic and immediate.

"It wasn't entirely from an altruistic motive — the desire to help fight Communism or anything like that," he explained. "This was the best part that had come my way in a long time. Aside from the way I feel on the subject, the thing that first appealed to me was the story's dramatic quality.

"At that time we heard a lot about the 22 GI prisoners—or 21 by a later count—who turned their backs on America and refused repatriation from the Red Korean prison camps. But what about the other thousands — the great majority who didn't crack, who stood up under everything the Commies threw at them

"There's one type of story the audience has always liked and appreciated, and that's the picture of the cocky American soldier, with his grim determination and equally grim humor, who refuses to be buffaloed by anything or anybody."

As five-term president of the Screen Actors Guild, Reagan's was among the first and most responsible Hollywood voices raised in warning against the dangers of Red aggression abroad and at home. His outspoken opposition to the party-line propagandists and their fellow-traveler followers has been widely and frequently repeated, wherever Reagan has traveled in recent years, in public speeches and press interviews.

"A Cominform bulletin once described Hollywood movies as 'the most potent weapon of decadent capitalism'," he recalled. "When the fighting began in Korea, that bulletin was interpreted by the Reds to mean that motion pictures must be construed as war production. Hollywood, therefore, was considered just as much a target for sabotage or any other Red line of attack as were American war industries.

"In one sense, maybe the Cominform bulletin was right—motion pictures certainly are a powerful weapon for America. Our picture is an example. It's as strong an indictment of Communism as could be possible. It pulls no punches. How the Reds tried to win new converts to their own faithless faith, by 'brain washing' and physical torture in the Korean prison camps — it's all exposed on the screen.

"If there still are people in this country who don't recognize the nature of the enemy, who don't realize we are up against the most brutal force that ever menaced the world, then it's high time they saw a picture like this one."

Girl Scout News

You girls who didn't go on the trip to Wawbansee missed out on a lot of fun. It was a beautiful day for the 48 mile jaunt to Shreveport's beautiful camp in the hills of Bienville Parish. Three busses and four cars full of happy girls and adults, 169 people in all, spent about four hours at the camp, exploring and wading and making new friends. They found a Shreveport troop out there planning to spend the night, so there was plenty going on at Wawbansee that day.

The girls were enchanted with little brown cabins that clustered in groups on the slopes near the lake. They visioned those cooling swims in the pool and planned to learn to paddle a canoe and to tow a boat if they can qualify as an excellent swimmer.

All in all, the day was a great success. Singing on the bus, eating with a group of friends, and then, still with a group of new and old friends, including at least one adult, exploring the paths throughout the camp grounds, and perhaps wading in the little stream near the lake, were all great fun. Come to think about it, the children who've lived east of the Ouachita all their lives have probably never had much chance to wade in water running over rocks. The water was only a few inches deep, but clear and cool and perhaps offered the first chance for spring wading.

Registrations for Wawbansee are coming to the office steadily. There's room now, but when registration is opened to non-Scouts and out of town girls, camp will soon be full. The dates are August 15-29. The time to plan is now. A phone call to the office will send a camp folder on its way to you. Call tomorrow. You'd like to know details of the camp whether you plan to attend established camp or not.

The Girl Planning Board meets next Saturday and next Saturday's also the Brownie day at Pine Wood when 60 Brownies have a wonderful day planned for them as a reward for excelling in the cookie sale.

Roosevelt Wins Right To File Divorce Action

PASADENA, Calif., April 30—UP—James Roosevelt Friday won his bid to change his separate maintenance suit to a divorce action but lost his move to eliminate from the case his letter admitted admitting infidelities with nine women.

Superior Judge Kurtz Kauffman also overruled Roosevelt's motion to throw out of his bitter marital fight with his estranged wife, Romelle, another letter in which he offered her half of his property holdings and future earnings.

Roosevelt, who filed suit for separate maintenance Jan. 18 a few days before a similar action by his wife, last week sought to change his complaint to a divorce action on cruelty charged.

Before Kauffman granted the motion, attorney Arthur Schifferman, representing Mrs. Roosevelt, charged Roosevelt's motion was not "filed in good faith and that's why we are opposing it."

Mrs. Roosevelt charged earlier this week that her husband had used a "carefully conceived plan" to divorce her in such a way that it would not damage his political career. He is seeking the Democratic nomination in the 26th Congressional District.

She has accused him of adultery with three women in her own separate maintenance suit. Roosevelt's wartime letter to her admitting intimacies with nine women also was attached to the suit. The eldest son of the late President sought to have that letter thrown out of the case because he claimed it would have a harmful effect on their three children.

Samuel B. Picone, Roosevelt's attorney, said "The judge means the court will decide the issues of the letters at the time of trial."

Motorist Killed At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La., April 30 (AP)—One motorist was killed and two injured today in an auto traffic collision on Scenic Highway here near Ryan Airport.

They said Henry and Wilbert Jackson, also of Baton Rouge, received multiple lacerations and were taken to a hospital.

Louisiana May Receive $50,000,000 In Buildings

WASHINGTON, May 1 — Democrats guffawed as Republican congressmen woke up with a start this week to the realization they had pushed through both houses of congress a bill which could result in a rash of federal buildings in Democratic congressional districts.

Presidential approval of the plan potentially could bring a building bonanza costing as much as an estimated $50,000,000 to Louisiana.

Republicans generally hailed as an administration victory the passage of the so - called lease - purchase bill, which would allow the government to build badly needed federal buildings on the installment plan.

A senate - house conference committee is now seeking to iron out differences in the bill, which would unfreeze about $3,000,000,000 in federal construction authorized in pre-Korea days. Differences grow out of senate insistence, especially timely during the current investigation of federal housing authority scandals, on safeguards to prevent the plan from turning into a raid on the federal treasury.

Many of the stoutest Republican defenders of the pay - as - you-go plan are now at the boiling point because of their discovery that the bulk of the eligible projects under the federal construction program were authorized during Democratic congresses for Democratic districts.

At the request of his full committee, the senate added to the bill passed by the house an amendment which would require the post office department and the general services administration to clear all contracts under the lease - purchase arrangement with the senate and house public works committees.

"I don't hink the conference report could get through the senate without this protective feature," Martin said. "We're a little afraid of putting so much power into the hands of an executive agency."

If the senate amendment is adopted, Martin would have in effect a veto power over all contracts. Of course, a Democratic majority in the senate following the coming elections would result in a Democratic chairman for the committee.

Federal construction is now paid for "cash on the barrelhead" by Uncle Sam. The new plan would permit the post office department and the GSA to enter into a contract with a private builder to construct any building according to government specifications.

When the construction was completed, the government would move in on a lease running from 10 to 25 years. At the end of that period, the building would belong to th^ government.

Prior to the time Uncle Sam makes the last payment and gains full title to the property, however, it would be carried on state and local tax rolls and be subject to any taxes levied by the state and local governments.

Greek Orthodox Church Formed

On Thursday night the Greek Community of Monroe held a meeting in which it organized the first Hellenic Orthodox Church, Saint Constantine and Helen, in this city. The Rev. Vasilios Markopoulos, pastor of the newly formed church, acted as chairman during the meeting.

Elected to serve on the board of directors were: Gus Primos, Angelos Kanelos, Gus Kokinoz, Bobby Pappas, George Thanos, Gus Terzolas and James Gatzoulos.

A general meeting was held in which plans for the erection of a new church were discussed and the board of directors will study various sites for the church to be proposed at a later date.

Within the state of Louisiana there are only two Hellenic Orthodox Churches, one in New Orleans and one in Shreveport. At present, the board of directors is waiting to be recognized in a few days from the Greek Archdiocese of New York as the official Hellenic Orthodox Church in Monroe.

Postmen Will Blow Whistles On Palsy Walk

Far-gone days when postmen used to signal their approach with whistles will be revived here soon when Monroe and West Monroe postmen re-walk their routes for the benefit of cerebral palsy victims. This announcement was made Saturday by a drive official, who made the following statement:

"Few remain among us who remember the time when postmen were equipped with whistles. On Friday night, you will hear the postmen's whistle as they walk their routes for the second time that day. At that time they will be acceping donations for the victims of cerebral palsy. The postmen will call at your door only if your porch light is on, or if you make some indication that you are offering your donation. The sound of the whistle will let you know that your postman is again in your area.

Your donations will go toward a fund to continue and expand the educational facilities needed by the Northeast Louisiana Cerebral Palsied. The school, located on Selman Field, was begun with the proceeds from last year's postmen's walk. The goal this year is to improve that facility by adding badly needed equipment and hiring additional personel so that all of the cerebral palsy children in this area can be helped.

Do not serve meat loaf cold if you have kept it more than 24 hours.

May Day Plans Are Set For Monday

All eyes are turning toward the May Day festivities which will take place on May 3. The day will start with a bang as all city schools are preparing lovely floats for the parade which is always a gala affair — one in which citizens of Monroe look forward.

Other May Day activities will take place on the various campuses. The parade will leave the J. S. Clark School campus at 11:00 a. m. Monday.

Girl Scout News

You girls who didn't go on the trip to Wawbansee missed out on a lot of fun. It was a beautiful day for the 48 mile jaunt to Shreveport's beautiful camp in the hills of Bienville Parish. Three busses and four cars full of happy girls and adults, 169 people in all, spent about four hours at the camp, exploring and wading and making new friends. They found a Shreveport troop out there planning to spend the night, so there was plenty going on at Wawbansee that day.

The girls were enchanted with little brown cabins that clustered in groups on the slopes near the lake. They visioned those cooling swims in the pool and planned to learn to paddle a canoe and to tow a boat if they can qualify as an excellent swimmer.

All in all, the day was a great success. Singing on the bus, eating with a group of friends, and then, still with a group of new and old friends, including at least one adult, exploring the paths throughout the camp grounds, and perhaps wading in the little stream near the lake, were all great fun. Come to think about it, the children who've lived east of the Ouachita all their lives have probably never had much chance to wade in water running over rocks. The water was only a few inches deep, but clear and cool and perhaps offered the first chance for spring wading.

Registrations for Wawbansee are coming to the office steadily. There's room now, but when registration is opened to non-Scouts and out of town girls, camp will soon be full. The dates are August 15-29. The time to plan is now. A phone call to the office will send a camp folder on its way to you. Call tomorrow. You'd like to know details of the camp whether you plan to attend established camp or not.

We know a lot of secrets that we can't tell until next Sunday, Mother's Day secrets, of course.

The Girl Planning Board meets next Saturday and next Saturday's also the Brownie day at Pine Wood when 60 Brownies have a wonderful day planned for them as a reward for excelling in the cookie sale.

Roosevelt Wins Right To File Divorce Action

PASADENA, Calif., April 30—UP—James Roosevelt Friday won his bid to change his separate maintenance suit to a divorce action but lost his move to eliminate from the case his letter admitted admitting infidelities with nine women.

Superior Judge Kurtz Kauffman also overruled Roosevelt's motion to throw out of his bitter marital fight with his estranged wife, Romelle, another letter in which he offered her half of his property holdings and future earnings.

Roosevelt, who filed suit for separate maintenance Jan. 18 a few days before a similar action by his wife, last week sought to change his complaint to a divorce action on cruelty charged.

Before Kauffman granted the motion, attorney Arthur Schifferman, representing Mrs. Roosevelt, charged Roosevelt's motion was not "filed in good faith and that's why we are opposing it."

Mrs. Roosevelt charged earlier this week that her husband had used a "carefully conceived plan" to divorce her in such a way that it would not damage his political career. He is seeking the Democratic nomination in the 26th Congressional District.

She has accused him of adultery with three women in her own separate maintenance suit. Roosevelt's wartime letter to her admitting intimacies with nine women also was attached to the suit. The eldest son of the late President sought to have that letter thrown out of the case because he claimed it would have a harmful effect on their three children.

Samuel B. Picone, Roosevelt's attorney, said "The judge means the court will decide the issues of the letters at the time of trial."

Motorist Killed At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La., April 30 (AP)—One motorist was killed and two injured today in an auto traffic collision on Scenic Highway here near Ryan Airport.

They said Henry and Wilbert Jackson, also of Baton Rouge, received multiple lacerations and were taken to a hospital.

Louisiana May Receive $50,000,000 In Buildings

WASHINGTON, May 1 — Democrats guffawed as Republican congressmen woke up with a start this week to the realization they had pushed through both houses of congress a bill which could result in a rash of federal buildings in Democratic congressional districts.

Presidential approval of the plan potentially could bring a building bonanza costing as much as an estimated $50,000,000 to Louisiana.

Included would be additional land, and extension and remodeling of the Monroe post office and courthouse at a cost of $1,130,000.

Republicans generally hailed as an administration victory the passage of the so - called lease - purchase bill, which would allow the government to build badly needed federal buildings on the installment plan.

A senate - house conference committee is now seeking to iron out differences in the bill, which would unfreeze about $3,000,000,000 in federal construction authorized in pre-Korea days. Differences grow out of senate insistence, especially timely during the current investigation of federal housing authority scandals, on safeguards to prevent the plan from turning into a raid on the federal treasury.

Many of the stoutest Republican defenders of the pay - as - you-go plan are now at the boiling point because of their discovery that the bulk of the eligible projects under the federal construction program were authorized during Democratic congresses for Democratic districts.

At the request of his full committee, the senate added to the bill passed by the house an amendment which would require the post office department and the general services administration to clear all contracts under the lease - purchase arrangement with the senate and house public works committees.

Martin, who heads the house conferees on the bill, said the senate will almost surely hold out for its amendment.

"I don't hink the conference report could get through the senate without this protective feature," Martin said. "We're a little afraid of putting so much power into the hands of an executive agency."

If the senate amendment is adopted, Martin would have in effect a veto power over all contracts. Of course, a Democratic majority in the senate following the coming elections would result in a Democratic chairman for the committee.

Federal construction is now paid for "cash on the barrelhead" by Uncle Sam. The new plan would permit the post office department and the GSA to enter into a contract with a private builder to construct any building according to government specifications.

When the construction was completed, the government would move in on a lease running from 10 to 25 years. At the end of that period, the building would belong to the government.

Prior to the time Uncle Sam makes the last payment and gains full title to the property, however, it would be carried on state and local tax rolls and be subject to any taxes levied by the state and local governments.

Greek Orthodox Church Formed

On Thursday night the Greek Community of Monroe held a meeting in which it organized the first Hellenic Orthodox Church, Saint Constantine and Helen, in this city. The Rev. Vasilios Markopoulos, pastor of the newly formed church, acted as chairman during the meeting.

Elected to serve on the board of directors were: Gus Primos, Angelos Kanelos, Gus Kokinoz, Bobby Pappas, George Thanos, Gus Terzolas and James Gatzoulos.

A general meeting was held in which plans for the erection of a new church were discussed and the board of directors will study various sites for the church to be proposed at a later date.

Within the state of Louisiana there are only two Hellenic Orthodox Churches, one in New Orleans and one in Shreveport. At present, the board of directors is waiting to be recognized in a few days from the Greek Archdiocese of New York as the official Hellenic Orthodox Church in Monroe.

Postmen Will Blow Whistles On Palsy Walk

Far-gone days when postmen used to signal their approach with whistles will be revived here soon when Monroe and West Monroe postmen re-walk their routes for the benefit of cerebral palsy victims. This announcement was made Saturday by a drive official, who made the following statement:

"Few remain among us who remember the time when postmen were equipped with whistles. On Friday night, you will hear the postmen's whistle as they walk their routes for the second time that day. At that time they will be acceping donations for the victims of cerebral palsy. The postmen will call at your door only if your porch light is on, or if you make some indication that you are offering your donation. The sound of the whistle will let you know that your postman is again in your area.

Your donations will go toward a fund to continue and expand the educational facilities needed by the Northeast Louisiana Cerebral Palsied. The school, located on Selman Field, was begun with the proceeds from last year's postmen's walk. The goal this year is to improve that facility by adding badly needed equipment and hiring additional personel so that all of the cerebral palsy children in this area can be helped.

Tales from the Great Book
JOSHUA
Marches on Jericho
by John Lehti
JOSHUA, APPOINTED BY MOSES AS LEADER OF ALL THE ISRAELITES, HAS GONE ALONE TO SCOUT OUT THE CITY OF JERICHO SO THAT HE CAN PLAN THE ATTACK AND CAPTURE OF IT. BUT AS HE LIES HIDDEN BEHIND THE ROCKS...SUDDENLY, A STRANGER STANDS OVER HIM WITH A DRAWN SWORD....
...NOT KNOWING IF THIS IS FRIEND OR FOE, JOSHUA'S SWORD IS OUT IN A FLASH!
"ARE YOU FOR US OR FOR OUR ENEMIES?"
"NAY, IT IS AS CAPTAIN OF THE ARMY OF THE LORD THAT I COME!"
"WHAT DOES MY LORD COMMAND OF HIS SERVANT?"
....AND JOSHUA REVERENTLY OBEYS....
SO THIS MESSENGER OF THE LORD UNFOLDS GOD'S DECREE.... HOW JERICHO MUST BE TAKEN.... TO PROVE TO ALL CANAAN THAT THE ISRAELITES WILL WIN BY DIVINE HELP ALONE--NOT NEEDING THE SWORD!
"ALL OF YOUR MEN OF WAR SHALL MARCH ROUND THE CITY ONCE EACH DAY FOR SIX DAYS--LED BY SEVEN PRIESTS WITH RAM'S HORNS AND THE ARK OF THE LORD...."
"....ON THE SEVENTH DAY, CIRCLE THE CITY SEVEN TIMES--THE SEVENTH TIME GIVE LOUD BLASTS ON THE HORNS AND GREAT SHOUTS BY ALL THE PEOPLE...."
"THUS WILL THE WALLS FALL FLAT! JERICHO WILL BE YOURS!"
